A presentation on Myron and Isabel Zucker was given by Judy Davids, community engagement specialist. The Zuckers were dedicated nature enthusiasts. Myron founded the City of Trees Committee in 1937, which was the driving force behind the planting of thousands of trees in the '30s, '40s, and 50s. Isabel was a published nature author. Both served on the City Parks Commission in Royal Oak that established the principle that no child should have to walk more than one-half mile or cross a major road to a playground. Royal Oak's 51 parks and majestic tree canopy owe their existence to visionary efforts of the Zuckers
