This is where our dreams began, and grew and gathered with the years . . .

As we worked and played and lived our lives and dealt with hopes and fears . . .

. . . These memories linger though they may fade as time goes by, deep in our heart they will never die. Now we must leave joys we've known, and travel every pathway on our own . . .

... The world beyond beckons us to come and seek our destiny ...

Come, come it calls to you and me. Following a star may each to his ownself be true, and may all his dreams be fulfilled before his life is through . . .

. . . When we say goodbye and go our separate ways, may happiness be with you . . .

... Now the time has come that we must part and we may never meet again.

For freshman as well as sophomores gym has always been one of the all-time favorites as far as classes go here at Kimball. Students look forward to a fun-filled hour of basketball, football, volleyball, swimming, tennis, and other exciting activities. You can bet there is never a dull moment. If you have trouble finding things to do, the teachers are always ready to help you. (1) Freshmen Tom Robertson and Jeff Zeigle enjoy a stiff game of floor hockey, as does Coach Temarian. (2) Swimming is always enjoyed by the gym classes, Steve Hansen, Sue Beaver, and Colleen Short prove how much they like it with their happy smiles. (3) Basketball has its hang ups or at least that is what Paul Pace is thinking as he hooks Mark Whiteside's arm, while going for the ball. (4) Patty Sullivan puts everything she has into her great return. (5) While dreaming of the day when he will start on the varsity football team, Joe Gianino carries the ball across the goal line for yet another touchdown for his team.

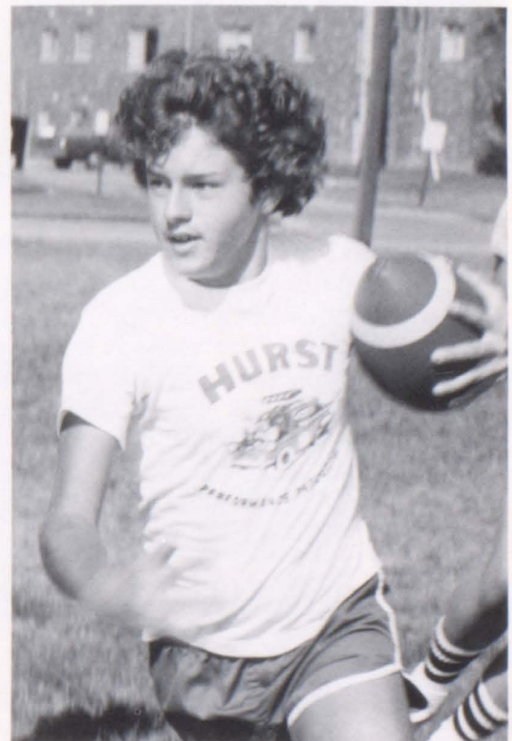

Physical Education builds beautiful minds and bodies.

Gym class gives students a chance to participate in a wide variety of athletic activities. Students discover new talents and abilities while learning good sportsmanship. They also share many good times with teachers and fellow classmates. (1) Soccer is really catching on and gym students really enjoy it. It's a real kick in the grass! (2) Mr. Weber tells his health class one of his hilarious stories. (3) Carol Ogden, Jill Perkins, Diana Pender and Karen Jahson share a good joke before class begins. (4) It takes great athletic abilities to execute a perfect spike like this one!

English begins with communication between friends.

There are many interesting and different English classes, such as basic English, Journalism, American Studies, and Advanced Composition, offered to Kimball students. With classes like these, students gain a variety of English skills from newspaper writing to sentence structure. (1) Utilizing one of the various tools of the library, a copy machine, Sophomore Stewart Kelly places his material on top. (2) Mike Collings carefully studies a story before reading to his classmates. (3) In American Studies, students annually participate in a skit. Shown here Nina Jakobowski, Mike Laurella, and Matt Hilzinger portray a scene from the past. (4) Senior Mike Mallos is always getting attention; here he gets some from his Adv. Composition teacher, Mrs. Claudia Warren, who always has time for her students.

English has many fields: Composition, Speech and writing.

English classes are made up of many different things, such as grammar, composition, creative writing, and William Shakespeare. There are all different kinds of classes that you can take. (1) In your junior year American Literature is a required subject. In this class students get a chance to gain knowledge about his or her country's past literary geniuses. Gloria Dondero, Vanessa Vancise, and Julie Baldwin go over a few notes before class starts. (2) It is required here at Kimball that each student go through the horror of a semester of Public Speaking. Richard Wessel speaks to his class about the excitement of water skiing, using a life jacket as a visual aid. (3) Donny Gorman, while standing at the podium, gives his class a good laugh. (4) Doug Lewan and Tom Kauffman ask Miss Smith if she approves of their bulletin board concerning William Shakespeare. (5) Tina Parke spends a quiet moment reading in her English 1 class. She lets her feelings be known even though she does not utter a word.

Science: exploring, mastering the mysteries of our universe.

Science is one of the keys to knowledge, and acquiring a basic understanding enables a student to better relate to his environment. (1) Biology is interesting, especially if you want to learn about plants. Ian Karakas studies the leaves of a tropical plant with Steve Lentner and Alan Olsen. (2) One of the fun things you get to do in biology is use a microscope. Emily Dwyer checks some microscopic organisms. (3) Doug Walker carefully examines the delicate structure of a spider plant. (4) David Allen pays very close attention to one of Mr. Herrington's detailed lectures.

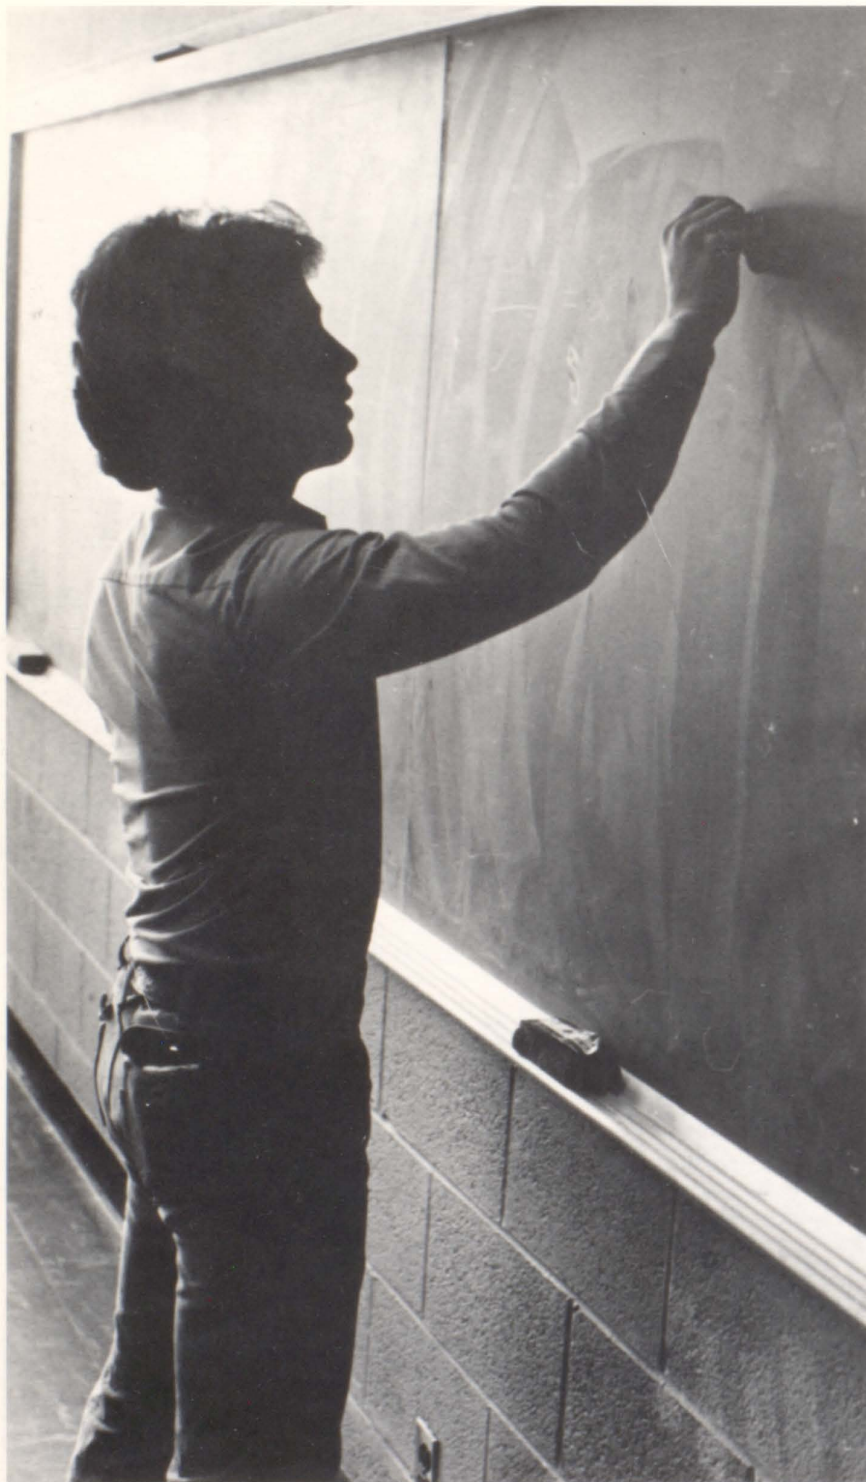

Sciences: explaining the mysteries of the cosmos.

Science is now a required course. We have an excellent science program here at Kimball. This is proven by the high scores many students receive on the nation-wide tests. Through experimentation students prove to themselves the laws of the universe. (1) Physics is a class which many seniors try to squeeze into their schedule. Mr. Schmidt is the only teacher of this class and has been making Kimball students experts in the field of physics for many years. What attracts many students to the physics course is the interesting work involved. Phil Kyburzs and Jenny Blumbergs utilize Hookes Law of Elasticity in a collision car experiment. (2) Dana Russ and Debbie Martin amuse themselves in chemistry class by trying to find the melting point of mothball crystals. (3) Using modern technology, Mr. Herrington sheds a little light on an old subject, biology. (4) Tom Rapson uses all the concentration he can muster to complete his chemistry experiment to determine the mass of chemical reactants.

The power of numbers never ends in the math department.

Mathematics is the study of numbers at work in the world. Through the teachings of the math department we learn all the proofs and functions necessary for use in higher forms of mathematics. (1) Explaining the fundamentals of algebra helps Alex Werdene learn deductive reasoning. (2) Kyle Williams learns that missing the day of the test is not so great. We all must take the inevitable make-up. (3) There are times in computer science when we must listen and learn instead of working in the lab. (L-R) Dave Hoeft, Charlie Race, and Roger Dean listen intently as Mr. Dalley speaks. (4) Eric Schilling and Brian Tanney discuss their amazement of the working computer. Is there really a little man inside?

Math is one of the basic necessities in life which all of us must be exposed to. When a person masters his algebra and geometry he has knowledge which will benefit him for his whole life. The students here at Kimball can be proud of the fact that we have one of the best math departments in the entire state. Math makes life easier to understand and helps us when climbing the long ladder of success. (1) Daydreaming in the middle of a long lecture is something we are all guilty of doing. The sound of the teachers voice seems to lull us into a fantasy land. Maura McNitt finds her mind drifting off into space, but she is still haunted by numbers and equations. (2) Mr. Pedrick is the head of our math department. He is an excellent teacher and is respected by many students. Every student who has had the pleasure of having him as a teacher knows the joy of playing Pedrick's Roulette. This little game, created by Mr. Pedrick, induces students to complete their homework. It's not a bad game unless you're caught without completed work.

Mathematics department has its calculated risks.

Social Studies: The study of man at home in the world.

Social Studies is the study of man and his function in society. Kimball students are required to have at least three history credits to graduate. Many students take more than is needed. These students show a lot of enthusiasm and interest in their classes. They work very hard to learn how to deal with others, about man's relationship with other people and about man's environment. (1) Gary Peters laughs at a fellow classmate's joke while discussing a group project in his history class. (2) Senior Holly Broesamle, looking like a very studious person, carefully scans over her reading material before taking a quiz. (3) In Economics Class Lynn Salo and Maureen Burns concentrate on taking their notes while Mr. Perry lectures. (4) Mr. Gould's Survey of our Social World involves taking a lot of notes. (L-R) Patty Parker, Kim Newman, and Mary Grabowski show the many papers they have accumulated since the first couple weeks of school.

Social Studies is an excellent field concerned with the study of social relationships and the functioning of society. (1) Kara Hoking, pen in hand, daydreams about the days end. (2) Orbiting on another frequency are the students of Mr. Ashley's psychology class. (From 1-r standing) Tammy Root, Lisa Kyker, Vanessa VanCise, Paul Ratzloff; (sitting) Teresa Adams, Ginger Wolgast, Russell Keys, and Glenn Loisel listen intently as Mr. Ashley reads the highly chauvanistic card from the game Woman and Man. (3) Sue Shimokochi holds back a laugh as Annette Gagnon shows her a test in Mr. Borowski's world history class. (4) Regina Oberer belts out a complaint in protest of her teachers overactive red pen.

Spirited cheerleaders head our teams to victories.

Cheerleaders aide crowds in leading teams to victory.

The cheerleaders play an important role in arousing the spectators spirit during the games. This is not an easy job, it takes long hard hours of rehearsing their cheers and mounts to get them to perfection. (1) Posing for the audience in a pyramid type mount, the Varsity Cheerleaders welcome the Knights fans to the game. (2) The enthusiastic grins of Seniors (l to r) Shelli Bergeron, Kris Mallas, Tammy Lukitch, and Laura O'Neill. (3) Sharon Alexander sets an example for Rose Fleischer and Betsy Branch to follow. Sharon has been an excellent encouragement for the team. (4) Senior Shelli Bergeron shows the leadership qualities that make a fantastic captain. She always has a friendly supporting smile.

Kimball began its season by defeating Lamphere, 14-0. Although the Knights weren't able to capture the S.M.A. title, the team still proved itself by overcoming Dondero, 27-6 in the most emotional game of the season. The Knights came through when needed most. (1) It's a U.F.O. (uniformed flying object)!, No, actually it's Wayne Moir. Unfortunately the landing won't be as easy as the takeoff. Wayne has been a great asset to the team by being aggressive on both offense and defense during the season. (2) About to receive the handoff to gain needed yards is Junior John VanBrabant. His performance shows promise for next year. (3) With determination written on his face, Senior Ron Rapson clutches the ball with all his strength to keep his opponents from stealing it. (4) With Wayne Moir holding, Daryl Adams attempts the extra point which could make a crucial difference in the outcome of the game. (5) Fast footwork on the part of Senior Ron Rapson enbales him to gain yardage on our crosstown rival Dondero.

Varsity football looks good, rebuilds for next year.

This year's football team had a trying season, but a terrific finish beating arch-rival Dondero 27-6. (1) Sophomore quarterback, Burge Young, outguesses his opponent. (2) Greg James gets some interference from a Romeo player. (3) The 1980 Varsity Football Team (l to r) Front Row: M. Mallos, K. Bellamy, W. Moir, T. Midea, C. McKay, E. Rosinski, M. Nassar, K. Youngblood, J. Clement, E. Calo. Second Row: D. Adams, G. Alexander, M. Kenealy, A. Beesly, G. McNab, K. Bean, B. Jacobs, B. Tangney, J. Mueller, M. Martyniuk. Third Row: S. Fillipis, J. Bashakes, T. Enders, D. Drawbaugh, R. Phillips, J. Budzinski, G. Field, D. Elliot, T. Bertapelle, S. Tartuta. Fourth Row: M. Verville, M. Garrett, R. Rapson, J. Makinen, B. Young, G. James, R. Tewilliager, J. Lewis, S. Vick, mgr. A. Carlson. Fifth Row: T. Hall, K. Pugh, M. Seidel, L. Herweyer, J. Swanson, E. Ray, M. Drury, R. Wessel, J. VanBrabant, Ass't Coach Hanoian, Coach Temerian, Coach Spurgeon, Mr. Jones, mgr. K. Schlau, K. McHugh, B. Anderson, P. Fellis, B. Flanigan, mgr. (4) Where are tear-away jerseys when you need them? (5) Senior Daryl Adams carries the ball behind the protection of his strong line.

When golf is mentioned most people think of it as a leisure sport, something to do to relax, but actually it takes a lot of concentration, practice, and determination. The Kimball team is a good example of all this; they put in long hard hours of practice and it shows in their record for this year. Ending a fine season with an overall standing of 7 and 3, the Varsity Golf team finished third in the S.M.A. (1) Brian Brownie retrieves his ball after sinking the perfect putt. He has been a great asset to the team. (2) Anxiously awaiting the outcome of his putt is Bill Walker, who showed good leadership and dedication throughout the season. (3) Senior Rob McDaniel attempts to blast his ball out of the sand trap, a very difficult shot but it appears that Rob will successfully accomplish it. (4) With many long hours of practice behind him, Craig Coccia shows a look of confidence as he displays his good form. (5) The 1980 Varsity Golf Team Front Row: (l to r) Mike Haremski, Ron Hamson, Matt Smith, Bill Walker, Charlie Race, Bob Todd. Second Row: Roger Dean, Rob McDaniel, Craig Coccia, Brian Brownie, Jim Cook, Bill Gall, Coach C.A. Smith.

This years Varsity basketball team has shown great effort, throughout the season. This effort, along with excellent coaching from Coach Charles Jones, has brought about good results this season. (1) Senior Eric Marschner skillfully maneuvers the ball to dodge his opponent. Eric joined the Varsity squad in his sophomore year and has continuously done an outstanding job in aiding his teammates. (2) Following the tip off, Senior Marty Olkowski makes a flying leap towards the basket to score two quick points for the team. (3) Dave Kopf tries to make the rebound in his final attempt at scoring on this play.

Marty Okowski (1) and Mike Kenealy dominate the group for control of the ball. (2) Gary Bollan looks for an open man. (3) Tom Osborne keeps possession of the ball. (4) Varsity Basketball Team (l to r) Front Row: Mgr. K. Schlau, B. Young, B. Sutherland, M. Kenealy, J. Francis, T. Austin, B. Brownie, J. Budzinski, Mgr. P. Kane, Row 2: Coach Jones, T. Osborne, P. Greening, D. Kopf, J. Postlethwait, T. Nolan, M. Olkowski, G. Bollan, J. VanBrabant, E. Marschner, Asst. Coach Clouser, (5) Carefully aiming, Bob Sutherland executes his shot.

Long hours of strenuous practice paid off for this year's Girl's Basketball Team. (1) Seniors Sue Rezendes and Junior Caroline Cole battle beneath the boards at a fast paced game. (2) Keeping the ball from Seaholm's grip, Seniors Sandy Zuehlke and Sue Rezendes show the great effort the girls put into playing. (3) The 1980 Girls Basketball Team: Front row, (l to r): Colleen Bauer, Coach Turkington, Sandy Zuehlke. Second Row: Carolyn Howell, Shelli Zuehlke, Luanne Gray, Caroline Cole, Sue Rezendes, Maureen Murphy, Kelly McDonald, Leslie Stange, Karen Laura, Sue Bidinger. (4) Senior Leslie Stange blocks two Seaholm points.

Volleyball is a tough competitive sport. (1) Mary Pike rises to the occasion by spiking that ball. (2) In perfect form Maureen Murphy gets ready to perform a "dig." (3) The 1980 Girls Volleyball Team: Front Row: (L-R) Kathy Hull, Carolyn Howell, Leslie Stange, Jackie Turner, Sallie Beam, Maureen Seery, Leslie Innes. Second Row: Coach Dick Nash, Emily Dwyer, Angela Michalec, Shelly Zuelke, Sandy Taylor, Asst. Coach Gail Lind. (4) Going for the ball is Kathy Hull with Jackie Turner there to back her up. (5) Team members (L-R) Mary Mazur, Leslie Innes, Shelly Zuelke, and Mo Seery watch attentively as the score rapidly changes.

The students of KHS reverse their roles: the boys are transformed into beautiful cheerleaders and the girls become tough macho jocks. In this year's Powder Puff game, the "Junior Blitz" succeeded in defeating the "Senior Express" by a score of 14-6 in an exciting contest. (1) Carolyn Howell, the Juniors powerhouse, rushes down field on a typical "Junior Blitz". (2) Senior cheerleaders demonstrate their terrific acrobatic ability by performing a difficult mount. (3) Margie Siedal attempts to break through the Junior defense on a quarterback keeper. (4) Carolyn Cole succeeds in stopping Sandy Zeulke from gaining yardage in a crucial play. (5) Senior cheerleaders attack rival junior cheerleader Bill Kramer. (6) Denise Rioux, Tammy Root, and Lynn Salo admire John Roman's gorgeous body.

October 10th is a day that will live in infamy . . .

The 78-79 Spring Play, "Good News," portrayed college life at its best. The entire cast displayed the spirit of campus activities in the roaring 20's. (1) Bobby Randall (Ron Stefanik) and Babe O'Day (Laurie Rempes) demonstrate the college life at Tate! (2) Tom Marlow (Ed Nahhat) and Bobby Randall share thoughts about girls of their dreams. (3) Pooch Kearney (Tom Kammer) and Prof. Kenyon (Rich Grudt) reminisce old times and school spirit at Tate. (4) Cheerleaders (left to right) Barb Smith, Marta Datwyler, Lynn Salo, Polly Schaaf and Cindy Hay show enthusiasm towards Tate's future victory. (5) The cast of "Good News" belts out the rousing tune, "On the Campus."

This year's fall play, Boys and Ghouls Together, was a smashing success. The cast put on a spectacular show. (1) Dracula (Jeff Toenniges) plans out his devilish scheme to marry off his ghoulish daughter. (2) After fainting from the sight of Model S, Mary Bean (Ellen Klausmeyer) is revived by her fellow hostlers. (3) Letha (Amy Ronayne) discovers one of Dirga's childish toys. (4) A helpless Barbara Aames (Karen Rossli) is captured and hidden away for the night. (5) Dirga (Shelly Wynn) learns the important facts of the tsetse flies and the vultures (birds and bees) from her mother. (6) Evelyn Robinson (Diane Hoffmann) tries desperately to convince everyone to leave the castle. (7) Finally coming to the hostlers' rescue, Granny (Rhonda Phillips) explains her potion's effect.

E lvis, poodle skirts and greasers come to life one day a year at Kimball, traditionally on "Fifties Day." 50's Day includes a pie eating contest, dance contest, a best dressed contest, an assembly with a tricycle race and a sock hop with "ancient" dancing. Students and faculty both enjoy this nostalgic trip back to 1950's. A club carnival is usually included in the swing of things, this years carnival included a dunking machine, a place where students could get back at their counterparts, the Faculty! (1) Mary King attempts to make it through the tricycle race while she devours a famous "Dunkin Donut." (2) Barb Smith and Patty Russell practice a few dance moves for the 50's day dance and assembly during their lunch hour. (3) Jenny Blumbergs displays her enthusiasm by dressing appropriately to add to the effect. (4) Lisa Wade and Marty Drury get into the "sock hop" style of dancing.

Student body rocks and hops back to the fabulous 50's.

Homecoming is a time of year which both students and faculty at Kimball high look forward to with great anticipation. Activities include a parade, a dance, and a spectacular football game. (1) Senior fullback Ed Rosinski creates a hole for Junior Mike Kenealy. (2) Dance club members: Sue Kosnik, Michelle Pratt, Kerry Kochevar, and Chris Schmidt smile at the spectators during the parade. (3) The excitement of the moment shows on the faces of Rick Mclarty and Kris Mallas shortly after they were crowned 1979 Homecoming King and Queen. (4) Kimball's Marching Band, while keeping the enthusiasm of the fans during halftime, demonstrates its fine marching form. (5) Playing football is no easy task as the face of co-captain, Ed Rosinski illustrates during a rest on the side lines. Dedication and the enthusiasm helped to make this year's Homecoming successful.

Debate is an activity that requires much dedication. Few sports or clubs require as much effort as the endless accumulation of facts and data necessary for debate. Seasons consist of grueling meets and strenuous study. Many debaters even participate in summer sessions. KHS is very proud of its debate team. (1) Greg DeFauw and Todd Cochran discuss the strategy necessary to defeat their wily opponents. (2) Eric Johnson does research so that he may debate impressively on this year's topic, "Changing U.S. Foreign Policy." (3) Studious senior debaters Tom Kaylor, Ray Blessman, and Chris Pounds prepare their briefs for their next debate. (4) The 1980 Debate team FRONT ROW: Dennis Cunningham, Allison Rogell, Greg DeFauw, Theresa Williams, Dave Baldrige, Bill Hindman, Tom Archinal. Long hours of writing, editing, and pasting up are all a part of putting together a newspaper that is both informative and entertaining. This year's staff has worked hard to inform the students of Kimball about all of the year's activities. (1) (l - r) Tim Limer, Steve Orlando, and Steve Taratuta provide the Herald with the photos necessary to obtain a complimentary balance between pictures and print. (2) Chris Sutter enhances the paper by writing stories dealing with people, places and activities that involve Kimball students. (3) the 1980 Herald Staff: Front row: (1 - r) FRONT ROW: (l - r) Jenny Schleef, William Winters, Andy MacDonald, Steve Hansen. Back row (l - r) Andrea Rosser, Sandy Hurd, Sue Fritzlan Steve Cunningham, Paul Buhr, Tom McLaren, Jim Dolan. (4) The Writing style of Tom McLaren is an asset to the paper. His topics range from lunch lines to student attitudes. (5) The capable business abilities of Bill Winters are put to good use as Ad Manager. (6) Andy MacDonald, Herald Editor, is the motivating force behind production. Andy spends many hours organizing lay-outs, articles and sales.

The tiny crash of a file cabinet drawer slamming shut echoes through the air followed by the hollow click of a light switch turning off. It's 5 p.m. and the Lancer staff has quit until tomorrow. The frustration, rivalry, teamwork, goofing-off, and continual mad rush to get something accomplished, leave the staff drained by the time the last deadline is met. This yearbook's master plan was derived by the editor, (1) Rhonda Phillips. Whenever morale was low and dissipation high, her enthusiasm and determination were often the only threads left holding the staff together. (2) Tin Maurer, photographer, has a passion for his camera, which results in his desire to photograph everything in sight! (3) The sports section developed under the experienced care of Cindy Love, our Sports Editor. (4) Every staff member is answerable to Mr. Rosen. His knowledge and guidance made the work possible. (5) Sue McDonald beautifully managed two of the largest sections in the book, Academics and Activities. (6) Karen Sandlin, advertising manager, organized the staff and had them canvas the city, searching for ads. The Lancer was built around the teamwork of the entire 1980 Staff: (7) Bruce Kelly, Ron Stefanik, Shari Griesmer, Cindy Love, Willie Murphy, Karen Sandlin, Sue McDonald, Shelly Worthington, Tin Maurer, Connie Merrell, Beverly Gagnon, Ellen Klausmeyer, Debbie Houghtby, Rhonda Phillips, and Pam Lowry.

High school allows students to become involved in many extra-curricular activities. (1) Bill McMasters supports a swimmer in the Spring synchronized show. (2) "Varsity Drag" singers- Mary Fisher, Ken Hopkins, Allison Gilbert, Mike Poss and Jenny Schleef bring good news to Kimball. (3) Biking enthusiasts are led by club officers (l to r) Shannon Smith, Will Murphy, and Nina Hays. (4) Foreign Language Club members: Ann Beaupied, Barb Beamer and Sue Kasa calculate profits from candy sales. (5) Stacey Green, (Pres.), Bob Carlson (V-P), Vicky Klier (Sec.) and Chris Pounds (Treas.) led school snow bunnies down the slopes. Lack of snow this year hasn't dampened the spirits of the Ski Club.

ACADEMICS II

C o-op is very popular at Kimball. The course enables seniors to work and learn at the same time. They get experience in dealing with people and insight into the occupational field of their choice. (1) Carmie VanCise likes selling clothes and adding special touches like these beads. Carmie seems to be enjoying her work very much. (2) Caught in the middle of a discussion over an important design are seniors Paul Duncan and Bill Campbell. (3) Jim McIntosh receives a little guidance on how to tune up a car from his Auto Mechanics supervisor. Jim doesn't look too dirty, does he? (4) Libby Bugai is a busy person answering the telephone and reading memos.

Co-op gives people a chance to get experience in their occupation.

Art classes take talent, imagination, and creativity and use them to construct works of art. (1) Katie Main puts her all into creating a beautiful pot. (2) With the skill of a diamond cutter, Sherry Cantu cuts a small gem for a ring in jewelry. (3) It takes a steady hand and a keen eye to master the art of cutting wood. Chuck Steele and Sean Brainard seem to have conquered this challenge. (4) (L-R) Shahd Sitto, Maura McNitt, and Neil Skewes try to become experts in the art of tying knots. (5) Thanks to the talents of the art department and Jim Fournier the Homecoming posters were a visual success.

Art begins with lots of ingenuity, talent and a fantastic imagination.

Art classes give the students a chance to use their imaginations to the fullest degree. They learn artistic techniques which will help them in their endeavors for many years to come. (1) Brenda Quinn talks to her knight in shining armor, Kyung Shin, about her secret fantasy land of dragons and damsels in distress. (2) Dawn Traynor kicks off her shoes and lets her hair down as her creative juices flow. (3) We're off to see the Wizard, the wonderful Wizard of Oz. The tin man attempts to make it to Oz with the helping hand Ivan Iles. (4) Printing the football programs takes a steady hand, a trained eye, and a delicate touch. Striving for perfection is Senior Richard Adriaens. (6) Commercial artist Suzanne Kosnik pauses momentarily to analyse her unfinished masterpiece. (5) The commercial art class put in long hours making the decorations for the year's Homecoming Dance. The theme for this years festivities was Knight Time Stories. Senior Ann Falvo takes time to perfect every detail in her creation.

Home Economics gives everyone an enjoyable headstart in family life. For male or female, Home Economics comes in handy. (1) Tracy Ojala thinks that dishwashing is one of the most thrilling tasks in Home Economics. (2) Dawn Cavallaro models her newest creation. (3) Enjoying their second childhood are Juniors Tammy Allor, Sally Hogan, and Karen Murphy. (4) A Mary Kay representative demonstrates different make-up techniques on various students. Amy McCullough observes while Cathy Elliott, Rebecca Fair, and Mona Yoho try their hands at using make-up. (5) Demonstrating his stirring technique is Senior Bob Alverson. (6) Elaine Keinath reads to her class the story of the red nosed reindeer. (7) Kelly Bera is a very intent when it comes to her sewing.

Foreign Languages provide insight to other cultures.

Language classes give the students a chance not only to learn a foreign tongue but also a chance to learn about the lives of people all around the world. (1) Pat Hramiec, Tami Sierens, Mike Haremski and John McKay sing about those sweet Spanish eyes. Spanish students often take a break from their studies to play a game or sing a song. (2) Jeff Toenniges dreams of the wonder and mystique of Germany. (3) Jeanna Hamlin giggles with embarrassment after admitting her ultimate French fantasy to her friends Patty Wallace and Chris Clark.

Business means money, and Kimball means business.

For many Kimball students college life is not the answer. They prefer a career in business. (1) Joy Hilzinger gains knowledge in Business Law that will help in business transactions. (2) The Exit Ramp requires teamwork, for (l-r) Barb Beauford, Melissa Yamarino, and Peter Theodoropoulos. (3) Lori Ponte and Caryn McPeck "click" together side by side. (4) Tina Carlson practices centering paragraphs. (5) Debbie Hopkins demonstrates how not to be a good secretary. (6) Sue Glasson dreams about the hustle and bustle of big business.

Business classes prepare the students to go out into the world and earn some real money. The many business courses offered here at Kimball give the students a chance to learn some important office skills. (1) The sound of click...click...click can always be heard when walking down the business hall. Moe Seery tries to perfect her technique. (2) The typing classes are full this year and sometimes there just aren't enough typewriters to go around. Mariann Martin finds that pretending is the next best thing to having a typewriter of her very own. (3) Gary Laura concentrates on balancing his assets and liabilities; after all, accounting opens the door to the world of money management. (4) Cheryl Hamann (right) and Joni Ruffles give a detailed speech on the success of advertising. (5) Jayne Gribble stops to check her work.

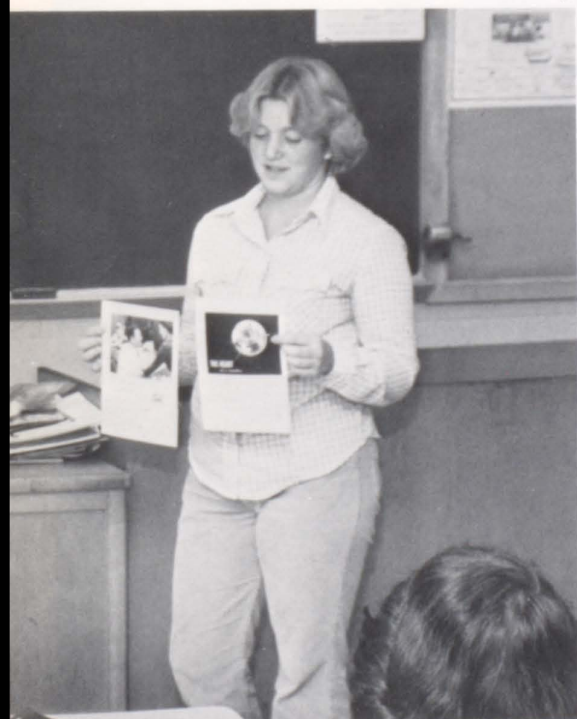

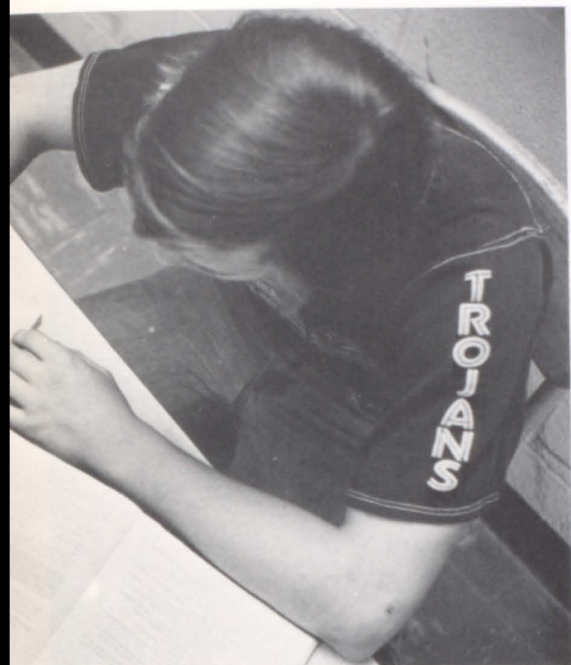

Business courses help students climb up ladder of success.

With an excellent staff and resourceful units, students use the library for increasing their knowledge. The library can assist students in many ways. (1) Some library staff, members (l to r), Elaine Keinath, Donna Fisher, Vicki Radcliff, and Marianne Martin, help out a student, Moe Porter. (2) Marianne Dunn, a typical A-V assistant. (3) The head of the A-V department, Mike Miller, carefully looks over some important papers. (4) "It's got to be in here somewhere!" Elaine Keinath does some of the office work necessary to keep the library running.

The Girl's Softball Team had a very exciting year, finishing very high in the SMA competition. It was a long season with all of the first games being rained out. (1) In the bottom of the ninth the Girl's Softball Team sends to the plate Junior Rita Hanis... Rita was a big help to the girls winning efforts this year. (2) Junior Colleen Bauer, who played third base this year, was a valuable member of the team's infield. (3) Sophomore Caroline Cole runs to first base after hitting a high fly-ball into right-center field. (4) Waiting for her approaching pitch, Junior Sue Bidingier thinks about the right field fence only 240 feet away. Sue has been a member of the Varsity Softball Team since her freshman year and has been noted for being a good all-around player. (5) Sophomore Faye Schilkey shouts encouragement to her fellow teammates on the field. (6) Junior Jenny Blumbergs leads off of second base hoping that her teammate hits the ball out of the park to add a few more runs to the team's score.

Many Kimball students participate in track. Track is one of the most popular sports here. It has more members than any other sport at Kimball. Both boys and girls on track give all they have to make a winning team. They are all dedicated and hard working people. (1) Coming off the block with determination written on their faces are Senior Larry Rowe and Sophomore John Makinen. Their strength and determination have helped the team become a winner and have kept up the high standards required for a Kimball athlete. (2) Trying to throw the discus as far as she can, Karen Corner lets go with all the strength she has. (3) Senior Peter Bochshoten starts Sophomore John Swanson off in this relay, after executing a clean hand off. (4) Watching with great intensity, Karri Christensen waits for her turn to run. (5) Concentrating on a good jump, Mickey Whalen gathers speed for the vault. Pole-vaulting takes a lot of concentration.

Hours of diligent effort pay-off for swim team.

SENIORS

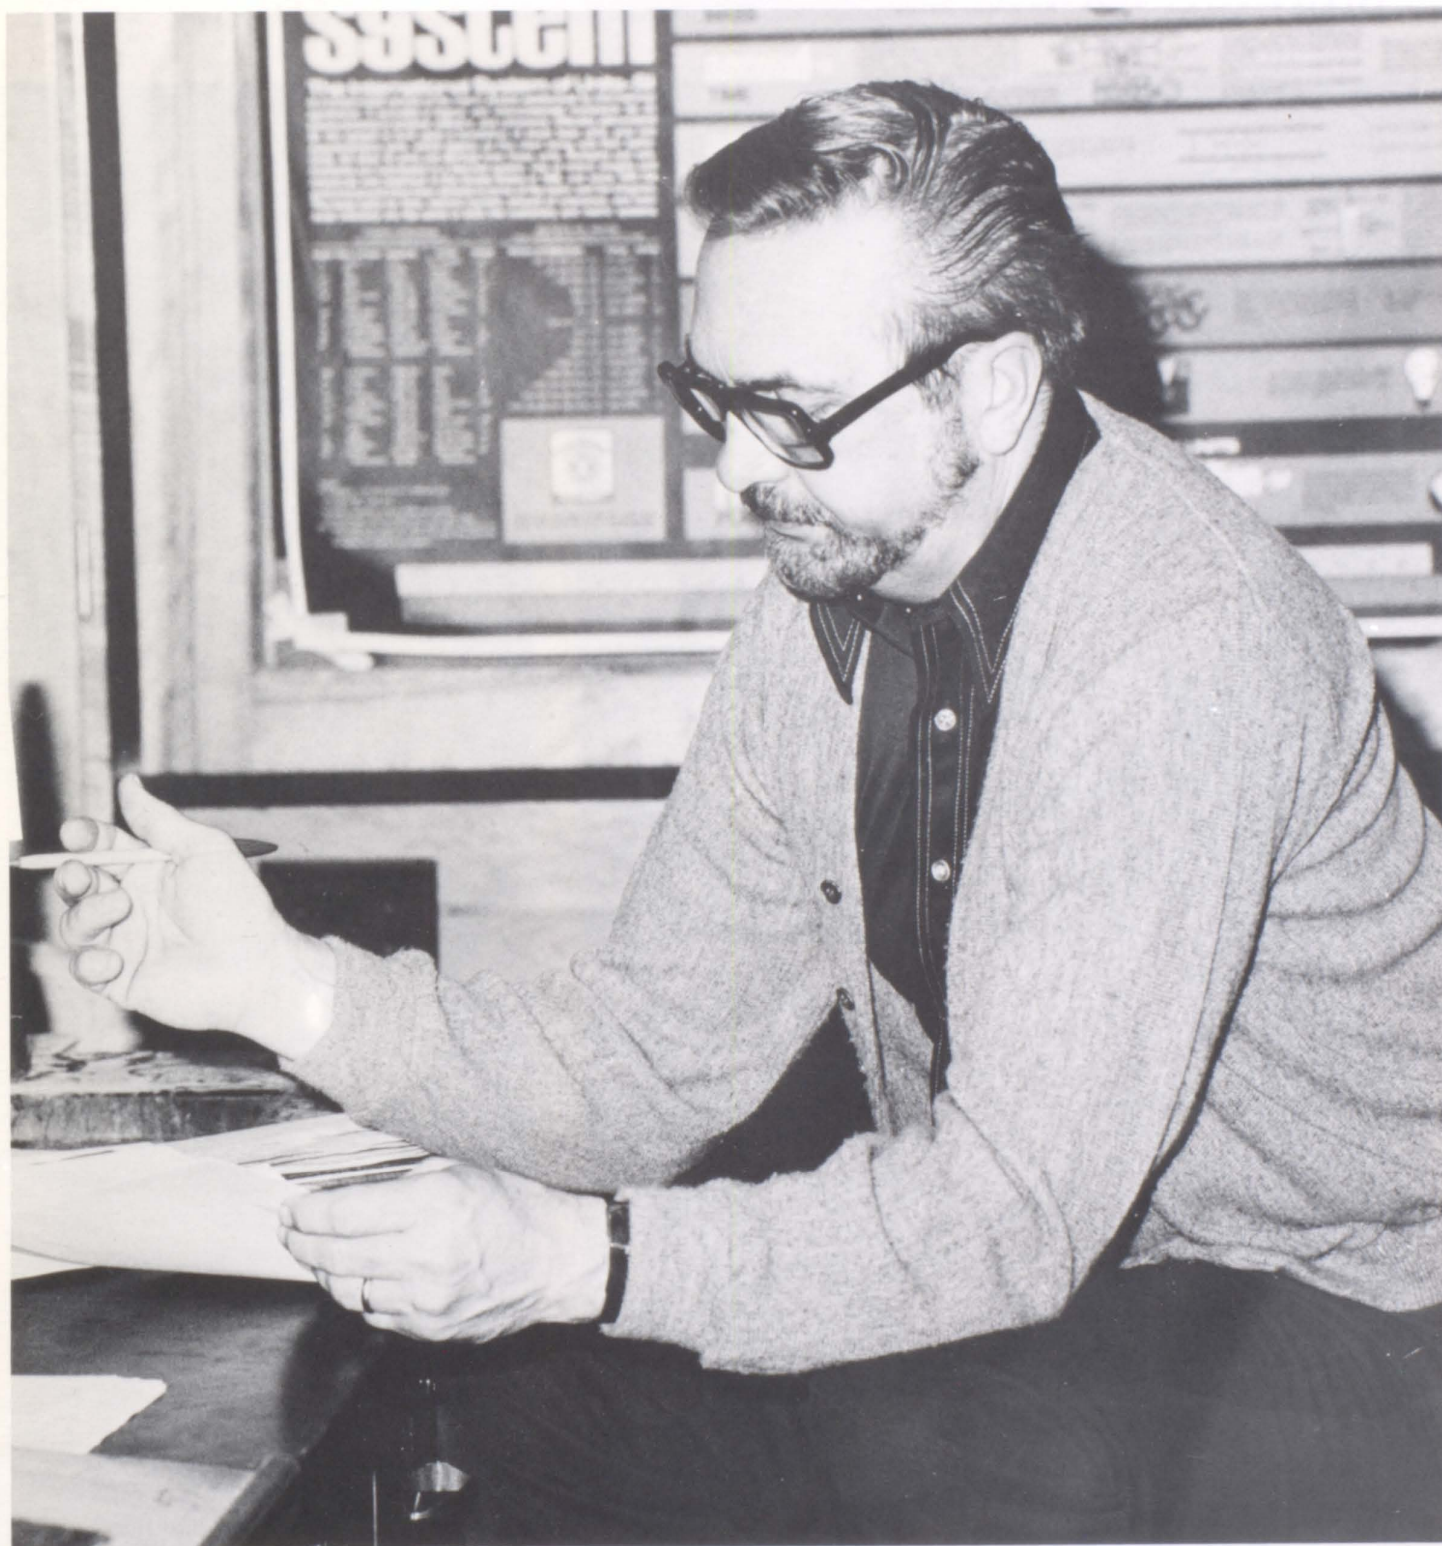

We the seniors of 1980 dedicate our yearbook to you Ron Schmidt. Being a teacher here at Kimball since its openingg has surely taken alot of determination and perseverance on your part. Being exposed to your classes (Physics, Chemistry, Geometry) has shown us the changes people can bring to the world. We hope to enter this new decade improving the lives of others. Our lives have been enriched from the lessons we've learned at your hands. Thank you for the knowledge you've given us.

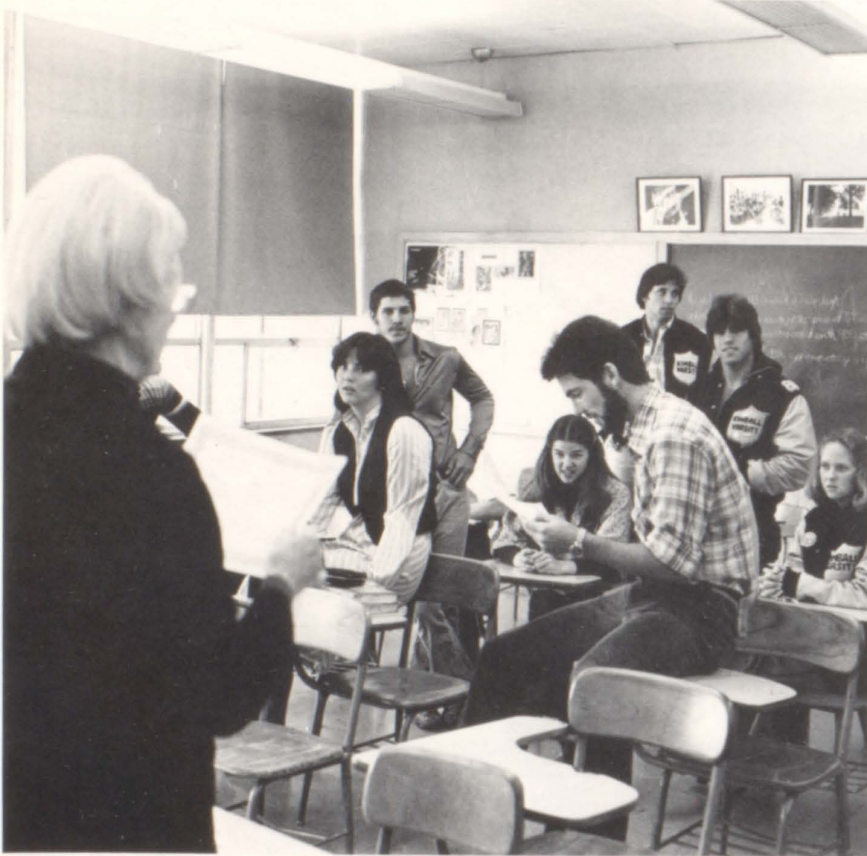

Teacher dedication captured by Ron Schmidt.

Senior classes are well worth the long hours of study put forth by students, especially after they receive that much cherished diploma. Whether it's Senior Math or Economics, students know that they will be ready for a college curriculum. (1) A sign of interest is shown here on the face of Angela Michalec. (2) Mrs. Ruth Stephens, post-high school education counselor, announces recognized seniors who participated in the ACT entrance exam program. (3) Alba Manjarres seems to be dreaming of something nice (graduation?). (4) Sue Webster and Lynn Salo try discussing their Adv. Comp. without laughing too hard. (5) Mr. Patrick really gets down to "business" with one of his classes. (6) Tina Ewen seems to be getting a piece of Tony Midea during class.

Guiding a senior class toward its destination takes a lot of dedication and hard work. Accomplishments sometimes go unnoticed but not for these people! (1) Organization and representation is what being senior class president is all about. Diane Larson seems to have accomplished the job. (2) Assisting Diane and running meetings in her absence is Margie Darany (V-P). (3) Kay Cornell (Class Advisor). (4) Taking minutes and all other clerical duties is the responsibility of the class secretary Julie Buccherelli. (5) Financial statements are in the hands of treasurer Marta Datwyler.

Living their lives the Kimball way Marcel and Tin work and play.

Foreign exchange students come to the United States for a year of schooling to learn about the American way of life. Tin Maurer from Switzerland and Marcel Kroes from the Netherlands have enjoyed their year here at Kimball. They were both impressed by American hospitality and they will remember their fun filled year at Kimball for many years to come. (1) As a photographer Tin was able to continue with one of his favorite hobbies while he helped with the production of the yearbook. (2) Marcel Kroes waits in line anticipating the delight of another one of those delectable dishes. (3) Marcel and Tin stop for a moment to have a friendly chat. (4) Tin added a touch of class to the Symphony Orchestra by playing his french horn. (5) Marcel graced Kimball's stage in this years fall play Boys and Ghouls Together. He did a fantastic job in the unique role of the robot Model S. (6) Who is that behind those Foster Grants? It's Marcel, all dressed up in the cheerleader fashion for this years Powder Puff game.

Costume Day: a chance to let your inner self out.

Students look forward to Costume Day from the Halloween of their freshmen year. Each person puts forth his best effort to come up with a costume befitting his personality. Underclassmen love to watch the wild antics of the strange creatures that roam the halls. (1) You never know what kind of people you will find in Symphony Orchestra. Playing their own rendition of Schubert's Unfinished Symphony are our coneheaded friends Janet Dzendzel and Wendy Marshall. (2) The black and white force was strong in school on Senior Costume Day. (3) Showing their favorite pastime are (L-R) Roger Smith, Rob McDaniel, Scott Sturley, Tom Kaylor, Will Wright, and Jerry Acciaioli. (4) "The Devil made me do it" was just one of the many cracks Cerise Barone heard while portraying her inner self. (5) Carmen VanCise and Chris Sutter show how classy they can be.

Every year K.H.S. has spirit week. Some activities included Slave Day, Cowboys and Indians Day, Senior Dress-up Day, T-shirt Day, and the traditional Blue and Gold Day. (1) Kim Tishler shows everyone her welcoming western smile. (2) Kevin Sherwood lives his ultimate fantasy, being rock star Gene Simmons for a day. (3) Chuck Schwartz and Eric Ward, fencing fans, duel to the death in the courtyard during lunch. (4) Only in the halls of Kimball could you find a "charman" (Troy Gazette) Rageddy Andy (Ed Lovins), and a scarecrow (Sue Glasson), all in the same place. (5) Margie Darany gets ready to attack her next victim on Senior Costume Day. (6) Roger Smith auctions off Jim Poppe.

Senior Class
Mock Election

FOREVER FRIENDLY

Class personalities remember special first experiences.

Mock Elections help us to remember those very special people who gave life to our senior class. From kindergarten to graduation these people have been known for their particular outstanding characteristics. We all remember those mischievous class clowns from the first day of school, the smart kids who knew all the answers, and the kids with the special smiles that always made you feel good. Now after so many years, we honor them with the 1980 Mock Elections. MARCEL KROES and BECKY MILLARD are always there when you need a friend. TOM LEVER-GOOD and DIANE LARSON try to out wit each other in the world of big business. They are both sure to succeed.

Memories of days in the distant past spur '80 elections.

It's very rare to find the perfect pair, but KELLY MCDONALD and ERIC MARSCHNER are a couple perfect in every way. KYUNG SHIN and KERRY COMMISSIONG can always be found with a sunny smile to brighten the day. HOLLY BORESAMLE and ERIC WARD help each other study for the big exam. TONY MIDEA and CINDY MICHALEK enjoy their first day at the beach. DAWN JOHNSON steals her a kiss from her man for the day, MASON NASSAR. Class clowns LYNN STAMBOULY and ROGER SMITH always bring life to their classes with their wild and crazy antics. ED ROSINSKI and CLARE SAVAGLIO try and gather up enough courage to utter those first difficult words. LESLIE STANGE ropes ERIC MARSCHNER into playing a little basketball with her.

Knotable Knights are commended.

Qualifying as one of the best cross-country runners Kimball has ever had is senior Steve Orlando. Steve has produced an astonishing record of wins placing 3rd in the state meet, voted All-SMA, All League, All-SOC and All-Metro Detroit two years in a row. As a four-year letter winner, Steve has put many months of hard work into reaching his goals. Second in SMA, 2nd in regionals, and 10th place during the state meet are all credits to Elizabeth Watch, Girls Cross Country runner. Liz, co-captain of her team also holds the school record for the three-mile run is only the 3rd girl in Kimball history to earn All-State honors in her sport. (2) A varsity member of boys basketball since he was a sophomore, Eric Marschner has been named captain of his team, All-SMA as a junior, All-SOC as a junior and a starter for the last two years. Averaging double figures in scoring, Eric was also the second leading scorer on the team and leads in assists. Leslie Stange's dedication and continuous desire to improve were instrumental to the growing success of the women's basketball program. Captain during her junior year, Leslie has been noted as Kimball's leading scorer throughout her sport's history and has also been elected All-SMA two years. Leslie's athletic abilities have also led to her attainment of Knotable Knight in the sport of volleyball. (3), Bob Landry and Kurt Wiechert are both four year members of the track team, co-captains, and extremely hard-workers. Bob has been recognized as the top 2-miler on the team while Kurt has also maintained high status as All-league sprinter. Kim Carpenter, a very dedicated track team member, holds the school and SMA record in the shot put. (4) Bill Walker and Rob McDaniel have been on the golf team for four years. Rob was honorary captain for 1979. Bill was All-SMA for 1979 and placed third in The Oakland County Invitational. (5) Known as the "Kimball Rock," Chris McKay is the only football player ever to be named co-captain of his team two years in a row. Chris was named All-League and All-State two times.

During her four years at Kimball (1) Pat Seery has contributed much to the art program. She has been a member of the honors art class for the last two years and is attending Wayne State University for extracurricular art classes. Her artistic endeavors will be remembered for many years to come. (2) Maureen Murphy has been a dedicated member of the Varsity Volleyball Team for three years. She has contributed her abilities and coordination and was named the captain of the 1980 squad. Her achievements have helped our team to victory. (3) As dance club president, Tina Ewen has become well experienced in the art of organization. Tina has been a member of the club for the last four years. She has organized club activities such as mother-daughter tea parties, picnics, and choreographed many of the dance routines. Musical talent and leadership, qualities held by both a cappella President Maureen Burns and Sec.-Treas. Tom Kirkpatrick, are a combination rarely found. (4) Maureen has steadily increased her experience in the music field by being a member of choir the last four years and guiding the Cappella her senior year through concerts and activities. Tom has been a member of A'Cappella for three years, and during those years Tom has made contributions by accompanying the choir on piano, being a madrigal for one year, and taking care of the clerical and financial aspects of the a cappella choir. (5) Cheerleading is an extremely demanding activity. Sharon Alexander, with four years experience, has led her squad to high recognition at state and cheerleading camp competitions. Sharon has also excelled individually by placing first during a U.S.C.A. camp session and being the major creator of many cheers, chants, and routines. (6) Good reflexes, coordination and timing are essential in wrestling. Rick Buxton has all of these qualities and has been a major asset to the team during his four years at Kimball. Rick was named captain of the 1980 wrestling team.

Sue Glasson (1) has displayed outstanding talent in synchronized swimming. She has choreographed many numbers and demonstrated her skills in a solo number during the club's annual show. Sue was elected president of the club her senior year. She has been a dedicated, enthusiastic member. (2) Roundtable's current president Kathryn Main has exceptional leadership qualities. Katie has supervised the Homecoming show for three years and has been involved in the auction, flower sales, and SMA talent show. Kelly McDonald shares this honor with Katie as a four year member and is vice-president of Roundtable. (3) Amy Ronayne was treasurer of the Thespians in her Junior year and president in her Senior year. Amy has shown her dramatic expertise in the seven major productions she has appeared in on Kimball's stage. Amy is not only a member of the drama club but is also a member of the forensics team. She has won many awards and placed 3rd in the state in humorous reading in her junior year. (4) Being state-qualifier and league champion four years in a row proved that Kim Tishler is an outstanding swimmer. For her hard work and responsibility Kim was chosen co-captain of the girls swim team. Kim has also lettered in swimming four years in a row. Bill McMasters has been a varsity swimmer the last four years reaching All-State and All-SMA status. An all-around swimmer, Bill has raced at the state meet in the 50 and 100- free style. (5) Known as the "BOSSSES" to staff members, publications editors Rhonda Phillips(Lancer) and Andy MacDonald(Herald) have special leadership qualities that enable them to meet their printing deadlines. Rhonda and Andy devote every spare minute they have perfecting the newspaper and yearbook. In order to reach a position of responsibility such as this a student must learn various journalistic skills and then apply them after a year's experience on the staff.

Lisa Cockerill (1) has been an outstanding member of the Girls' Varsity Tennis team for the last four years. Lisa has played first singles for three years and was named captain of the 1980 Varsity team. She has participated in state competition for two years. Tom Kaylor has had much success on the Boy's Varsity Tennis team playing first singles for the last two years. Tom has also done well during his four years on the Debate team. He was a league champion in 1979. He placed seventh in his league and was a finalist at the Pittsburgh Central Catholic national tournament and at the Wayne State University all-state tournament. (2) With leadership ability both on the field and off, Colleen Bauer has been a valuable asset to our softball team. Colleen has played first base all four years on the Varsity team. In her Junior year Colleen received all S.M.A. Dave Kopf has been noted as an outstanding, all-around player including pitching and hitting. Dave will be remembered as one of Kimball's best power hitters, with one of the highest batting averages on the team. (3) Karen VanDyke is a four year band member. Her hard work and talent earned Karen the honor of being named the 1980 Drum Major. Ken Ranney has been an outstanding member of the Orchestra for 4 years. He showed great ability, leading the orchestra in Mr. Picklo's absence. His talent is sure to take him far. (4) Most deserving of Knotable Knight recognition is four year gymnastic team member Sue Ditre. Sue was all S.M.A. vault champion. Sue qualified for regional competition in floor exercises as well as vaulting. Sue is also well liked by her teammates. She has been elected co-captain the last two years. Knotable Knights are chosen by their teachers and coaches to be honored for their outstanding ability in their chosen field. They have earned respect from their peers and have proven to the community that with a little talent work Kimball students can accomplish anything they want.

Memories of the freewheeling, unforgettable days and nights. (1) Toga clad Tim Nolan trots through the halls tooting his souza phone. (2) Bill Winters takes a break from the exhausting grind which a senior must go through every day. (3) Sue Phillips uses her sparkling smile to aid in selling sweet delights. (4) Every Spring members of the junior class run for the senior class officers. This year's president, Diane Larson, put alot of effort into her campaign, which proved to be very successful. (5) Donna Broughton contemplates the many problems of the world. (6) Tom Kirkpatrick and Sue Reid accompany the A'Cappella choir at the Kimball/Dondero game pep rally.

Class of '80 enjoys fantastic, frolicking, fun times.

The Royal Oak Board of Education plays an important part in students' lives. They make decisions dealing with school policies and finances in our school system. The board meets on the first and third Wednesday of each month. These meetings are open to the public. This enables the public to participate and know what is going on within the school system. The Board is also responsible for maintaining the quality of the teaching faculty, plus approving all new classes and activities.

Memories light the corners of my mind; misty water color memories of the way we were. Scattered pictures of the smiles we left behind, smiles we gave to one another, for the way we were... So it's the laughter we will remember whenever we remember the way we were.

This book is an expression of ideas, dedication, and love. Throughout the year many hours after school and during vacation have gone into the production of our yearbook. I'd like to thank Modern Yearbook Co. and our representative Kim Rider for the help they have given us. Also special thanks to Bill Williams Studio, the fun filled photographers and Jan Smith for handling all of our rush orders and demands. I'd like to add a grateful thanks to the understanding parents and teachers, too! And most importantly, thank you, Mr. Rosen, for many hours of your time have been devoted to us, and we appreciate it. As our advisor you've lead us to the completion of a quality yearbook. Every minute of headaches and work has been worth it! As editor ("boss") I've had the benefit of a wonderful staff (good luck next year, too!). I wish success, happiness, and love to the class of 1980.

Rhonda L. Phillips
