Back to the Beginning

Former Royal Oak Schools Superintendent Larry Nichols breaks ground for the 1990 renovation.

It's hard to believe that less than 50 years ago Kimball was built from the ground up, costing only $14.75 per square foot.

Far Right: The football players rush the Silverdome field to face off with crosstown rival Dondero.

Far Middle: Marketing strategies have come a long way since this picture was taken in 1975, but the Lancer is a main stay.

Powdermill football has always been a fall favorite. The class of 1989 shows its spirit in the courtyard.

Kimball welcomed George Bush in the fall of 1989; this year students debated the politics of his son, George W. Bush in any other year.

A Closer Look at Kimball's Roots

When Clarence M. Kimball High School opened its doors to staff and students in the fall of 1957, it was a state of the art facility. It was designed by architect O'Dell & Luckenbach and built by the O. W. Burke Co. The strong Bethlehem Steel joists that still support the school today were used because of their low maintenance, fire-resistance, and fast economical construction. While the building itself has weathered with time, the spirit of the school has remained strong. Its teachers have been honored in numerous ways and its student have achieved the impossible. Fifty-two classes have spent their most impressionable years in these halls and come away with memories that will last forever. In 1957, students anticipated the opening of their new high school. This year, seniors reminisced about Kimball's rich history as they gathered as a class on June 2nd for One Last Night.

Over the years the Knight's Den has become a hot spot at Kimball. Above is one of the first school stores.

Right: A Kimball Student looks out over "the lake." The flooded Kimball courtyard was later closed off at the far end with the addition of the Media Center.

Below: Many different fashions have passed through the halls of Kimball High School, including the mullet, worn here by the Marching Band's drum major.

Parking has always been an issue. Owners of these now classic cars were charged much less than the $30 parking permits that were issued this year.

Saving the best for last, the class of 2006 will be the final Senior class to graduate from Kimball, following thousand of graduates that have walked before them.

Kimball has changed drastically since it was first opened in 1957. We have many new clubs, such as the Knit and Crochet club, Robotics Team and GSA, and sports like Lacrosse, to occupy students of all grades and interests. Through the years, the Knights have contributed to the city of Royal Oak through many fund-raising events like the Volleyball Marathon, which supports Gilda's Club. Many teachers and staff members have been around throughout the history of Kimball. "Kimball has definitely changed since I started here as a teacher, but the school spirit and dedication of the students have always been and will always remain high," said Math teacher and coach Mr. Clyde Ewell. Tom Neville has proudly been the principal of Kimball High School for nineteen years. Although Kimball won't get to its fiftieth anniversary, forty-nine years was long enough to leave a lasting impression of Clarence M. Kimball High School and its history.

Kimball Unites for last All School Picnic

School spirit invaded the courtyard as the annual All School Picnic officially opened the new school year.

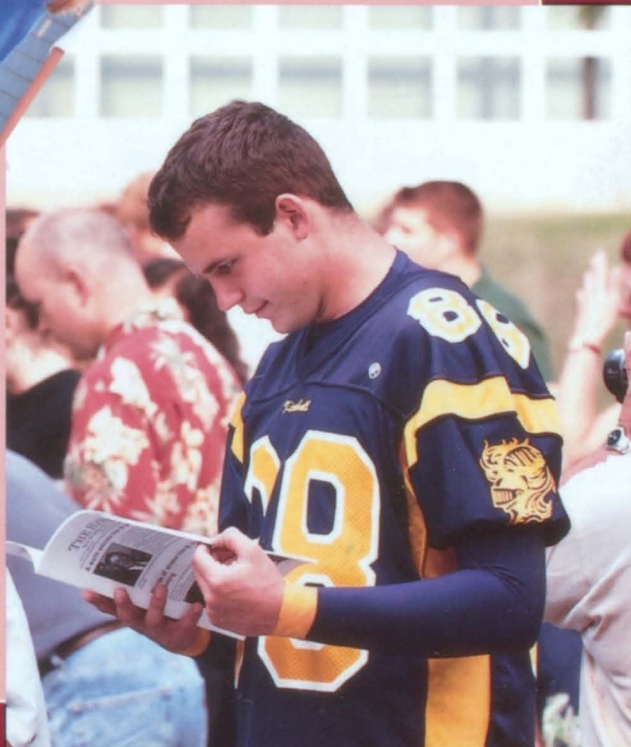

All of the student clubs and activities were represented, either selling goods or just handing out information. People could buy the Lancer, a subscription to the Herald, and everything from clothing to delicious baked goods. The Golf team even put up a putting green. The Class Officers sold t-shirts, Kimball thundersticks, and bracelets, as a fund-raiser for the Senior Class. As always, Roundtable served all the food and refreshments. "I have always loved the food at the all school picnic," stated Laura Hartrick'06.

The Cheerleaders, Dance team, Choir and the Band all came out and entertained the crowd. Finally, the Football team made its long awaited entrance. While the Marching Band pumped up the crowd, the Football team, followed by students, teachers, and alumni, led everyone to the Kimball stadium. The Football team won its season opener against Pontiac Northern, 20-19. It was a great way to kick off the year.

Blue and gold painted the stands as students, parents, teachers and alumni stood side by side screaming and cheering for the team, at the final Homecoming football game in Kimball's history. "Looking up into the stands really gave me inspiration to give it my all. I've never seen it so packed," said Captain Josh Nims'06. The sky got dark, but the field was bright as the boys ran out from the tunnel. The team played their hardest, and enjoyed the rigor of the sport. "You could tell we were all having fun while we were playing the game," said Zack Burger'06. Regardless of the loss, it was still a great game that will be remembered by all Kimball alumni. "I had a great time coaching the team and will miss the energy and pride of the boys," stated Coach Powers. The excitement of the night was enhanced by performances of the Marching Band, Dance team and Cheerleaders along with the halftime presentation of the Homecoming Court and their parents. It was a memorable night by the time the Friday night lights finally went out.

Last Homecoming is the Best

As the Homecoming dance began, students were full of excitement and energy. This year's theme was a Medieval Knight and was shown through many decorations, such as castles, horses and, of course, our school mascot, the Knight. "My senior Homecoming was a great way to start the year. I have many memories from that night and have never had as much fun at any dance," said Sara Spangler'06. Homecoming was especially memorable for the seniors as they shared and created many memories that will stay with them forever. "I can't believe this was my last Homecoming. I'm going to miss it," stated Sarah Gilchrist'06. All grades came together and had a great time as they celebrated the unforgettable night.

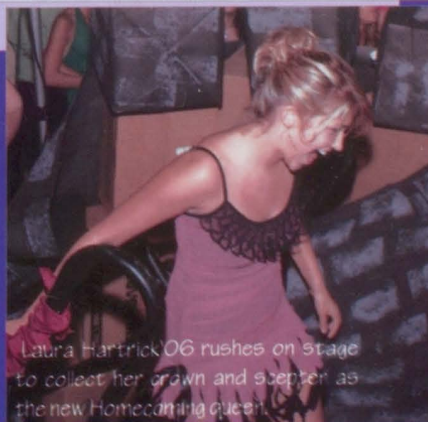

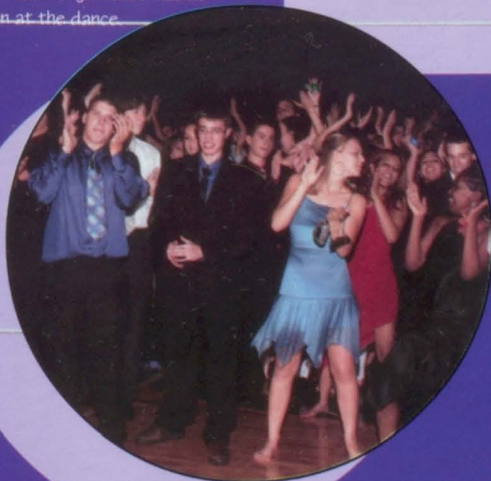

2005-2006 Homecoming Court: A. Webb, K. Opiari, L. Hartrick, V. Trampus, P. Valenti, E. Osbourn, C. O'Leary, T. Brennan, O. Oke, F. Catanese, J. Stanek, R. Lannen, S. Wagner, K. Przybylski, A. Ben Hatala'06 and Paul Webb'07 battle it out before the game.

Seniors Maintain Tradition

As the Powderpuff game drew near, the senior girls knew they had a heavy tradition to uphold: defeat was not an option. Before game day, both teams geared up by painting cars, making t-shirts, face painting and singing class chants. The seniors and juniors both worked hard with their weekend practices and after school meetings. It wasn't until 8 p.m. that Wednesday evening that seniors really had to show who the true champions were. Although all grades attended, it was a true battle between the seniors and juniors. "I'm glad I gave my team all I had. Without strong teamwork, we wouldn't have been able to make all of the touchdowns that we did," stated Jessica Watton'06 after the game. Along with teamwork, both teams benefitted from great coaching from players' fathers and aggressive attitudes. As the clock counted down to halftime, the score remained close. The seniors knew they had their work cut out for them, and they were proud to have conquered the juniors.

Chelsey Tanner'06 leaves Brittney Boldizar'07 in the dust as the seniors dominated the juniors.

This week filled all students, from freshmen to the seniors, with spirit. Spirit Week consisted of five theme days: Monday was Comfy day, Tuesday was College/Hat day, Wednesday was Blue and Gold day while Powderpuff girls showed their spirit by wearing their jerseys, Thursday was Old School day, and Friday was Senior Dress-up day. The students showed their spirit by participating in each day, from wearing crazy hats, slippers, and robes, to seniors dressing up in their favorite costumes. "Senior dress up day was my favorite day of the week, I finally got to be cheerleader," stated Daniel Farhat '06. This week was a success and gave Kimball a last chance to glow with pride.

“We’d fight for a cure, if we weren’t so lazy.”

“I think that senioritis is more or less in the senior’s minds. Most 12th graders should truly be looking forward to life post-high school. Sometimes it makes them feel entitled to slack off, but I think for the most part, seniors equate senioritis with that light at the end of the tunnel...”

2006 Mock Elections

You're only doubling your trouble if you're near Nathan Sleek and Zachery Burger, who won Best Guy Friends.

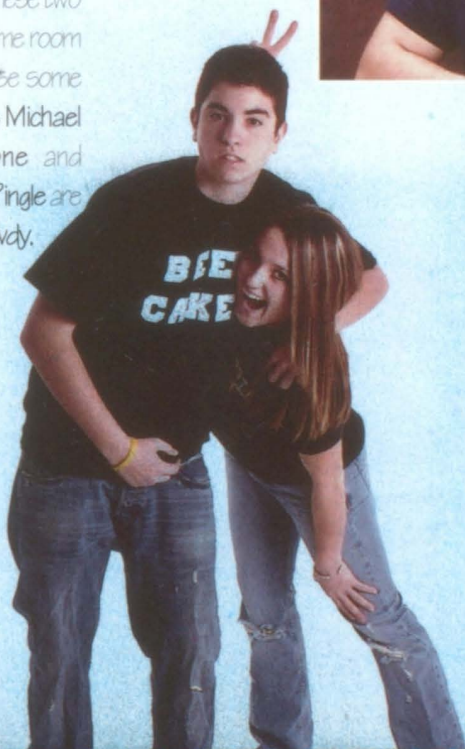

Seeing Leigh Gervasi or Jeff Kline on the big screen would be no surprise as they are Best Performers.

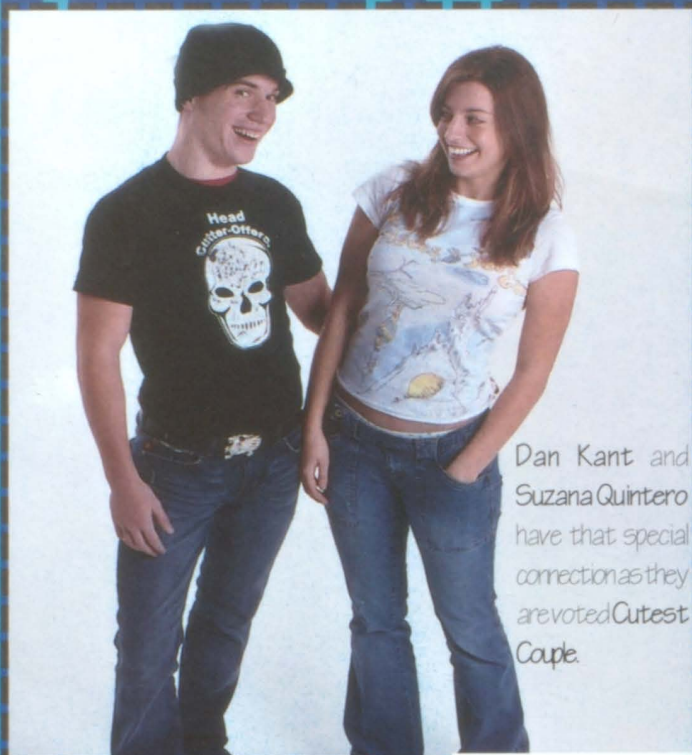

One grin is all it takes to prove that Joseph Schwab and Caitlin O'Leary have the Best Smiles.

Putting these two in the same room may cause some chaos as Michael Pantalone and Mandie Pingle are Most Rowdy.

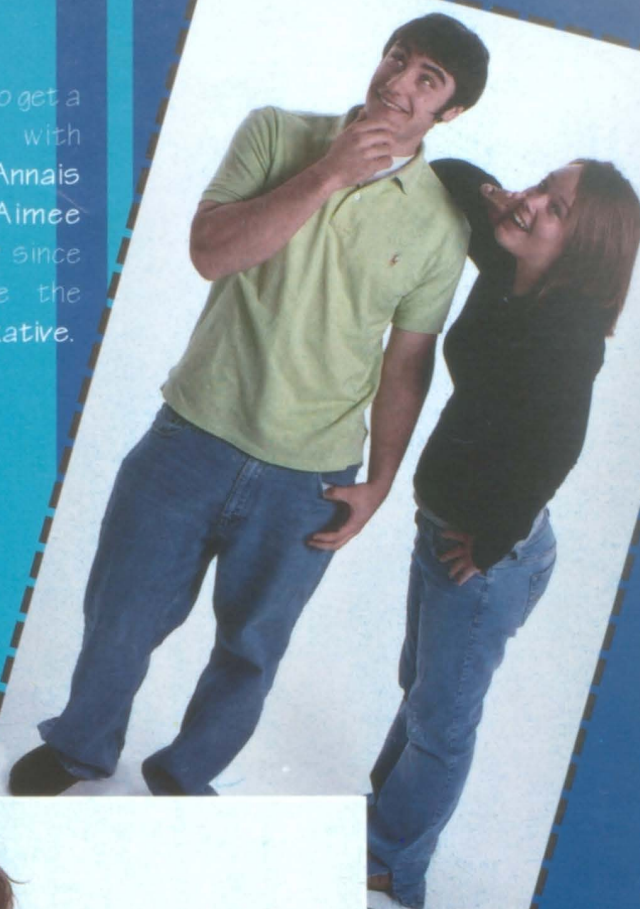

This is no Abercrombie and Fitch cover, but Jonathan Galloway and Amanda Abraham are Kimball's Best Dressed.

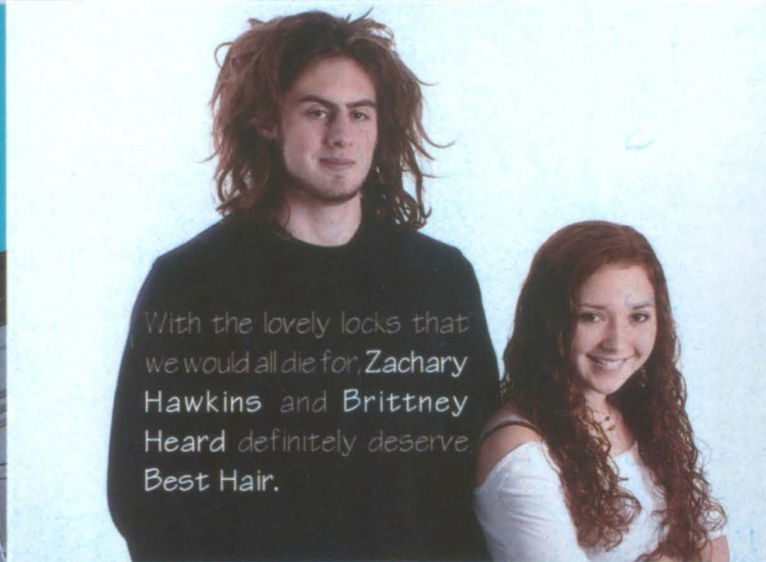

Dan Kant and Suzana Quintero have that special connection as they are voted Cutest Couple.

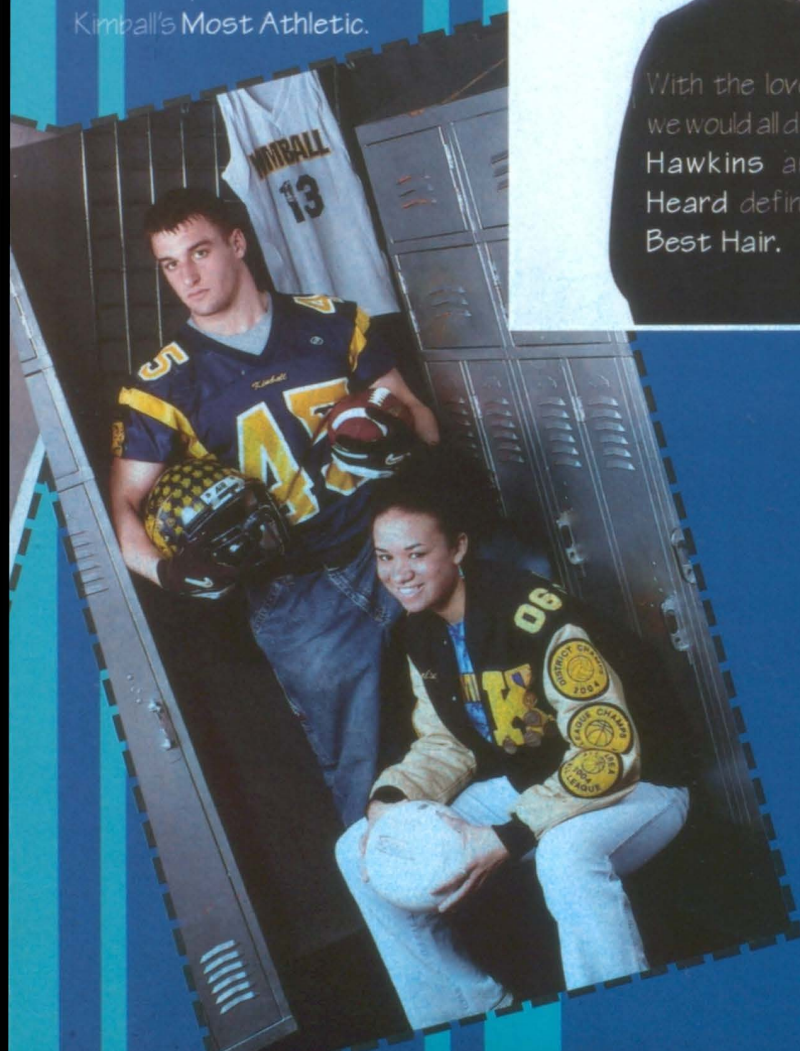

It's hard to get a word in with David LeAnnais and Aimee Belanger since they are the Most Talkative.

Tom Brady and Chelsey Tanner don't mess around when it comes to their sports as they are Kimball's Most Athletic.

With the lovely locks that we would all die for, Zachary Hawkins and Brittney Heard definitely deserve Best Hair.

One look and you will be hooked onto Adriana Walters' and Wes Pomroy's Best Eyes.

If there is love in the air, Frhannceska Catanese or Dan Brennan can't be far as they are nothing short of the Biggest Flirts.

With her style and his moves, it's not surprising that Evan Veit and Ida Lowback were voted Best Dancers.

If they hear something funny, Jacob Chappell and Natalie Siwa will let out their Best Laugh.

You can always find these two at games and events taking pride in their blue and gold as Devin Hurcomb and Ben Hatala are Most School Spirited.

Courtney Doman and Collin Webster will have no problem with money in the future since they are Most Likely To Be Successful.

Class song:

"Don't Stop Believin'"

~Journey~

Just a small town girl, livin' in a lonely world
She took the midnight train goin' anywhere
Just a city boy, born and raised in south detroit
He took the midnight train goin' anywhere
A singer in a smokey room
A smell of wine and cheap perfume
For a smile they can share the night
It goes on and on and on and on
Strangers waiting, up and down the boulevard
Their shadows searching in the night
Streetlight people, living just to find emotion
Hiding, somewhere in the night
Working hard to get my fill,
Everybody wants a thrill
Payin' anything to roll the dice,
Just one more time
Some will win, some will lose
Some were born to sing the blues
Oh, the movie never ends
It goes on and on and on and on

Don't stop believin'
Hold on to the feelin'
Streetlight people

BLUE

A full suit of plate armor, likely from the 15th or 16th century, displayed against a plain background. The armor is made of polished metal plates, featuring a helmet with a visor, a breastplate with a central emblem, and a skirt. The armor is shown from the front, highlighting its intricate design and construction.

"Knights ride together, Kimball lives forever!"

If you find one, you will surely find the other not too far behind as Ryan Vaughan and Jessica Sheets are Best Girl Friends.

Kaitlin Przybylski and Josh Nims share the spotlight, as they are both Most Likely To Be Famous.

Having Violet Ikononova and Alan Shaw around will for sure give you something to laugh about, as they are Kimball's Class Clowns.

You could spot Jessica Stanek and Olaolu Oke from a mile away with their Best Bodies.

Don't be shocked if you happen to see Luke Litwinowicz or Antoinette Bode-Higgerson's artwork around in the future as they are voted Most Artistic.

With Laura Hartrick and Dan Farhat around, having a good time is not an option as they share Best Personalities.

One of Josh Nims'06 favorite things about being a Class Officer is using the walkie talkies

The Fantastic FOUR

They are the leaders of Kimball; the final Senior class, 2006. "Being a Senior Class Officer is a huge responsibility," president Collin Webster'06, stated. "It's stressful but a very rewarding feeling," The officers deal with many events including fund-raisers, Powderpuff, All School Picnic, Mock Elections, and the most important, Prom. "One of our main goals is to fund-raise and make Prom cost as low as possible," explained Laura Hartrick'06, Class Secretary. Being an officer is all in all an enjoyable experience. "We get to know the office staff on a personal level as well as knowing what's going on around the school," said our vice president, Benjamin Hatala'06. As fun as this does seem, there are times when the officers had to buckle down and be serious. "Counting all the money can be a real pain. One time, I had to count $4500 in singles!" exclaimed the treasurer, Josh Nims'06. Without this fine group of dedicated seniors, the school year would not have been as successful as it was.

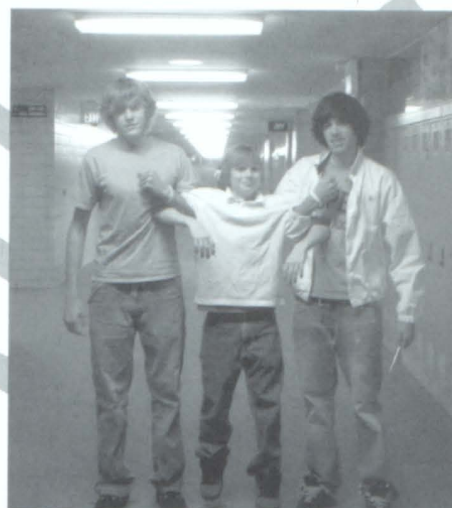

Collin Webster'06, President, works on an important project.

Top: Josh Nims'06, Laura Hartrick'06, Ben Hatala'06, and Collin Webster'06 get to business as they work on their next big project.

Meeting New People

As a freshman you stick with the people you know. You don't really know all of the people you go to school with, let alone be friends with them. As a sophomore you have a chance to meet people you didn't know existed. You meet new friends and keep the old ones.

Some People Can't Get Enough...

Can't get enough of Kimball? Neither can these staff members. Some of them have been on the staff for years, and some, like Mrs. Natke and Mrs. Eischeid, even went here as students. They have all contributed to the outstanding environment at Kimball. But let's not forget the new faces, they make great contributions as well. "I love all of my teachers this year; they make learning a lot of fun," remarked Krista Marck '07. All of the teachers at Kimball are really appreciated. After all, where would we be without them?

The Heart Of KHS

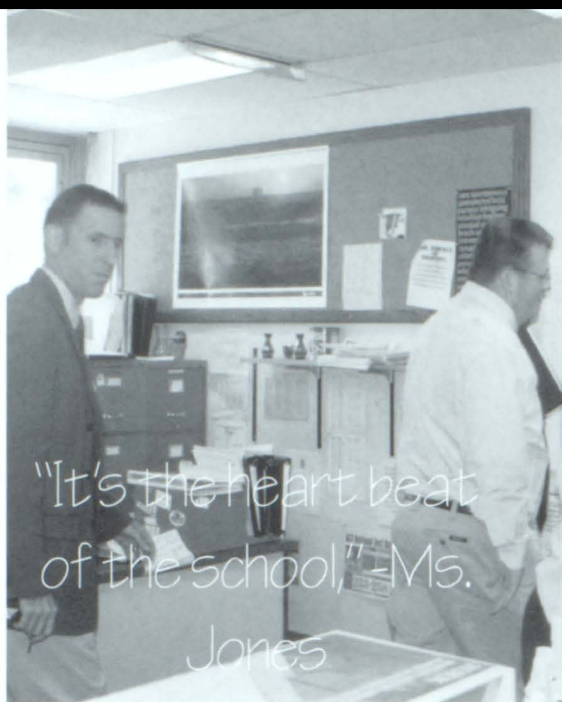

The Main Office is pretty hectic during the year. Whether you're in to speak to one of the principals, check a teacher's mailbox, drop something off at the lost and found, get a parking pass or just to ask a simple question, you will always be greeted with a smile. Samantha Lee '06, the co-op helping out in the office, worked with Mrs. Nelson, secretary to Mr. Neville, Ms. Brown, secretary to Mr. Greening, Ms. Hayes, secretary to Mr. Sturm and Mrs. Shand, bookkeeper, to keep things running smoothly.

The heart of Kimball lies in the back left corner of the main office, Mr. Neville's office. Mr. Neville has been Kimball's principal for 18 years. "It has been a very busy year," commented Mr. Neville on his schedule. Although he worked very hard this year to pass an important School Improvement bond, he always made time for students. "No matter how the day is going I can walk out and be with you guys," he exclaimed. Mr. Neville was very involved and dedicated to our school, the students, especially this year's senior class. Mr. Neville's goals for the year were to continue providing outstanding opportunities for the seniors, to honor out past Alumni while preparing for the 2006-2007 consolidation. No wonder he was recently honored as Principal of the year. He, along with Mr. Eric Sturm, who was honored as the 2005-2006 Assistant Principal of the year, and Mr. Michael Greening keep Kimball in line.

The Heart of it All

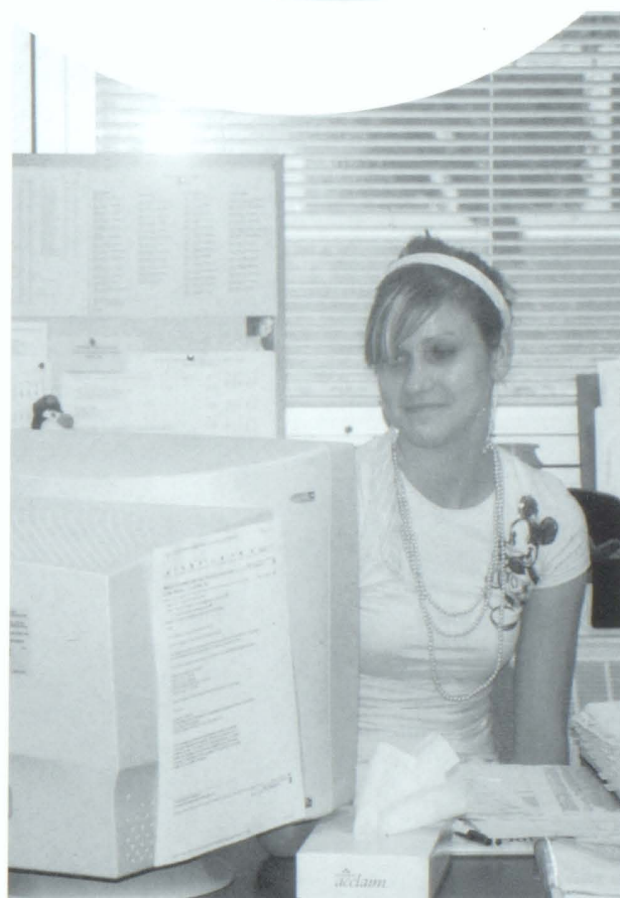

"It's the heartbeat of the school," Ms. Jones was absolutely right when she said this about the Student Service Center. There's everything from attendance to counseling to grades that is taken care of there. No wonder both students and faculty alike love it there.

"I'm learning skills that will help me in the business world and having fun at the same time!" said Lauren Sullivan'O7 excitedly about working in the Student Service Center. You're able to learn everything from record keeping to computer use, which will really help in the future.

"I get to do something other than your boring everyday classwork," said Grace Trumble'O7 fondly about working in the SSC during 6th hour.

"The students get to see how a real office works," stated Mrs. Jones.

As you can see, the SSC is a helpful place for students going into business and one of the most important places in the school.

What Would We Do Without Them?

The Support Staff here at Kimball is a key part of the school. Most students do not appreciate their work and also do not realize the dedication and effort that must be made to keep the school under control. The hall guards watch the hallways to make sure that students get to class on time and do not disturb other students. The custodians keep the halls clean and stay on top of anything that needs to be fixed. The cafeteria staff must make the appropriate amount of food and snacks to ensure that each student will have food at lunch and records.

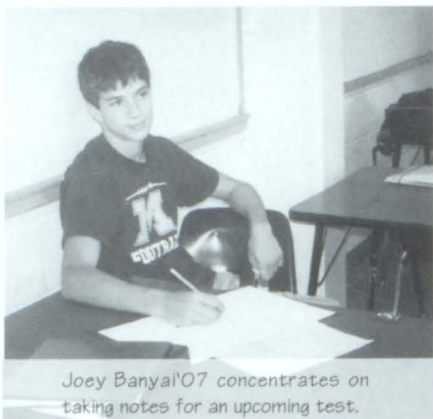

Although the other groups of the support staff are seen around the school, students encounter the hall guards most frequently. Most students say that they dislike hall guards because they are always getting yelled at, but the hall guards are just trying to make sure that everyone is safe and where they should be. "Some students can be difficult, but I like this job the most because most of the kids I have to deal with have a positive attitude and usually listen the first time," Brownie stated. "The hardest part about my job is talking to students who don't respond in a positive matter."

Next year will not be much different for the Support Staff because they are essentially doing the same tasks, just with more students. Brownie said, "It will be hard at first to work together with new students and faculty because we all have to learn new methods and habits. It's going to be like two divorced families coming back together, but hopefully everyone will cooperate and act like we have all been together before."

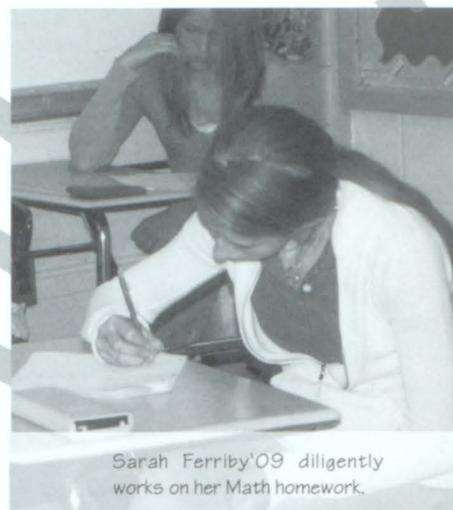

Randy sees good things ahead for the school's future consolidation.

Excellent English

A great English class starts with a great teacher. "I really liked Journalistic Writing and Novel because I had Mrs. Bennett and she is an awesome teacher," exclaimed Tiffany Crowe'06. "Mrs. Mercier is a great teacher. She is fun and tuned-in to her students' needs," Ryan Fox'06 explained. From the teachers' point of view, their favorite English class is determined by the students. "My favorite English class is always determined by the students taking the course, whatever that may be," commented Mrs. O'Leary-Dunn. "This year I'm lucky; I have a lot of fantastic students to work with everyday," she said excitedly.

"Advanced Comp. was one of my favorite classes because I discovered my great writing ability," commented Fox'06. Not only do the students hope to be taught a lot throughout the year, they also have goals. "My goal for the year is to learn how to write a great college essay," said Evan Veit'06. Whether you have taken Senior English or Literature and Composition, the English skills you learned will help for a successful future.

The Last Lancer

The 2005-2006 Lancer staff worked hard this year to make the best Kimball High School yearbook yet. "Our main goal was to emphasize the fact that it's the last Kimball yearbook, and to make it the best yearbook Kimball has seen," editor Sarah Gilchrist'06 stated. Each day, the staff members worked hard to contribute towards the yearbook, working on their own individual spreads. "A typical day in class consists of taking pictures, cropping pictures, and writing stories and quotes for our spreads," Cassie Mitchell'07 said.

The Lancer staff was led by advisor Mrs. Wine, and senior editors, Leigh Richards, Sarah Gilchrist, Sara Spangler, and Chelsey Tanner. "As an editor, we have to make sure spreads are in on time, good pictures are being taken, and everyone is working hard," Spangler'06 commented. "Being on yearbook is great because you get to find out about the clubs we have in the school," Richards'06 stated. "You also get to know people involved in the school," Tanner'06 added. Gilchrist'06 agreed, and added, "When the yearbook comes out and you flip through the pages knowing you were a part of making it, it is very rewarding."

Advisor Mrs. Beverly Wine summed up the process of making the yearbook, "Our goal is always to create the best record of student activities and accomplishments throughout the year." This year's Lancer staff did just that.

Hot Off the Press!

Why is there a newspaper at Kimball High School? Who is in charge of it? Mrs. Bennett is her name, and she's been the advisor of the Herald for 21 years.

"I love it. I adore it. It's so rewarding. It gets kids doing something that could lead to a career," said Bennett, Herald's advisor.

Kimball's 2005-2006 Herald staff put forth its best effort to make Kimball's last Herald, the best.

"Our expectation for The Herald this year was to put out the best, greatest Herald, ever in the history of Kimball High School," said Ryan Fox'06, Editor of Herald.

Fox's expectations were high, but Herald's other Editor, Danny Bryant'06 had even higher expectations, "We're going to make the best paper in Oakland County!" Bryant exclaimed.

Fox and Bryant both agreed that their favorite part of Herald was getting to hang out with their friends and forming new friendships on top of it. Bryant also added, "I loved discussing the latest sports story with Bennett!"

Creative Minds

Xenolith, Kimball's creative arts magazine, is produced by a small group of very creative and talented individuals. "I think it is a great group this year," commented Ms. Eischeid, Xenolith's advisor. "There is a lot of talent and everybody's getting along together." During the first semester, Xenolith is like any English writing class. "We do a LOT of writing," stated Lianna Trimble '07, "and we're always revising each other's papers." However, once the second semester rolls around, the students spend several hours both in and out of class working on the magazine. "Once we start, I'm in the lab at least two hours a day," exclaimed Katie Przybylski '06. "It's a huge time commitment, but it's definitely worth it."

Despite all the work, Xenolith allows for personal creativity. "You're allowed to be an individual in class," remarked Natalie Unsworth '06. The students are given the opportunity to hone their creative skills and learn valuable techniques for the future. As for the actual publishing process, "It's very professional," declared Przybylski '06, who held an editorial position last year. "It's cool being part of something you can control." Ms. Eischeid agreed; "The best part is the chance for students to work on a real publication and have a lot of control on the outcome." All in all, although Xenolith requires a lot of work and time commitment, it is both a fun and rewarding experience. Write on!

Hit the Books

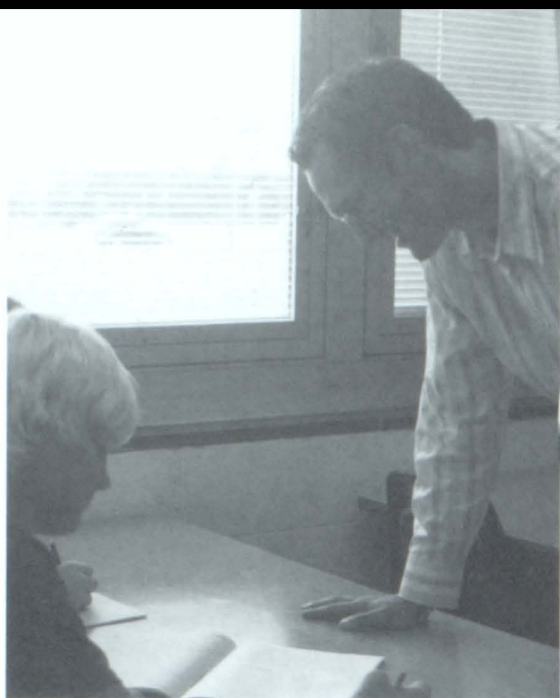

The Media Center is the place to be from 7:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. There are always people zooming in and out of there for different reasons: to check out books or to use the computers or to study. The best part of the Media Center is "being able to come and think because it's quiet," answered Sylvia Grieshaber'08. What's also great about the Media Center is not only that it is "air conditioned" but because "it gives a quick and easy way to get a bunch of resources which is important in studying history," said Mr. Piipo, History teacher. The Media Center also gives students and teachers resources like AV equipment, multiple computers, and a wide assortment of books that are not available in the classroom. Of course if anyone needs anything or any help from the Media Center, "there are knowledgeable Media Center experts," laughed Mr. Piipo.

The Media Center is well on its way to being ready for the consolidation. There is enough room for almost twice the amount of books and computers. However, there are things that need to be done. Mrs. Rosenbaum, Media Center Specialist, is currently "weeding out books" to make room for new ones. "I want many improvements, but the question is: will it happen?" joked Mrs. Rosenbaum. "I want to rearrange the books in a way that will be easier to find them. I also want the computers out of the sun or get blinds for the windows," she explained. "In the morning we really can't see the screen of the computer." By the time the schools consolidate the Media Center will be ready and top notch. But for right now, the Media Center is the place to be. If you need something it's there!

Past, Present, and Future

"The main goal of the Social Studies department is to try and teach as much as we can by teaching the history of everything, not just Social Studies," said Pfeifle. "Social Studies classes are important for students to take because they need to prevent prior mistakes made by the government and citizens, such as The Great Depression, from happening again. Students also need to notice some of the good things that have happened and improve on those events because nothing is ever perfect, so there is always room for improvement."

Pfeifle enjoys teaching history and government classes because he likes to see students understand why certain mistakes, like Watergate, have been made, and also learn about why people do certain things. Although an in-depth knowledge of history may be important, it is not the most important thing obtained after leaving these classes. All of the Social Studies teachers are concerned about the future of their students, more than the actual knowledge that may be obtained in their classes.

Pfeifle proudly stated, "I want to make kids as well-rounded as they can be, and able to carry on intelligent conversations in the future."

Grab Your Passports!

The Foreign Language program here at Kimball High School is extremely fun to be a part of and a great, enjoyable way to learn a new language. This coming summer, the French and Spanish students will be taking a trip to France and Spain for 13 days and visiting ten cities, in hopes of learning more about the French and Spanish cultures and languages. The teachers are excited about going, especially since it will involve visiting new cities and old ones as well. "I look forward to seeing Paris, I haven't been there since 1988," Madame Hern said with compassion in her eyes excited to see the city again. "Also, touring the Loire Valley for the first time." Senora Fetsco is excited about "Going back to Spain for the first time in 20 years, seeing Barcelona and France for the first time and doing it all with my daughters." The trip will allow the students to expand their knowledge of the language and have a good time doing it. Most of the students will have had at least two years in language and will use the knowledge while in France and Spain. "If all goes well, we will go every other year but tour different cities," Hern replied as to maybe taking another trip. Besides the Spanish and French trip, the German students will be continuing their Student Exchange Program next year. Over this past summer, many of the Kimball students went to Germany for a month and lived with a German family. "It was a great experience. It's sad that I won't be able to do it again, since I am graduating," Madison Morton '06 said, remembering her trip. "It was helpful in learning and understanding the language better," commented Elizabeth Grier '06 about her experience. "Hearing the dialect they speak helped me to understand more, and it just made things stick." However, the students not graduating this year will get another chance at going on the trip next year.

Practically Practical Arts!

Between Graphics, CAD, Material Processing, and Child Development, one thing is for sure, the Practical Arts Department opens up a world of opportunity for students' futures.

It's not just a class, it's a career," said Mr. Stinnett, the Graphics teacher. Many students who took Practical Arts classes planned to pursue a related subject for a living. Former Kimball students work all over the world in related fields.

But it's not all serious career-seeking here. Students get to brainstorm, design, and then bring their ideas to life. "You're given the freedom to create," Fjori Narazani '06 said.

It's not only the students who love the classes; the teachers enjoy them, too. "It gives me satisfaction to see the students develop to the point where they're not being taught anymore and they know what they're doing," stated Mr. Surdenik fondly.

"The students are why I've kept coming back for 36 years. I was ready to retire 5 years ago, but the students have kept me here," said Mr. Stinnett. The teachers obviously care about the students they teach.

Getting Physical

"It's important to get a good variety of exercises at least three times a week because of the problems that we face each day with obesity and a lack of exercise in general," Kimball's gym teacher, Mr. Gordon said.

Mr. Gordon's physical education classes focus on a wide variety of activities. Swimming, tennis, football, softball, and soccer are among the popular activities in physical education, but there is one sport that kids like to play most. "Kids seem to get most excited over playing basketball because it is a pretty popular sport and most kids have played it before," explained Mr. Gordon.

Aside from the fact that physical education provides a healthy environment for the students, the kids like to have an hour where they can relax and not worry about other classes and homework. Mr. Gordon remarked, "Most kids chose these classes as electives, so they want to be in here, but there is always something that someone doesn't like doing. Most of all, it gives the kids a chance to run some steam off."

So, if you are looking for a class to get some healthy exercise in and take a break from the rest of your busy day, the Physical Education classes will do the trick!

Hard Work Really Does Pay Off

"The kids are just like any other teen. They have the same likes and dislikes," Ms. Festa stated. "With the same teenage traumas as any of us: homework, friends, and so much more." The students in the Special Education classes seem to have had tons of fun. "Oh wow, we do a lot of stuff!" recalled Ms. Festa in amazement. Activities included games on Fridays if their work is done, swimming, lifting weights, team sports, and various other activities. The annual field trip was the kids' favorite part of the school year. "We go fishing, play with sling shots, and spend the whole day by the lake," described Mr. Potter. As in any relationship, the teachers had as big of a role as the students. Many of the instructors have been teaching for 15 plus years. The rewards of working are the same for the student as well as the teacher. "When you have been working on something for a long time, and it finally clicks, there is so much joy and excitement," Mr. Potter said, his emotions pouring through his words. We all have our difficulties and challenges that face us every day. Over the four years of high school, we learn and grow in numerous of ways. The students of the Special Education program are a fine example of the hurdles one must overcome. Here's to another great year full of progress and knowledge!

A New Spin on Learning

OTECH is a program that keeps kids involved and interested in school. OTECH allows students to concentrate on one subject in a three-hour study block. Classes such as auto-body, auto-tech, visual imaging, agriscience, health, culinary arts, and business management give students a taste of reality.

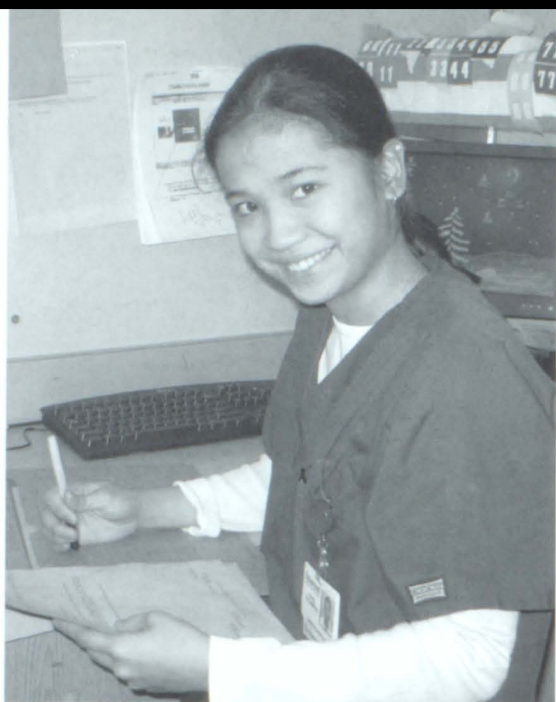

When asked why OTECH is a good program, Mr. Spurgeon replied, "OTECH is good for students because it gives them an early placement in their career pathway, and it makes high school more exciting. Students who are ready to give up on school are able to have a new point of view by working on something that they would want to do with their lives. It's like putting new air in an old ball."

The main reason for OTECH is to train students for the 21st century by allowing them access to state of the art equipment all in one place. After leaving OTECH, students are able to go straight to a job in their career pathway, without having to go to another school. Students really enjoy this program because they are interested in the subject matter and actually look forward to going to a class and learning.

Earning While Learning

"I can get a taste of the job I am interested in before I dedicate myself to eight or even more years of school," explained Sarah Gilchrist'06, who works at the Bloomfield Hills Medical center in the Physical and Occupational Section. The Co-Op program is one of the most beneficial courses in our curriculum. Students gain maturity and confidence as they prepare for real world situations. "We can get a hands-on experience with real life situations," Chelsey Tanner'06 stated. Although working and going to school can be very stressful, it all amounts to helpful training for the real world. Students are placed in different fields, ranging from medical to business. Practicing the different lines of work isn't the only thing that the program teaches the students. Students have to get up early, be on time, and manage all their other activities, as well. Sometimes they may have to sacrifice time with friends. This is why the Co-Op program isn't for everyone. "It's kind of sad that I miss out on a lot of stuff while I'm at my job, such as the senior meetings and other gatherings," stated Chelsey Tanner'06. There are perks, though. As Sarah Gilchrist'06 said, "What could be better? I get paid for going to school and I get school credit."

Move Over Picasso

When we take a minute to look around, we can see that art is used every day. Painting, sculpture and photographs, to name a few media, are found everywhere. Art class is one of the best experiences Kimball offers. "Art keeps your mind open to everyday things, and you need imagination to be creative," said Kathryn Vosburgh'O7. "Art helps because it makes you not afraid to put your ideas on paper," exclaimed Ryan Lannen'O6. The teachers appreciate the art classes, as well. "The most rewarding thing about art is seeing how unique and creative kids are," stated Mrs. Orth. "Art teaches kids how to solve their own problems, by working through an idea and accomplishing a goal. That is the hardest and best thing about art," stated Orth. Art is not just an easy class to pass time but a hard class, too. "There's no right or wrong answer, so it's challenging," stated Vosburgh'O7. Art is a great class to take to stay creative, and not be afraid to use imagination.

It's as Easy as 1-2-3!

We started off by learning to count, and then we soon learned how to multiply and divide. Eventually, variables started appearing in math problems along with negative numbers. Now we're in high school and we're learning how everyday classes are useful in everyday life. When it comes time to decide what you're going to do after high school, will Math be involved?

"As early as the 9th grade I felt that explaining Mathematics was something that I was good at," said Mr. Ewell.

Math teachers at Kimball High School take Math very seriously. They know that once students grow up, and, unfortunately, have to get jobs and pay off bills, they're going to think back to what they learned in high school. "I didn't become a teacher, I am teacher," stated Mrs. Dropiewski.

Building Blocks of Life

Beakers, velocity, cells, solar system, magnitude, evolution, and gravity. These words all have something in common: Science. Kimball students are offered classes from IPES to Physics. "Science ranges from a lot of different things," stated Collin Webster'06. "I liked learning about the body in Biology, since we deal with it everyday."

Many students take Science classes all four years. "I think it is good to take all four years of Science, even though you don't have to. It definitely looks better on your college application," said Daniel Farhat'06.

When asked, Mrs. Booser why she taught Science, she responded by saying that it is a lot of fun and she is always learning new things.

Chemistry and Physics classes both have math in them. "Taking Chemistry increased my math skills," said Farhat.

"Besides helping my math skills, Science has always taught me to be organized," commented Webster.

The Science teachers want their students to learn a lot of things. Mrs. Booser would like all of her students to leave with good problem-solving skills.

Saving Lives for a Living

Have you ever thought of saving a life or helping the world advance in the medical field? Well, medical skills is a perfect class for you. This class is a great opportunity to see if you would be interested going in the medical field. Medical Skills is a fun, hands-on class. "To help the students learn I take them on a lot of field trips," said Mrs. Fry. Some of the field trips Med Skills students go on are: to a funeral home, The Carnegie Institute, and a trip to the hospital. Med Skills also sponsors a bowl-a-thon for cancer research each year. Every year the students raise a lot of money. "My favorite field trip was doing the bowl-a-thon," stated Laura Meagher'O7. "I had fun while raising money for a good cause."

The teachers involve the students in many different activities. The activities range from learning how to properly wash your hands to dissecting an eye. "The coolest thing I did in Med. Skills was dissecting the lamb's eye," said Brandon Klanke'O6.

Students leave this class with a lot of basic knowledge. "This class gives the students a good set of basic skills, both medical and personal, to go into the job market with," commented Mrs. Fry. In Medical Skills students learn how to help people in basically every emergency possible. They even get certified in Red Cross. "I was so excited to be certified in CPR," said Meagher. Medical skills is a great class to take; a fun learning environment with many hands-on activities.

Last Time Around

The Knights of Roundtable definitely have their plates full for Kimball's last year. "Since it's the last year of Kimball, everyone has really big ideas of different things we should be doing. Meeting up to all of the expectations is a really big job on our shoulders," Roundtable president, Devin Hurcomb'06 commented. Roundtable spent the majority of the beginning of the year working on decorations and other plans for the last Kimball Homecoming. "I was really looking forward to seeing how the decorations would turn out for homecoming, and seeing everyone's reactions to them," exclaimed senior representative, Justin Jolley-Vallieres. Homecoming was an even bigger job than usual for Roundtable this year. The group incorporated alumni functions, and did a lot of hard work to invite back former representatives of Kimball and their families. Even though there was a lot of responsibility for the students in Roundtable this year, they were able to pull it all off. "The students in Roundtable are kids who are excited about being in school, and want to make a difference here at Kimball," stated Roundtable advisor, Mr. Decker.

Time to Vocalize

With its recent addition of a third choir, the women's ensemble, the Kimball Vocal Department has been expanding rapidly. "The program is growing by leaps and bounds from the 8th grade on up," commented Mrs. Buffa, the Choral Director. Under her direction, the many talented vocalists have grown and developed their skills through the competitions they attend each year, as well as through the concerts held here at Kimball. During the school year, students have the opportunity to sing many different genres of music, from classical to pop and rock. Emphasis is also placed on music theory and sight-reading, keeping students busy year round. The choir's accompanist, Mrs. Semivan, who has worked here for three years now, finds pleasure in working with the students. "I really enjoy working with this age group," she exclaimed. "And I look at this job as sort of a paid internship because from time to time I use some of the music the students perform here in my own choirs." With such dedicated instructors, it is clear that the Kimball choral program is strong and a great learning environment for developing singers.

Musical Virtuosos

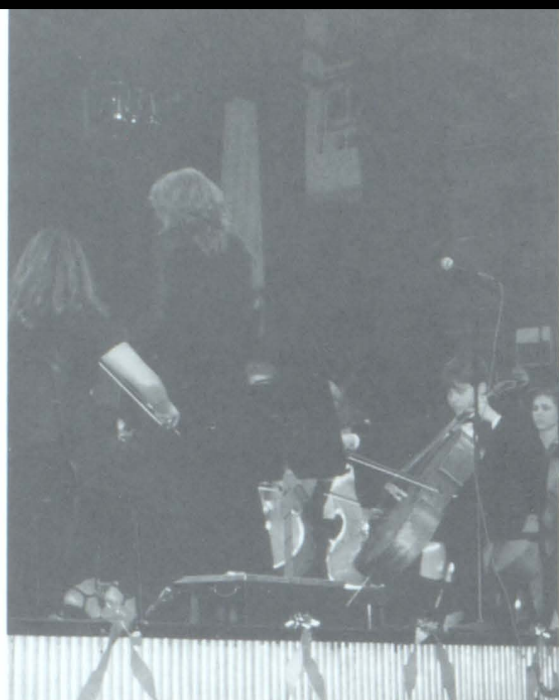

Aside from the three large choirs, the Kimball Choral Department also features three select small groups: Madrigals, Bel Cantos, and Men of Note, each directed by Mrs. Buffa. Each of these groups meets for an hour once a week after school to rehearse for concerts and competitions. The Men of Note and Bel Cantos are two groups made up of all guys and all girls, respectively. "Getting into Men of Note meant a lot to me," explained Max Smith'07, who is one of the 7 members of the Men of Note this year. Both groups perform difficult four part harmonies, usually with 2-3 singers per voice part.

Unlike the Bel Cantos and Men of Note, the Madrigals are a mixed group made up of 12 highly talented individuals: six guys and six girls. They perform a wide variety of songs with anywhere from four to intricate eight-part harmonies. Although it seems like a lot of work, members agree that it is also a lot of fun. "I really enjoy coming to Madrigal rehearsals because I get to spend time with my friends as well as sing different types of songs," replied Justine Horton'06.

This year, all three groups received a rating of straight ones at the Solo & Ensemble District and State Festivals, the highest rating achievable. Needless to say, the singers were thrilled. Congratulations to the talented members of Madrigals, Bel Cantos, and Men of Note!

The Sound of Music

The Orchestra program has always been top notch. Phil Valenti'06, one of this year's officers, boasted "Almost every year for the past 20 years we have received A 1, the highest score possible, at the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association Festival." At the MSBOA festival members of the Orchestra put their best efforts in front of clinicians who grade the performance.

"It's a great opportunity for the Orchestras, because the clinicians, who are actual performers and teachers, help us play better. To receive a high score from such well rounded people really is a huge honor," Nelly Schwartz'06 explained.

The Orchestra also participated in other concerts during the year. There was the Fall concert where the Symphony Orchestra and Choir perform together. Next was the Winter concert in which the Orchestra played Holiday music. Schwartz'06 declared "I love the winter concert. It's cute and fun, and it's not just the Orchestra performing, the audience gets involved and sings carols. We have a lot of fun. Plus since it's around the Holidays, it has a really nice environment." The Orchestra also played for All-City which was when all of the Orchestras, from elementary students to the high school, played together. The last big concert of the year was the Cabaret concert. This concert has candles on the table and food for the audience to eat. The Symphony and Concert orchestras join together to make this concert a special occasion for everyone involved. Valenti '06 explained "Cabaret has always been our best concert. The seniors have a chance to play solos and we get to branch out and have some fun playing different kinds of music. It's also a musical farewell to the seniors." At the end of the concert, the Orchestra officers and the conductor, Ms. Hester Hasheian, share stories and memories from their years together in the Orchestra program. It's an emotional concert but also a lot of fun for everyone involved

As the Symphony takes the stage for their performance in the Winter Concert, the cellos prepare to fill the auditorium with festive Holiday tunes.

All of the students agreed that playing with the Orchestra was not only fun, but a good opportunity to practice their skills.

Bring on the Music

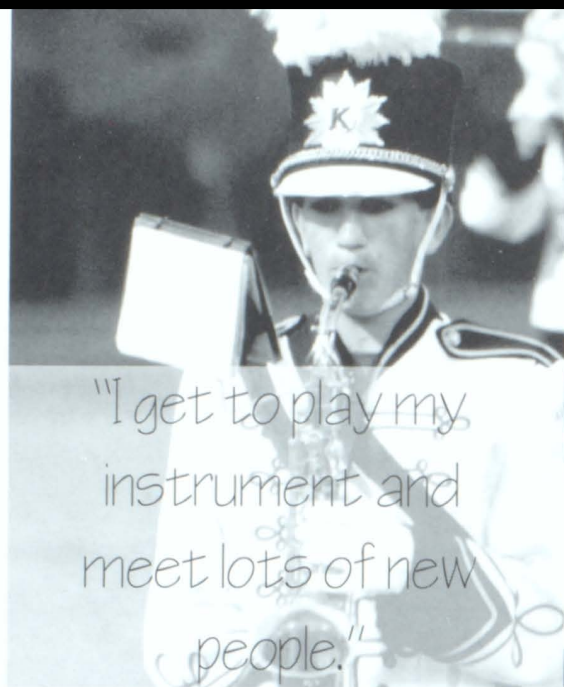

Music is something in life that everyone can relate to, whether it's playing music or listening to music. If you want to know where all that great music comes from at school events and shows, it's from Kimball's Symphony and Concert Bands. These talented bands were directed by Mr. Jensen. Although it was only Mr. Jensen's second year teaching at Kimball, "I've actually been around a long time," Mr. Jensen joked playfully. He had known since the fifth grade that he wanted to be a band director. All the Band/Symphony students were enthused and thrilled by everything that was taught to them. When Evan Abbott '06 was asked to recall his favorite memory, he took a second to think. "The entire experience has been wonderful," Abbot exclaimed. The commitment and dedication of our Band is undoubtedly shown. Just go down to the football field and hear them play, or come at 7:30 A.M. to hear them practicing in the halls or outside. This year brought about many changes to the Symphony/Concert Band players. The Seniors will soon be graduating, and the younger talent will be combined with Dondero's program. Thinking about the consolidation was overwhelming, but the Band pushed that out of their mind to play the best they could this year. "It feels the same as every other year and I love the experience," Elkins '06 remarked. The rest of the class was excited to be gaining new players. "Bring 'em on for one awesome Band," Mr. Jensen chanted. Mr. Jensen had high hopes for the future but will miss his current seniors. "Please flunk so you can stay another year," Mr. Jensen joked. The Concert and Symphony Bands definitely had a year full of progress.

Being at school an extra hour in the morning may not be the activity of choice for some, but that didn't stop Marching Band members. "Marching band is fun! I get to play my instrument and meet lots of new people." Kim Burney'06 stated as she talked about her love for music. Marching Band participated at the football games pumping up the team as well as the fans. The band also attended festivals where they were rated on their talent. It took a lot of patience and time to be a part of the Marching Band. "It's really challenging. I have to concentrate a lot on what I am doing," the hard-working Brittany Ward'07 exclaimed. The long hours of practice that the students endured was tough yet rewarding. Under the direction of Natalie Unsworth'06 and Brittany Ward'07, the Kimball Marching band isn't just any other class. To be a part of this elite group, hard work and dedication was key.

After a tough season last year, the Varsity Football team started out this year with four remarkable wins over Pontiac Northern, Southfield, West Bloomfield and Farmington. "I have a good feeling we are going to make the playoffs. I'd like to win the OAA Division II league," Paul Webb'07 stated excitedly.

This year's team passed for touchdowns and ran the ball without fear, to get Kimball the wins that they needed for motivation during the season. "This year we were definitely more of an actual team. We worked harder. We pushed ourselves harder than ever before, especially in the off-season," stated fullback Joseph Yourchok'07.

Among all the tough matchups that Kimball had during the season, all the players agreed that the hardest matchup was Seaholm. "Seaholm was the hardest game for us this year because they were undefeated," said quarterback Jeffrey Rushton'07.

"I really missed the seniors from last year's team at the start of the season," explained Rushton. However, this year's team did much better. Rushton replied, "We work a lot harder in general and we play with a lot more heart."

The Boys' JV Football team worked hard this season. Practicing every day after school, they improved their football skills significantly. "Practices were tough but I knew I had to work my hardest if I wanted to play on Varsity next year," stated Nicholas Yatooma '08. Their record this year did not show how the boys improved. The time that they put into practicing this year may not have been reflected on the battlefield, but the JV team grew as a whole, and as individual athletes.

"We faced a lot of competition, but we never gave up," commented Jack Schowalter '08, "we worked hard, and had fun as a team." The boys looked forward to playing again next fall, and even possibly advancing to Varsity. Chalk this season up as great experience.

"We are like a family," remarked Lindsey West'06, in referring to the Kimball Girls' Basketball Team. The Girls worked hard and had fun. This past year was a little rough for the girls, though. They had to work around the fact that there were so few players. Fortunately, the girls only saw this as an advantage. This gave the players, a chance to improve greatly. "It's making all the players better individually," explained Amanda Zieldorff'07. The teams small number also allowed the girls to become closer. "There were Saturday morning practices and after that we had a team breakfast," Amanda continued. The girls on the team worked twice as hard and were twice as motivated to get better and win!

There may have been fewer girls on the team, but they were all there to win! Before the season, the team's goal was to beat Andover, their ultimate rival. "The rival team this year is Andover, last year we played them to win the league. We beat them and we were first place and they were second place. This year Andover is more experienced and coming back with a lot of their starters, so it's going to be a tough game," explained Lindsey West'06. Win or lose, this team made its mark on the final season for KHS Girls' Basketball.

The Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball team may not have had the greatest season, but the girls really made the best of it. The girls knew that there is more to the sport than just winning. When asked what the best part about playing basketball was, Katie Rambeau'08, replied, "You make friends you can count on, on and off the court."

The girls spent a lot of time practicing "two hours, at least 5 days a week," added Rambeau'08. Even after all of the practice, the season was not a great turnout. The hardest part about the season was "when we would play our best game and still lose," stated Meagan Haas'09. When coach Brian Sopata was asked about his team this year he said, "I am really lucky to have a great group of girls; they worked hard. Although we didn't win many games, the girls kept working."

"Coming into the season we all had high expectations of what the team could do," stated Robert Przybylski '06. "There were a lot of talented and experienced players that contributed to the team." The Knights were faced with an extremely tough schedule, playing in the OAA Division 1 against some of the best teams in the state. In the beginning of the Varsity Soccer season, the Knights record wasn't exactly what they expected. The team worked hard day in and day out, but would end up tying or losing the game by a mere goal. "The record definitely doesn't give our team justice. We all worked extremely hard every game, but sometimes the ball wouldn't always bounce our way," explained captain Kevin Derda '06. Although the Knights didn't always win, the season wasn't a total failure. Later in the season the coach and players put all minor disagreements aside and pulled together as the team they knew they could be. "One of our greatest features this year is that we have a really strong team bond," stated captain Danny Bryant '06. The boys found what problems they had on the field and worked hard to fix all of them. The work paid off, and the Knights pulled off some astounding victories against such teams as Detroit Country Day, Troy Athens, and our crosstown rival, Dondero. Regardless of the wins and losses, the boys ended their season on a high note finishing off the last year of Kimball soccer.

The 2005 Boys' Junior Varsity Soccer team had its ups and downs this season, but became a better team because of it. The team played a good season, but let a few games slip away. "You win some, you lose some, but we just weren't focused at times," remarked captain Mac Stewart'07. When asked what the expectations were coming into the season, Stewart replied, "My expectations were to work as a team and play together, so we could have a great season. Although our record doesn't show much, there was a lot of talent on the team."

A successful season does not require a great record. It is still possible to be successful if the team learned from their mistakes, so that those same mistakes will not be made in the future. "Each player on the team must show up for practice, work hard, and display dedication everyday. We are all part of the same team, so we must work together and act as a whole to function properly. Once we accomplished that, we had a successful season no matter what," proudly exclaimed another captain, Brian Strzalkowski'07. "I have been playing soccer for 10 years, and it is very fun, but now we are starting to communicate better. That is when the game goes from fun to exciting!"

The Soccer team may have not had the best season, but a lot was learned to improve the team for next year. "Not only have we learned a lot this year, but the combining of the schools will also make the team next year better because there are a lot of good players at both schools, but it will also be challenging to work together with our rivals," stated Kyle Phuner'07.

"It doesn't matter what the outcome of the game is, this sport is always exhilarating!" Stewart added. "The only way we can get better is by learning from our mistakes."

The Boys' Cross Country team here at Kimball is by far one of the best teams to meet people. "Without each other, we wouldn't make it," exclaimed Coach Pippo. The boys on this team go through very hard workouts, and very long meets. The benefits of being on Cross Country can help in many ways because the boys learn to make new friendships and they learn a lot of life lessons. The team's determination has shown each year, and this year has been a success. Beating rivals every meet is a great way to make it to states, as they did last year. "A Cross Country team is like a finely tuned machine that is geared toward the end of the season, not the beginning or middle," said Pippo. "Basically, if you want to be on the most successful team in the school, you should join," confidently stated co-captain Joe Gibson'06. "The best things about cross country are the people, the team, the environment, and we get to run!" happily stated co-captain Mike Grabowski'06. It really doesn't seem that there could be anything better than being on Boys' Cross Country.

The Girls' Cross-Country team had a new beginning this season. Last year, the team only had six girls, making it difficult for them to compete with larger teams. This year, 13 girls came out for the team, and a new competitive spirit arose.

The larger team isn't the only thing the team was excited about. "The best part was all the friendships you made throughout the season," senior captain Chelsea Cleghorn said. For Coach Ewell though, the best part was, "Having kids discover they can do things that they didn't believe were possible, and seeing their excitement when they discover that."

The team worked hard and had fun this season. Coach Ewell summed up the season best, "We want everyone to feel good about themselves and the team, and we want to instill a concept of commitment to the team, and have steady improvement, and if all that adds up to a winning season, that's a plus."

"The season got progressively getting better," commented head coach, Liz Groth. This year's Swim and Dive team worked really hard to improve. The Swim team this year was very young, which left room for improvement. Not only were there new team members, but new coaches as well. "Changing coaches every year has been a challenge, but good experience in many ways, too," Meggan Shell'07 noticed. The team ended up growing close, and got along well. "During swim season we're like a big family; we all get really close, have a lot of fun, and support each other in and out of the water," exclaimed Captain Lexi McCormick'07. The main goal of the team this year was to "challenge the girls to their full potential and have fun while doing so," explained assistant coach, Adam Wolfenburg. All in all, the girls had a successful season.

The Kimball Boys' Varsity Golf team had a fun, exciting season. The team won the majority of its matches, and improved from the previous year. "I'm glad we finished out our last year strong," said Ben Hatala'06 delighted about the team's results. The team was strong thanks to its excellent players and teamwork. "We call ourselves the 'Deep Team,'" Alan Jacobs'06 joked about his teammates. "All of the guys are good friends, and that helped us to be a better team," Hatala'06 said. In addition to great teamwork and friendships, the team was very balanced. "Everybody is about the same at the game, which is a good thing," Jacobs'06 and Glen Edwards'06 replied when asked about the team's talent. But the best part about being on the team "is playing golf for free and getting out of school early for matches," Hatala'06 agreed. Although high school is coming to an end for most of these boys, the sport will stick with them afterwards. "I can't imagine high school without golf," Hatala'06 said thinking about his last year here. Overall, the team had a successful year with five of their players making it to the State Championships.

The Girls' Tennis team worked hard and served up competition for rival schools this year. "We had a really great year," boasted Coach Jankoviak, "The team had amazing spirit and talent."

Elysha Braue '06 agreed with her coach. "We played confidently and had tons of spirit." The team grew in size this year and girls who had not experienced the tennis team before were able to enjoy a season of victory. Victory, the team assured, did not come without hard work. The lady knights practiced hard and worked up their arm muscles hitting the ball back and forth across the court and practicing their serves. All of the girls were up for the work and they all agreed that it paid off. "I love the girls and how dedicated everyone was to the team. It made the year ten times better," Braue said smiling about the growth of the team.

Captain Rachel Haske '06 agreed with her teammate. "We had a really great team this year," Haske explained. "We all had fun on the team and played our hearts out. It doesn't get much better than that." Playing their hearts out worked for the team this year and the team was extremely happy with its success.

"Everyone should know this is the best tennis team Kimball has had a really long time," Braue added proudly. With all of the hard work, talent, and fun that the tennis team had this year, it's no wonder that the girls rose to victory by placing second at the Regional competition held at Kimball. After this season of tennis, the lady knights can proudly say they had a great year on the court.

The Girls' Cheerleading team had yet another great year. Traditionally, the team consists of all girls, but for the last two years, Ryan Dupuis has made an inspiring contribution to the squad. Cheering their hearts out for Kimball for the last time, the team pumped up the crowd at every football game. "Being able to be on the field cheering for the team, keeping up with the games, and getting to know and work with new people is the best part of cheerleading," Jena Timmington '07 stated. Rain or shine, the cheerleading team worked hard every day in practice, and showed their dedication to the Football team at every Friday night game. "Everyday we practice by stretching first, practicing jumps, practicing cheers over and over and discussing upcoming events," Timmington stated. The team worked hard and accomplished its goals. "We were all dedicated and worked hard and we improved a lot from last year," Charlotte Herring '07 said, "We are a lot more precise in our moves and cheers."

The team works hard and plays hard. "We have team bonding, sleepovers, we go bowling and play laser tag, and we also have tailgates before the home football games," Jerrica Lawwill '07 said. "The homecoming halftime is always the highlight of the season," Lawwill added. From practice, to tailgates, to homecoming, the 2005 cheerleaders had a spectacular season.

This year, the Kimball Knights finished the season with a blowout record of 12-9. This was a great improvement compared to the last two seasons which had a disappointing 6-4-1 record. Captain Steve Wagner'06 stated, "We had good leadership, and we knew the time was running out for us and for Kimball. "The team played well and had good chemistry this year," stated captain Josh Nims'06. The team surprised everyone with the courage, desire, and dedication they showed each game. "It was difficult coming into the season, and we started off slow, but midway through we stepped it up and passed people's expectations in the end," Nims'06 said about the team's overall performance. The Knights also had a lot of support from the student fan section, the Sharpe Shooters. "They showed us support, cheered us on, and got us through the good and the bad," Anthony Collier'07 commented about the fans. Next year, the team hopes to improve even more. "I hope the team will move up one or two divisions," stated Collier'07. The performance by the team this year sets the standard for future success.

The Boys' JV Basketball team was full of surprises. For the most part, it was the boys' second year on the team. They knew that they needed to work hard and they did nothing short of that. "We do work hard, but we have a great coach on top of that. He really knows what he is talking about and he keeps it fun for us," explained Ron Wilson '08. The boys were in Division Four, but all the games were really close. "The games got pretty intense, but that made it really fun and exciting," said Joey Banyai '08. The boys' rival this year was Berkley. "It's too bad that we lost against them, but it really was a great game," explained Ron Franck '08. The only thing that the boys didn't like about the team was running a lot during the practices. "The running was bad, but I know that we needed to do it and it made us better," said Ron Wilson '08. "We worked hard and we played hard, but every year I look forward to the basketball season," said Ron Franck '08.

The Boys' Freshman Basketball team was another story. The boys did great through their season. They played every game from beginning to end like it was the last game that they were going to play. "The games were really intense, but when we lost we don't take it too hard. When anyone freaked out about the loss, it just discouraged the team for the next game," said John P. Pickett '09. "Although we didn't take the losses too bad, there were two games against Berkley and Stony Creek that we took pretty hard," said Jamad Bamick '09. The boys pretty much loved everything about the team except one thing. "The practices aren't that bad and the games are awesome, but when people overreact about us losing, it's the worst," said James Englehart '09. In all, the season was successful and the boys learned a lot. They are really looking forward to next year's season.

As in any athletic sport, Cheering requires hard work, and dedication is key. The Royal Oak Competitive Cheer Team was a pure example of that this year. Being a combined team of Kimball and Dondero girls, they had to work extra hard to get together to succeed. There is quite a big difference between sideline cheer and competitive cheer. "Sideline Cheerleaders cheer at football games and the Competitive Cheerleaders had many competitions, performed at the Detroit Lions Thanksgiving Half Time Show, and occasionally at basketball games," stated Ashley DeMatteis '07. At the competitions, there were three rounds of cheerleading. Each consisted of lots of tumbling and stunting.

"It was tough starting the team off with sixteen girls and ending up with ten. We did quite well for what we had to work with," explained Megan McManamy '06. Even though the ladies had a bumpy season, they pulled together in the end. They might not have won first place in every competition, but the dedication, friendships, and motivation will continue throughout their days.

These girls danced their hearts out at each and every home football game, and always had smiles on their faces. "The best thing about dancing at halftime was how excited the school was, and how much the crowd got into watching," excitedly exclaimed Sydney Watts'08. The nine-month season is one of the longest, so each girl got to know the other members inside and out. "There was never any gossip about each other because we all got to know each other so well, and when one person was down, we all were," said Sydney Watts'08. "Dance Team made me learn many different skills that I wouldn't normally, and it got me further training in the sport I love," stated Anna Taub'07. "Being able to have so many good friends with a common interest is my favorite thing about dance team," said Ryan Vaughan'06. The girls loved their sport and enjoyed every second of it.

From the granby, turk, gilatine, spladal, and so many more crazy wrestling moves, the sport can become complicated. The meets and tournaments lasted hours but usually came out promising. "Our tournaments are so long; they're really stressful, but it was a great year," explained Brandon Klanke '06. With all the underclassmen with such great talent, next year's team has a lot of potential.

The Girls' Volleyball season is tough and grueling, but somehow it's the girls' favorite time of year. They hate the practices but they love them all at the same time. Sophomore Jennifer Pierce said, "The practices are rough, but I get to hang out with my friends; we suffer together." The hard work that the girls do, definitely pays off. "We are on a 3-0 winning streak," said Maya Veit'08. "Although the practices are brutal and exhausting, they do have their good parts." The girls work hard, but they play hard. The best part about Volleyball is the tournaments and the games. "When we play games, all the hard work that we do pays off, and we get to hang out with our friends and eat food," laughed Maya Veit'08. The girls got along really well and they had their chances to bond. "Sometimes we have team breakfasts before early practices which are fun, but we girls really get along during the Varsity games, while we watch," said Megan Robb'09. The Royal Oak Gymnastics team showed strength and triumphed by working the hardest they could this season. The confidence filled the gyms as they competed each week against rival schools. The girls did stay strong through their losses, and always cheered each other on with large smiles on their faces. "We stay so close throughout everything, even when someone doesn't do as well as they wanted," stated Hanna Leestma'06.

The girls were led by co-captains Hanna Leestma'06, Jessica Stanek'06 and Jamie Skewes'06. Through their hard competitions against some very accomplished teams, the girls did not do as well as they hoped for this season. They accomplished a record of 5 and 7, and received second place in the league. "Cheering for our team also helped during the meets because it made us not as nervous, and helped us come up with a close score to the other team," commented Laura Yarmy'07.

This team was one the closest teams. The holiday parties and team sleepovers made the camaraderie between the girls very strong. "I loved being on the team because I got to know the girls so well, and it was nice to know older people in the hallway," excitedly said Marie Kantarian'08. Welcoming new girls on the team was the best part for these girls. "This team made this year so much easier for me, because I knew so many people, and seeing the girls smile to me at school made the day so much better," exclaimed Mary Lehr'09. "He shoots, he scores!" The Royal Oak Blades Hockey team had an outstanding season this year. Their hardest obstacle to overcome was the lack of players, especially for the Junior Varsity team. They didn't let this stop them though; the team worked their hardest and ended up successful. The hockey team had a special bond from the beginning. They all became really close right away during conditioning. "This season was great," commented Justin Jolley-Vallieres'06, I couldn't have picked better teammates." The team had to work very hard, but they made sure to have a skillful competition at the same time. Boys' Swimming and Diving had a great season. By the end of the season, it was obvious how hard the boys worked. "The hard training paid off, and we took home the league title," stated Eric Heppner'07.

The boys won the league with 687 points. The closest team had around 420 points. "They didn't have a chance," stated Christopher Woelk'06.

Eric Heppner and William Brunetti went All League in the 400 relay and set a new league meet record. Captain Alex Donnelly'06, Eric Heppner'07, Nathan Krafft'08, and Brandon Govan'08 went all league in the Medley Relay.

Many of the boys attended States for free-style, breast stroke, 200 individual medley, 400 free relay, and 100 yard back stroke.

After winning the OAA Championship, the boys had a second chance meet. "If you didn't do as well as you wanted to at finals, then you had an opportunity to swim your personal best," said Chris Woelk'06.

Coach Darren Millar gives the boys an intense pep-talk to help them win the meet.

William Brunetti'07 strives to get to the finish line.

"We had a lot of strong seniors on last year's team," stated Joseph Yourchock'07. The Varsity Baseball team was loaded with talent in 2005, but then faced the question of which players could step up. The one thing that made the season toughest for the players was the fact that a lot of the kids on the team played the same position. "We had to switch people around a lot, and it was pretty hard on the team since kids had to play positions that they weren't used to playing," said Yourchock.

A special perk for the Baseball team was the annual Spring Training trip. Mr. Scott Kapla and Mr. Brian Gordon took the team to Florida. "We didn't play against any other teams, but we scrimmaged against ourselves at the practice complex in Disney World where the Atlanta Braves play," explained Alexander Streetman'07, who got to travel with the Varsity team for this occasion.

Spending time together before and during the games, the team bonded "The down time in the dugouts and going to the games on the bus were a lot of fun. We really got a chance to know the kids on the team better and become better friends with them," Yourchock responded.

Playing it rough in the dirt and wind has really toughened these guys up. The Boys Baseball program has had a tough and challenging season. The Boys JV Baseball team had a record of 13-12 in Division 1. It was hard work to come out with a winning record. "We had a losing streak about halfway through the season, but we bounced back and ended up with a winning record," Mike Murray '08 stated about their record. Although it was hard work, the guys learned a lot for next season. Romie Franek '08 stated that he, "learned a lot about outfielding, something I hadn't done at all previously." They hope their new knowledge will help them to make Varsity next season and to keep up the great work.

The Boys Freshman Baseball team had an outstanding record of 14-4. These newcomers worked hard and finished out the season on top. These boys gained valuable lessons out of the team and many hope to make JV or Varsity next season. Jack Schowalter '08 stated, "I gained confidence from this season, and I hope to make Varsity next season." Scott Lloyd '08 commented, "I gained a lot more confidence and respect for everyone on the team. I hope to make Varsity next year if I work hard in the off season." The team had great teamwork and good friendships. Lloyd '08 stated that the best part about the team was, "One, our amazing coach Mr. George. Second, the fact that we were all good friends, and third we were champions!" With the players we have, the next season should be another winning one.

Last spring, the Girls' Varsity Softball team worked hard. With their record of 15-21, the girls didn't do as well as they wanted, but they enjoyed the season. "Being on a team where you can make new friends doing the sport you love is such a great feeling," stated Hanna Leestma '06. The girls pulled together to win as many games as they possibly could. "Probably the hardest tournament was the one in Birch Run. We had some hard games against the other teams, but we all helped each other," said Brittney Boldiszar '07. "Softball is good to join because you get to have fun and hang out with cool people. The worst part about it is playing in the cold!" exclaimed Leestma '06. Although the season wasn't great, the girls had a lot of fun playing the sport they love.

"Swing, batta batta, swing!" The JV Softball team showed good signs for a promising Varsity team in the years to come. As in any sporting activity, this group of girls is a fine example of leadership and teamwork. Unlike an individual sport where players compete against themselves, the softball teams rely on each other to complete their winning goals. "The girls I played with were one of a kind and each of them made the season unforgettable!" exclaimed Kelly Augsburger'07. It goes without saying that a good team starts with a good attitude. "Our record might not have been the best, but we always seemed to keep our chins up," Jena Timmington'07 stated. With so many positions to choose from, the game of softball can become a little confusing. "As long as you stay focused, it isn't that hard to understand," Timmington'07 explained. The love of the game kept the girls going day in and day out. "We all learned a lot from each other and were very supportive of one another," one of the captains, Augsburger'07 said. Jessica Griffin'07 and Kelly Augsburger'07 were the team captains. It was their job to keep the team motivated. The game just wouldn't be the same without the hard work and dedication of its players.

The 2005 Girls' Varsity Soccer team had another great season. Though they lost several strong seniors from the past season, new girls stepped up to fill their shoes. "It was a big transition at the beginning of the season to try and work together as a team, but we pulled through and became really close in the process," Jessica Watton'06 stated.

The team worked hard at practice every day to prepare themselves for the games. "Our practices were tough but when we worked hard it showed on the field," Claire Horton'08 said. "We also had team dinners to look forward to after practice," Jenny Pierce'08 added.

Along with trying to fill the shoes of past teammates, the team also battled several injuries. "At one point we had five girls injured," Mandie Pingle'06 stated.

Despite a slow start, and many injuries to overcome, the team finished out the season on top, even beating an undefeated Stoney Creek team, and the girls had fun along the way.

The Girls' JV Soccer team worked really hard during last year's season. "We had a winning streak," explained Kayla Kremer'07. "It was really exciting." The final record of the season was 10-4-1. "The best game of the season was against Seaholm because we didn't really think that we would win," stated McKenzie Johnston'07. "We ended up pulling through and our team did awesome!" Johnston'07 continued.

Although there were a few injuries, the JV team remained strong. "We all got along and had fun together at every game," Johnston'07 stated. Leading the JV team were Kayla Kremer'07, Alyssa Andrews'07 and Chantal Chinn'07. The team also welcomed a new coach this year, Jason McClelland. The girls ended with a great season, hard work and dedication sure paid off in the end.

The Freshman girls also worked hard and had a great season. "The season was a lot of fun," commented Mary Davidson'08. The team ended up finishing strong.

After a great win the team gathers around Coach McClelland.

Girls' Varsity Golf, which was coached by Vince Canuso, did great this year and ended the season with a record of 6-4. The girls had a fun season and they also did fundraisers to get more money to get better uniforms and personalized sweatshirts. "The season was a lot of fun and all of the girls played well. We became a close team," stated coach Canuso. The team had many goals for their season, such as beating Seaholm, win more then they loose, finish in the top half of the league, play well together, have fun, treat each other with respect, win all league matches, stay on task at practice, place well in all tournaments, do their best, and make a lot of historical moments. The team ended up achieving most of their goals, and they beat their rival Seaholm. From one match to another, the team bonded as the girls worked together everyday. There were only a few girls, but despite the size of the team, they had a great season.

The Boys' Varsity Tennis team had a special kind of bond. Even though the team didn't have one superstar, the boys learned from each other, encouraging and leading one another to higher skill levels. "There was a great camaraderie on the team," explained Ryan Fox'06, second year player. "Everyone plays off each other to improve their game." Even though the sport of tennis is known as a gentleman's game, these boys always practiced and played with great passion and intensity. "Weather provided, we would practice hard every day there wasn't a match," stated head coach Paul Surdenick. The overall season was a positive experience. Coach Surdenick's main focus was to strive for the best, but have fun along the way.

Not only did the boys end up with victories, but each player had a certain aspect that helped out the team throughout the season. With the help and guidance of Coach Greg Castle, everyone remained focused on what needed to be done. Although Coach Castle was strict and demanding at times, he brought a sense of joy to the team with his sense of humor. For some Varsity players, who played their last year of tennis at Kimball, they can continue playing all their life. Tennis is really a life-long sport that can be played at all physical and ability levels.

The Boys' Track team had a great time on and off the track last year. Each member of the team shared laughs during practices and meets but also understood how important practicing was.

"The team wasn't all fun and games," Alex Green '08 explained, "we all knew when it was time to get down to work and when we could just joke around and have fun."

With the practices ranging from an hour and a half to two hours and running 5-8 miles per day, Mike Grabowski '06 couldn't help agreeing with his teammate, "The hardest part of being on the team was making it through the workouts."

Even with all the strenuous workouts and up to five hour long meets, the boys still insisted that the team really was a lot of fun. "I liked how close the team was," Michael Prus '06 stated.

Joe Gibson '06, and Grabowski also had no problem sharing nice things about the team. "It's a great environment!" Grabowski shared while Gibson added "We're a close knit team every year but last year was the best year so far."

Track also enjoys inside jokes that they are happy to share with each other but if you aren't on the team you probably wouldn't understand what they were talking about. "We had a great group of people, everyone was a lot of fun, we couldn't help cracking jokes all the time," explained David Veselenak.

In the end, the whole team agreed it was a great year for the Boys' Track team.

Before a meet, the girls warmed up. They ran at an easy pace for about a half mile, stretched, and ran again. "Since we were already on the track, running for the warm up was most practical," said the Girls' Track coach, Mr. Ewell.

Ewell has been coaching Track and Field since the early 1970s when he was asked by a first year track coach at Kimball to help coach Springs and Jumps.

"I like meeting new people and being involved. I also LOVE to race," commented Laura Yarmy'07

Competition, friendship, skills and fun all mixed together produced the lacrosse team. The number of lacrosse players increased this year, as the team was open to students from both Kimball and Dondora High Schools. Many boys joined because of the outdoors, the competition and the game itself. This team was founded and coached by Coach Powers. After winter sports passed, the group began getting in shape by attending meetings and practices designed to teach the boys skills and strategies.

The team practiced often to improve its skills and push the teammates hard towards winning. "Playing lacrosse is fun because I get to enjoy the sport and also have fun hanging out with my friends," said Justin Jolley '06. Many players enjoyed the fact that they got to hang out with friends as well as fit exercise into their schedules.

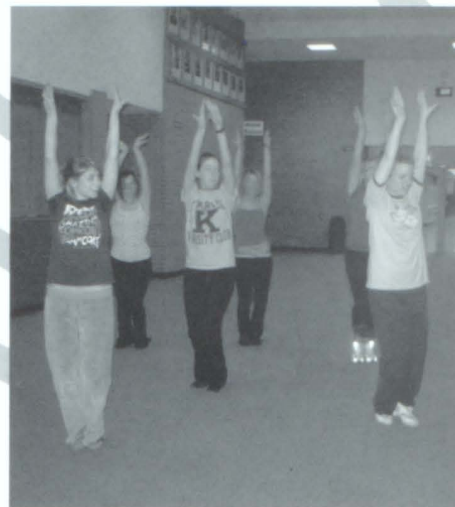

Over the years, the team has improved as they competed with other teams in the county. "Lacrosse is fun, but it is also a lot of work. Mr. Powers is a great coach because he is always constantly improving our team and making sure we are doing the best we can do," said Christopher Hendrickson '06. The team continues to build membership while it enjoys its time together and practices getting stronger.

Looking to the Future

Four of the officers, Andrew Webb, Collin Webster, Jeffrey Kline and Amalia Dunlap stand and speak of the fine qualities the NHS members possess.

The last and final year of Kimball's National Honor Society was a memorable one. This year's NHS was led by senior officers; Andrew Webb, Collin Webster, Jeffrey Kline, Amalia Dunlap and Natalie Unsworth and advisors, Mrs. Ochoa and Mrs. Orth. The members met once a month to discuss upcoming activities, such as tutoring other students at Kimball High School. "It's a good opportunity for students who are struggling with their classes to get extra help," agreed Liz Grier'06 and Bethany Evans'06. The NHS members also gave their time by going shopping at Christmas for presents for a family in need. NHS members helped out in the bookstore at the semester and the end of the year. "I shelved lots of books," said Nelly Schwartz. "They needed volunteers and I was glad to help out."

New members were welcomed at the Induction Ceremony, where they obtained their membership certificates and took part in the passing of the symbolic flame. The officers spoke of the importance of qualities such as leadership, character, service and scholarship, to the recently inducted members. Although the years of Kimball High School will be coming to a close, the legacy of NHS will live on for years to come.

Varsity Club is one of the most popular ways to get involved at school. The club has many goals including getting involved with Community Service projects and raising money for Potter's Kids. "I wanted to help out my school and community," said Caitlin O'Leary.

The purpose of Varsity club is "To raise money and school spirit throughout the school," stated Alyssa Iannello '06. She also said that "Knowing you're helping the school" was the best part of the club.

The one major goal of Varsity Club was to raise money for Potter's Kids, to help them go to the Special Olympics. "We sold food at sporting events to make money for Potter's Kids," Leigh Richards '06 stated.

The last large activity done at the end of every year was camp. Kids could gain service points by going to meetings and participating in activities. If students had enough points at the end of the year, then they got to go to camp. When asked about the best part of Varsity Club, Officer Leigh Richards '06 was quick to exclaim "Camp of course!" This year the club was lead my Paul Engleberts and officers Leigh Richards '06, Devin Hurcomb '06, Rachel Haskee '06, Alexandra Steiner '06, Benjamin Hatala '06, Courtney Doman '06, and Lauren Sumner '06.

The 2005-2006 Kimball Dance Company made the last Kimball Dance Company Show a memorable one. Tryouts took place in September for new members and practices began in January. Every Monday, Wednesday, and some Saturdays this group of girls rehearsed their numbers for the big show in May. With only a few months to prepare, they worked hard every minute of practice to create the best Dance Company Show Kimball has ever seen.

This year's Dance Company was led by advisor Jenny LoDuca and four officers: Ryan Vaughan'06, Ida Lowback'06, Courtney Doman'06, and Amelia Zubeck'06. "We worked extremely hard to prepare our numbers and I think all of our hard work paid off," Doman stated.

As the last Dance Company show for Kimball, the company incorporated dance numbers from previous shows to remember the great dance shows Kimball has produced. "It gets stressful at times to remember all of the dances, but it is all worth it in the end when we get to perform and show everyone how hard we have worked," junior member Cassie Mitchell stated. Kimball Dance Company went out with a bang, and now they are looking forward to a new beginning for Dance Company next year.

Students Against Destructive Decisions (S.A.D.D.) is a club at Kimball High School that meets every other Friday in room 112 (Mr. Pfeifle's room). At meetings, students plan and organize for future events.

What does S.A.D.D. do? "We adopted John L. King Elementary School from Detroit and bought Christmas presents for kids whose families could not afford gifts," stated Mr. Pfeifle.

The objective for S.A.D.D. this year was to inform students of the importance in making the right decisions and discussing the consequences if they don't. Also, S.A.D.D. wanted to prevent the use of alcohol and drugs among students.

"The greatest feeling is when we're down in Detroit and the kids are so excited and grateful to get presents when it seems like a small gesture to us. It's really moving," commented Mr. Bowker.

Can you see a future without SEA? SEA stands for Students for Environmental Action. The students in SEA care about the environment, and want to get their ideas out to the rest of Kimball as well as the community. "Our main way of getting the rest of Kimball involved is through tweaking the recycling efforts; we have a recycling bin in each classroom," explained SEA president, Heather Macdonald'06. SEA does all different kinds of fund-raisers and projects, such as selling notebooks made from recycled paper, and organizing neighborhood cleanups. This year, member came up with a new idea: to promote compact fluorescent light bulbs. These light bulbs give out just as much light as regular light bulbs, but at the same, time reduce energy consumption, which makes them better for the environment. "I think the new fund-raiser is really cool, and will be fun to sell. I plan on changing all the light bulbs in my house," exclaimed Jenna Cortis'07. SEA members were involved in a good cause, and they had fun while helping the environment. Advisor, Mr. Roeder, summed it up by saying, "SEA is a really huge task to take on. Raising awareness and getting people involved is really important. So much is at stake with the environment; we can't afford to be complacent."

"Food brings people together!" announced Laura Hartrick'06, in regards to International Club. If you're the type of person who is looking for a chance to meet new people over a good meal, then International Club is the place for you. International Club has been all over the world...not literally, but they have gotten a little taste of many different cultures. Members have eaten Italian, Mexican, Spanish, Cuban and Thai food, to name a few meals. Cassie Mitchell'07 stated, "There is something about friends and food that's just so awesome and sharing dinners with International Club members is the best!"

One of the most memorable moments from International Club was the visit to Sangria. "While there [at Sangria] we saw a Flamenco guitarist and a Flamenco dancer perform and then several members of the club, along with other patrons of Sangria, went on stage, learned some "moves." and performed along with the guitarist and dancers," recalled Mrs. Fetsco, International club sponsor.

International Club members enjoyed the learning experience, but Mrs. Fetsco's motto summed it up best: "Eat, drink, and be merry for tomorrow we may die...or diet," joked Mrs. Fetsco.

Searching for local talent? Well, look no further. Kimball's Drama club is home to many talented performers and technicians. From acting on stage to working behind the scenes, students are heavily involved in all aspects of theatre. With the direction of Mr. Kaufman, former Michigan Drama Teacher of the Year, the group produced multiple outstanding productions. "We are doing very well - I feel that the caliber of the performances we are providing are at our best," stated Jeff Kline'06, one of this year's officers.

Kimball's Drama club had a very diverse array of people. "This club is in no way restricted to any certain group," exclaimed Katie Przybylski'06, the club's president. "I've become friends with people from this club that I probably wouldn't have met otherwise." Through participation in the club, members developed wonderful friends and memories. In addition, students learned valuable lessons for the future. "It's a great place to gain confidence in front of people," commented Andy Webb'06.

So, what's the best part? "That's hard," replied Przybylski'06. "I would have to say (1) meeting new people, and (2) seeing a show finally come together after months and months of work. It's truly exhilarating!"

"We invested a lot of time and effort in this production to make it phenomenal, and it paid off."

The Kimball Drama Club put on a stellar performance with the fall musical production of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. "I was really excited when I got cast as a lead in my first show at Kimball," exclaimed Caitlin Webster'09, who was cast as one of the four narrators. Over the course of the next few months, the cast spent time learning blocking, vocals, and choreography. "We invested a lot of time and effort in this production to make it phenomenal, and it paid off," explained Brittany Ward'07. But although it was a lot of work, they had lots of fun during rehearsals, as well. "It was gratifying to be one of Joseph's brothers because we got to beat him up and throw him in a pit," replied Wes Pomroy'06 laughingly. Jonny Rostamabadi'07, who played Joseph, also found it enjoyable; "Working with the Royal Oak Children's Choir was a fun and rewarding experience," he commented. And a rewarding experience it truly was, as the show was greeted with three sold-out houses and three standing ovations. Congratulations Kimball Drama Club!

A Memory to Last a Lifetime

The awards ceremony for the National Performing Arts Competition was held at Planet Hollywood, Orlando.

On Friday, December 2nd 2005, 42 students, one drama director, and several chaperones set off in the early morning for Florida. They were en route to a National Performing Arts competition to be held at Disney World. After arriving, the group spent the first day at MGM studios, enjoying the attractions and each others company. "It was honestly one of the best vacations I've ever been on," exclaimed Katie Przybylski'06. "The general mood of the whole festival was so positive; such a fun place to be at." The following morning, the students presented their show to the judges. "The competition was extremely nerve-racking because we were first and so many things were changed last minute," stated Mr. Kaufman, "But it was also fun to see the Drama club perform under pressure." Afterwards, the students attended acting and crew workshops, and worked with three different professionals. The rest of the day was spent in the Magic Kingdom, having a grand ol' time. Sunday morning, the group went to the awards ceremony held at Planet Hollywood Orlando, where the Kimball Drama Club was pronounced National Champions. Later that day, they performed in the Galaxy Theater in the Magic Kingdom in front of a live Disney audience. "The opportunity to work with professionals as well as perform as National Champs on a Disney stage was simply breathtaking and overall a truly magical experience," commented an enthusiastic Jonny Rostamabadi'07, who played Joseph. Monday, the group spent the greater portion of the day in Disney's Animal Kingdom, until it was time to depart for home. Upon arrival, the Drama club was greeted by a welcoming committee composed of all the students' parents. "As a whole, it was so much fun, and we got to meet so many people - it was very different in comparison to the competition we usually go to. It was simply amazing to see so much talent in one place," replied Amanda Ewing'07.

Many students devoted their Monday afternoons to help students at Oakridge Elementary with their homework. The Tutoring Knights spent many hours helping the younger students. They did not just help with homework, but they also set a great example for the kids on how to succeed in the future. Tutoring Knights helped the elementary students create good work and study habits for their years to come. "I like Tutoring Knights because it makes me feel smarter than someone, and plus I like helping the kids out," Chad Stennett'O7 said when asked why he was involved with Tutoring Knights.

Tutoring Knights was an open opportunity for students of all grades to get involved with Kimball and other schools. The students enjoyed being able to help out the younger kids; it made them feel like they were doing something important. "It makes me feel good," stated Nate Tylanda'O7, "I can see their improvement, they are becoming more dependent on themselves. They don't have to ask as many questions." The Tutoring Knights had another successful year.

When asked why she enjoys Campus Life, Jessica Stanek'06 replied, "Because it's fun and puts you in a good mood." The 2005-2006 Mentor Mentee program made some changes. The program's goal was still the same: "Help to guide the freshmen through their first year of high school and allow them to voice any concerns," stated mentor leader Nelly Schwartz'06. The changes included having larger groups led by one to three mentors and holding meetings in classrooms instead of in the cafeteria. The meetings were a little more frequent than last year as well. Instead of meeting once a month, the meetings occurred twice to three times a month.

The freshmen liked the program for its role models, the mentors, and their willingness to help. "I like my mentors because they're very nice and they can always help us out, not only with homework but with personal problems, too," stated Amanda DeVera'09. Many of the freshmen looked forward to becoming mentors for Royal Oak High School when they are juniors and seniors, to pass on their knowledge and kindness to other freshmen. Amanda DeVera'09 stated, "The mentors encouraged us to do good things and to get involved in school, and I'd like to pass that advice on to freshmen when I'm a junior or senior." The program had a very good effect on the freshmen and it will continue that way for all future freshmen of Royal Oak High School.

The Kimball High School Peer Mediation Program has been running strong for about five years. The peer mediators of this program really enjoy their job, and they think that being a part of peer mediation is good for all high school students. "Many students feel more comfortable talking to students their own age rather than adults who can't relate," stated Jonathan Rostamabadi'O7.

Peer mediation is a program that was started to assist students in conflict. Whether the problem was with another student, a teacher or at home, students helped students cope. Sometimes students needed help in finding ways to solve problems themselves, and not always have someone else solve their problems for them. Mediators held many fund-raisers throughout the year, and were always looking for ways to advertise the program all over the school.

"During mediations, we get both sides of the story, then figure out a compromise between both people," exclaimed Ryan Dawley'O6. Students can join peer mediation by talking to a counselor or signing up in the Student Service Center.

Some of the smartest and brightest students at Kimball met for an hour after school every Tuesday this year to discuss their strategies and prepare for upcoming Quiz Bowl tournaments.

Quiz Bowl is a Jeopardy-like competition, where students meet to answer questions about virtually anything, but mainly just the core subjects. From science to pop culture, the questions couldn't stump the team, which was prepared for any challenge. At each tournament, four students worked together to answer as many questions in two timed halves as possible.

The dedication and effort from the students really paid off. The Quiz Bowl team qualified for the State Championship at MSU, which took place in April. They were one of only 50 schools in the state to make it, and were the best team in Class A, beating U of D and Heartland in a tournament to make it to States.

"This team had a lot of experience because of all of the veteran members, so we all had high expectations this year. It surprised us to make it to the State Championship because we knew we were a good team, but we never knew we were that good," stated coach Pfeifle.

The students worked hard at every practice, becoming one of the best Quiz Bowl teams that Kimball has ever had.

You are admitted if you excel in math throughout your high school career and show an interest in math," explained Larry Dunlap'O7.

The reason that Mu Alpha Theta is so exciting is because it combines fun games with math which equals a blast! "You do various activities that expand your knowledge of math or test what you already know, such as watch movies and playing jeopardy. . And of course you get doughnuts and bagels," explained officer Nelly Schwartz'O6. It's a nice and relaxing way to enjoy math.

Mu Alpha Theta is new but is has made a grand entrance. It already has about sixty members and you could be the next one!

The Music Recording Club, also known as the MRC, is relatively new to Kimball. Regardless, it has developed into a widely functional club. "Members collaborate every Friday to promote the club and learn how to use recording equipment," replied Alex Passarelli'O7, the head of the MRC. Students are actively involved in recording music as well as all the processes that go on behind the scenes. They learn how to work with and manipulate professional recording equipment. "You get to learn a skill you can actually use outside of school," declared Mr. Dietiker, the club's advisor. "The program we work with is used by most professional recording studios."

The Music Recording Club is composed of a very diverse group of students. "This is probably the most diverse club in the school," stated Mr. Dietiker. "We have students of all grades and ages, each having their own unique musical styles." Members have all sorts of backgrounds; from experienced singers and recorders to beginners - those new to the scene. "Some kids are there to learn how to record," commented Passarelli'O7, "And some are there to record their own music." In addition to the regular activities, the MRC has participated in assisting school functions, such as the Drama Club productions, as well as hosting other events.

They stress that diversity is what makes the United States strong and should also be a part of what can strengthen Kimball High School. The meetings focus on key features such as trust, teamwork, cooperation, and understanding each other with open minds.

Since the club has been at Kimball, it has brought a sense of awareness to the school as a whole. Annually, more students are participating in the Day of Silence, which is a student-led protest against discrimination and harassment. "With the upcoming consolidation of schools, it is entirely up to the students to keep the club going," stated club sponsor, Mr. Robbins.

Maria Ahmed'06 gets started on her work for the day.

A fairly new club to Kimball, the Knit and Crochet Club gives kids a chance to relax and learn to either knit or crochet. The club was started last year when Mrs. Mercier asked students if they would be interested in such a club, and people were enthusiastic about the idea. "I'd like everyone to just relax, have fun, and learn something by coming to the club meetings," said the club advisor, Mrs. Mercier.

Anyone can join the club as long as they have a "willingness to learn," stated Mrs. Mercier. Meeting every Thursday after school, the Knit and Crochet Club focuses on making personal projects as well as projects for the community. "This year the kids are working on their own projects so far, but last year we made more things for charity," explained Mrs. Mercier.

The members of the club would like to focus on making more gifts for charity, but they also enjoy making things for themselves. Kids often create pieces for birthday and Christmas gifts. The class worked on a certain piece in specific that is especially unique, since each club member created a square of the blanket made for the Salvation Army. "We have an Afghan that we have been working on for a while that we are eventually giving to the Salvation Army," Jacob Mangum'07 stated with excitement.

Royal Oak's award winning national robotics team, Team 1188/ Oaktown Crewz, participated in many events this year. The Great Lakes Regional, held at Eastern Michigan University, consisted of 65 teams coming from as far as northern Canada. The team received the Web Site Excellence award. The team also was runner up for the Industrial Safety Award. The second most honorable award of all the regionals, the Engineering Inspiration Award, was also awarded to them. With outstanding community outreach for science and technology to Royal Oak, the Metro Detroit Area, the state of Michigan and the continent of Africa, the contest brought bright young minds together, and the judges felt that the Royal Oak team was among the best of the candidates. The award qualified the team for the Atlanta National Championship in April.

The team also competed for the highest honor, Chairman's Award. The Oaktown Crewz received a very respectable news story with a picture of the robot-driving team in a Saturday edition of the Detroit Free Press and News. Royal Oak students also were chosen to do a promotion for the Detroit Regional on WWJ Radio Station. On Tuesday, April 25, 2006, the Royal Oak Robotics team, led by Chuck Gosdzinski, joined students from South Africa and boarded a bus for Atlanta, Ga. where they attended the National Robotics competition as the first International Partnership team. This team really went far this year!

Working Towards the Future

Tiffany Crowe'06 puts up a BPA bulletin board.

Business Professionals of America, more commonly known as BPA, is a growing club here at Kimball. Business Professionals of America is advised by Mrs. Northey. This year's officers were Jacob Chappell, Nicole Brown, Maurice Stimage, Sarah Childers, and Jeff Farley. Their leadership in the club made this year another successful one for BPA. The students involved participated in conferences where they competed in different areas of business. "We had a conference at Baker College where we participated in different competitions relating to business," commented Julie Robson'07. BPA also had meetings where they talked about fundraisers and business related events. BPA sold lollipops to raise money this year. When BPA President, Jacob Chappell'06, was asked why he was part of BPA he responded, "I plan to go into something business related as a career, and I want to become a better leader in a business setting." BPA is a great club to be a part of if you are looking for something to help you with your future and have fun while doing it. Members of Business Professionals of America go on from Kimball to be the business leaders of tomorrow.

A World-Wide Affair!

Tony, the foreign exchange student from Dondero, makes a compelling speech at a conference.

Lisa Maroni '06 & Winnie Moser '06 show their appreciation for partner Zachary Holden '08.

Model United Nations is a way for students from both Kimball and Dondero to get involved in world wide issues. The students were involved with many activities, including conferences, the UNICEF campaign, and other fund-raisers. Members of MUN learned many skills to help them in their student years and in the future. They learned "real world-friendly skills, like researching, public speaking, problem-solving, and essay writing," according to Bailey Anderson '06, an officer who goes to Dondero.

Though the students learned plenty about the world around them, they also found time for fun. Junior Christie Low's favorite part of MUN was "the conferences! They're a lot of fun and so are all the people." The most important purpose of MUN is to spread awareness of important world issues such as global warming, poverty, and AIDS. All in all, this year was a success.

"Hopefully the site will be more eye catching," Vice President Stephen Martin explained

Pull up Kimball's website online and you will find out all the information you need to know about Kimball. From information about clubs, to dates of important events, it's all right there on the web. Kimball's Webmaster's club consisted of a talented group of students who are bursting with ideas. This year, they started from scratch to redo and reinvent Kimball's website. "Hopefully the site will be more eye catching," Vice President Stephen Martin explained, while going over the new layout. Although they only meet once a week for an hour, the members were very dedicated. Lots of time was spent outside of the meetings revamping the site. "When an idea forms in my head I have to rush to a computer, before the idea becomes old," President Corey DeBoer exclaimed. "Creating the site is something you need to be passionate about for it to turn out well," advisor Mrs. Leslye Rosenbaum stated. Go check out a version of Kimball right now on the web, and you'll be surprised to see what all lies on Kimball's very own site. Just one look at the site may bring out the creative person in you, and before you know it you'll be joining Webmasters, with the same enthusiasm as them.

Mrs. Cutler (club advisor), Sarah Childers'06, Mr. Pepper (club advisor), Adam Kerre'09, and Brittney Boldiszar'07 are proud to represent the Key Club at Kimball.

Brittney Boldiszar'07 listens at a meeting for the next task that she hopes to accomplish with the key club.

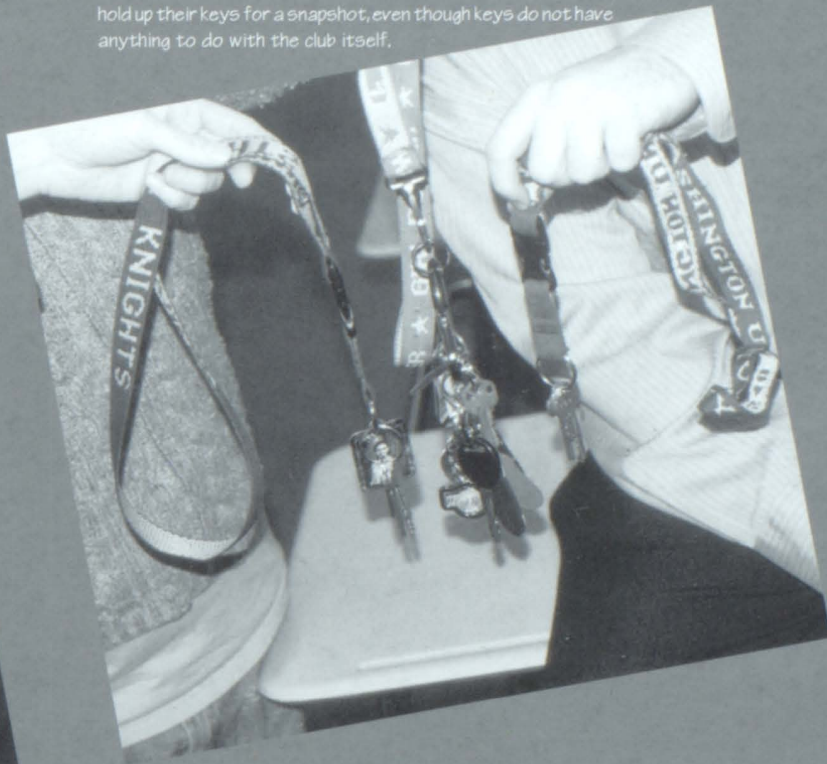

Adam Kerre'09 and Sarah Childers'06 pack up a teacher's belongings in order to get new carpet in the room. New carpet is being put in some rooms for the school consolidation that will take place in the fall of 2006.

"Caring -- Our Way of Life"

Key Club members show their fun spirited attitudes as they hold up their keys for a snapshot, even though keys do not have anything to do with the club itself.

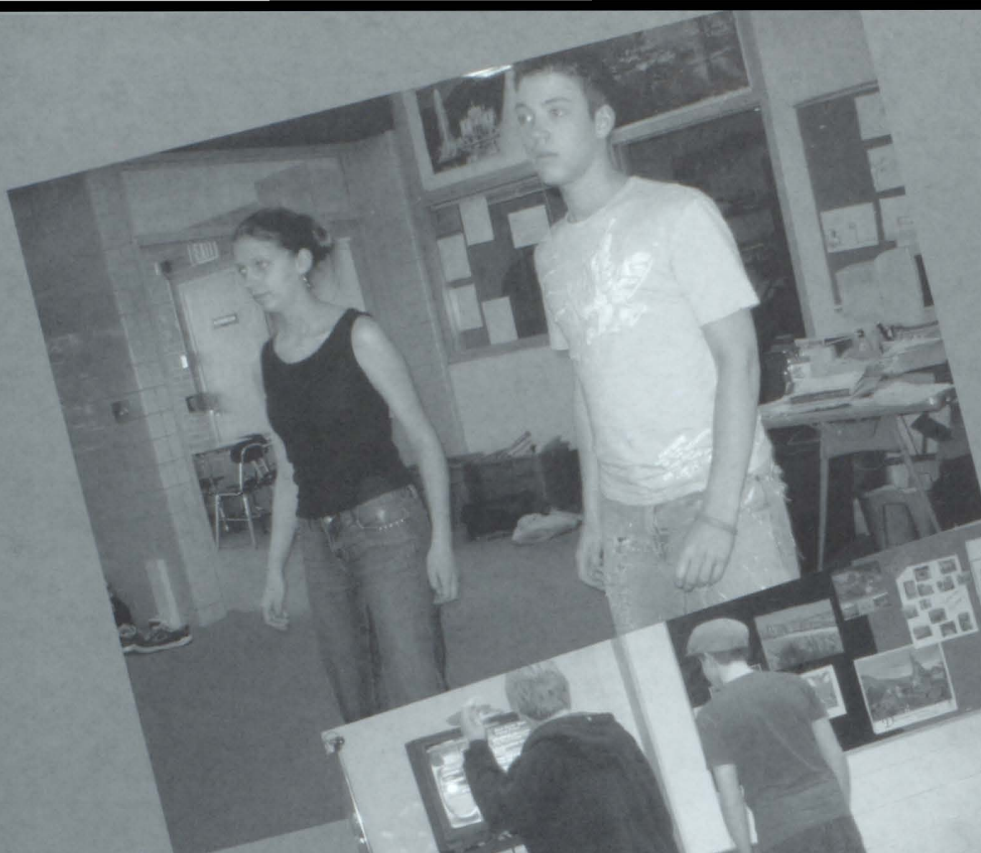

Sarah Childers '06 holds up a box that she packed to help her teacher get ready for new carpet in the classroom.

Being the oldest and largest service program for high school students worldwide, International Key Club focuses on specific areas of child growth. Main areas of focus include personal development and social interaction. Key Club also offers leadership development, service-learning, vocational guidance, and college scholarships. "Each district has its own section of the International Key Club, but we obviously try to focus on the Royal Oak Community," stated Mrs. Cutler, the club advisor.

Key Club is an easy way to get involved in an after-school activity and to help the community at the same time. "Caring- Our Way of Life," is the Key Club motto, which conveys the members' attitudes toward helping others. "We want to achieve a strong sense of community in our school and most importantly, in our city as a whole," said Mrs. Cutler.

In the past, the Key Club at Kimball has taken part in various food banks and helped senior citizens in yard cleanups. Most recently, the Key Club has worked with the transition team in order to prepare for the school consolidation that will take place in the fall of 2006. Most of all, "the club gives students a chance to make new friends, help their community and partake in a non-academic setting," Cutler explained.

Are you in a dilemma after school when you hang out with friends and you have nothing to do? Are you bored and looking for something fun and energetic to do?? Then DDR club is for you! It's a relatively new club that was started last year by Frau Tatai and it's nothing short of awesome. Everyone loves to dance and DDR guides members to dance like they have never danced before, to some of their favorite songs. All members have to do is turn the game on and then follow as best they can on the special pads. DDR is a great hobby because it's fun and also a great way to keep in shape. "It's so easy! You don't have to bring anything, you just show up and dance," explained Elizabeth Christensen'08. "There's nothing really bad about the club, except it can get really hot when we're dancing," stated Ashley Cleghorn'08. With food, dancing, friends and fun, DDR is the place to be.

Dear Laura,

I am so very proud of you and know you will reach whatever goal you set for yourself. Granddad would be proud of you, too!

Love,

Grandma

Dear Laura,

You are a truly beautiful young woman inside and out of whom I am extremely proud! Your compassion for others, humor and ever-present, contagious smile are your trademarks. These great qualities combined with your intellectual curiosity and maturity are bound to carry you into a fantastic future. I love you very much Laura, and feel so very lucky to have a daughter like you. Keep up the good work Laurabelle.

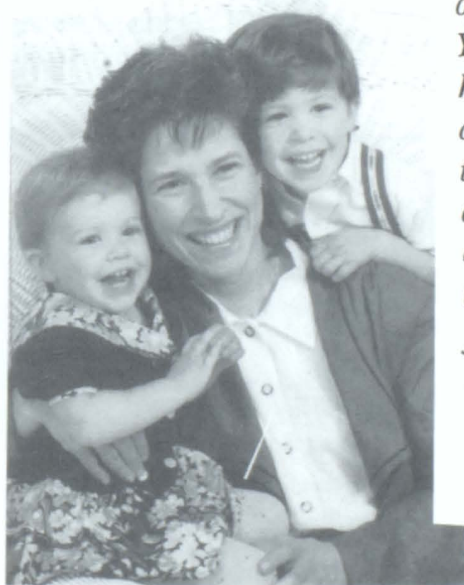

Love, Mom

Hey Laura,

You're awesome! I really like your general curiosity and kindness. It's crazy to think that you're graduating. I really miss having you around and it's a little bit more lonely at college without you. Thanks for being the ideal younger sister, and being such a role model to me, by helping me be a nicer person. I will always be there for you because I already know you will be there for me.

Love,

James

A-D Storm surge

The 2005 hurricane season led to a record 27 named storms – 14 of them hurricanes – with several of them striking the U.S. Gulf and Atlantic coasts. Losses were estimated at $57.6 billion in the U.S. from hurricanes Katrina, Rita and Wilma, with those first two storms throwing more than 500,000 people out of work. Here's a breakdown of some of the damage:

- Katrina struck the tip of Florida before making a beeline for Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama on Aug. 29, destroying homes and businesses and taking more than 1,200 lives.
- New Orleans flooded after levees broke, leading to many rooftop rescues. More than 25,000 people, including the 23,000 who fled to the New Orleans Superdome, were sent to Houston's Astrodome for temporary shelter.
- The Mississippi coast took a direct hit, with high winds and 20-foot high waves leveling buildings and even moving casinos off their moorings.
- About 372,000 children from all three states started school in different cities or were being home-schooled; and approximately 18,000 college students from Louisiana spent the fall semester at other universities.
- Rita struck three weeks later in Louisiana and Texas. In one of the largest evacuations ever, 2.8 million people in southeast Texas, including Houston and Galveston, struggled to leave.
- Arlene hit Mississippi and Alabama, while Dennis struck Alabama and Florida. Ophelia stayed offshore of the Carolinas and Virginia and pummeled the area with heavy rains.

E. Hurricane tragedies widespread Wilma hit Mexico first, stranding tourists and damaging Mexico's resorts and economy. The tragedy was much greater in Guatemala following heavy rain from Hurricane Stan. More than 650 people died and more than 370 were missing after massive landslides there buried communities. Mexico, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras and Costa Rica also reported deaths and damage from Stan.

Former Iraqi President Saddam Hussein went on trial for crimes against humanity.

A three-day transit strike in New York City stranded 7 million people before Christmas.

Angela Merkel became Germany's first woman chancellor.

Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf became president of Liberia and Africa's first elected female head of state.

F. New day in Iraq

Coalition troops, mostly from the U.S., remained in Iraq to put down insurgents as the citizens continued their quest for democracy. Iraqis approved a new constitution in October and their Parliament in December, in an effort to set up their new government.

G. New terrorist attacks

London felt the wrath of Islamic extremists when four bombs went off July 7, killing 56 people and injuring 700. Alarming was the fact that the four suicide bombers were Britons. An attempted attack on July 21 was thwarted and the suspects were caught. Bali, Indonesia, was the site of a suicide bombing again following one in 2002, and three suicide bombers attacked three hotels in Amman, Jordan.

H. More of Mother Nature's wrath

A severe drought provided kindling for wildfires that consumed hundreds of thousands of acres and hundreds of homes and businesses in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Colorado.

I. Palestinians elect change

Members of the Hamas organization, which calls for the destruction of Israel, won a majority of the seats in the Palestinian Parliament in January. The United States, the European Union and Israel have labeled Hamas a terrorist group, and were carefully watching the change of government.

J. Top court shuffle

Two vacancies were filled on the U.S. Supreme Court. John G. Roberts became the new chief justice, replacing William Rehnquist after his death. Samuel Alito took the seat of Sandra Day O'Connor, who retired.

K. Matriarchs pass on

Rosa Parks and Coretta Scott King, two leaders of the civil rights movement, died within a few months of each other. Parks was remembered for refusing to give her bus seat to a white man in Montgomery, Ala., in 1955. King was the wife of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., and she founded the King Center for Nonviolent Social Change in Atlanta to carry on his work.

L. Gas, oil prices heat up

High gasoline prices increased even more following hurricanes Katrina and Rita, which damaged oil refineries in the Gulf region. Prices were up already because of increased summer demand, higher crude prices and less refining capacity worldwide. Winter heating bills also surged as oil companies tried to repair damage and restore production.

High school senior Michael Sessions was elected mayor of Hillsdale, Mich., beating the incumbent as a write-in candidate.

W. Mark Felt, a 91-year-old former FBI official, revealed he was Deep Throat of the Watergate scandal.

M. Mountain tragedy

A massive earthquake in the mountains of the Kashmir region of Pakistan in October killed more than 79,000 people, injured almost as many, and left about 3.3 million homeless as winter approached. Donations were lacking and relief supplies were slow in reaching the needy.

N. New Pope

Joseph Ratzinger, a 78-year-old German cardinal, was installed as Pope Benedict XVI. Benedict, who now leads the world's 1.1 billion Catholics, worked closely in the Vatican with his predecessor, Pope John Paul II.

O. Flu scare for the birds

Medical officials put the world on notice after a strain of avian flu was detected in some isolated human cases in China and Hong Kong. After more cases popped up elsewhere, the World Health Organization urged countries to prepare for a possible pandemic. There were concerns not only about migratory birds spreading the disease, but commercial fowl shipped for consumption.

P. Nuclear concerns

The U.S., Great Britain, France and Germany continued to pressure Iran to reduce its nuclear activities, and wanted the United Nations security council to impose sanctions.

Q. Should they listen in?

The National Security Agency came under fire for using electronic eavesdropping without warrants. The practice began after the 9/11 attacks to fight terrorism, and while the Bush administration, including Attorney General Alberto Gonzales, defended the practice, others argued it was illegal.

R. Mining tragedies

Sixteen West Virginia coal miners died in separate accidents in January, as did one miner in Kentucky. In the first accident at the Sago mine in West Virginia, a terrible miscommunication led the families to believe the men were alive after a 41-hour rescue.

S

S. Stroke affects election

Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon suffered a massive stroke three months before March elections. Sharon had formed a new political party, Kadima, and was seeking support at the polls as he attempted to reach a peace agreement with Palestinians.

T

T. Tsunami recovery

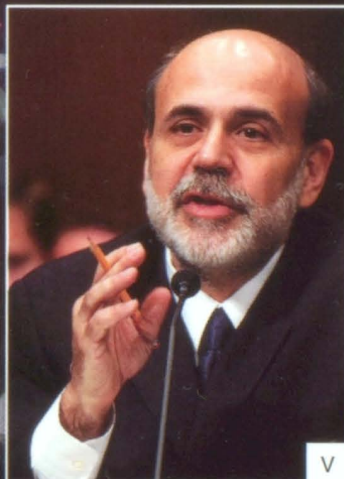

Tourists began returning to areas in Asia where a tsunami swallowed people, towns and livelihoods on Dec. 26, 2004. Aid came from across the globe to the dozen countries that were hit. In the U.S., the relief effort was headed by an unlikely pair – former presidents George H.W. Bush and Bill Clinton.

U

U. Paris ablaze

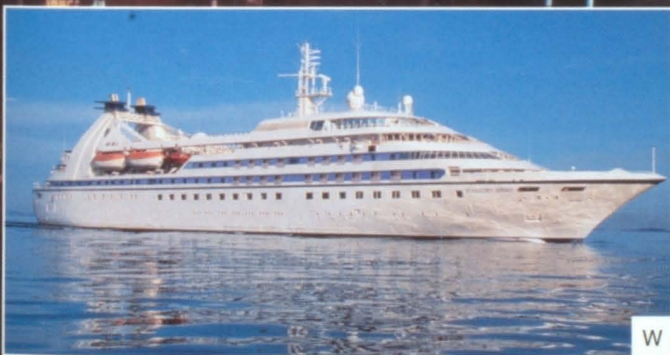

France endured 18 nights of rioting that started in the poor suburbs of Paris. The arsons and other acts of destruction began after the accidental electrocution of two teens who thought police were chasing them, and turned into protests against the government for racial discrimination and unemployment.

V. A new money man

Ben Bernanke was appointed by President Bush to be the new chairman of the Federal Reserve board, a position that directs monetary policy for the U.S. and affects your wallet. Bernanke, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, replaced Alan Greenspan, who was the much-watched Federal Reserve chairman for 18 years.

W

W. ARRG!

An old-fashioned battle of the sea was won with today's technology. Pirates attacked the Seabourn Spirit cruise ship off the coast of Somalia with grenade launchers and machine guns, but never got close enough to board. The cruise ship crew used a sonic device to send an ear-splitting noise toward the pirates, then shifted to high speed and changed course.

More than 1,200 people died when an Egyptian ferry sank in the Red Sea.

Dr. Michelle Bachelet, jailed under a previous dictatorship, was elected president of Chile.

Ted Koppel, who started ABC's Nightline, stepped down after 25 years.

Cindy Sheehan, whose soldier son was killed in Iraq, launched protests near President George W. Bush's Texas ranch.

A-E Games of Turin

Turin, Italy stepped onto the world stage and played host to the Winter Olympics for two weeks in February. It was the largest Winter Olympics ever, with 2,500 athletes representing 82 countries competing in 84 events.

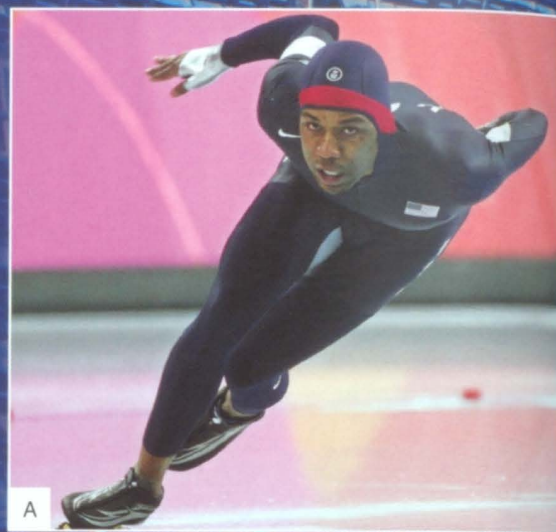

Long-track speedskating turned into one of the American team's best events. Shani Davis (A) won the Gold medal in the men's 1,000 meters and became the first African-American champion in Winter Olympics history. Former inline skating champion Chad Hedrick became an Olympic speedskating champion in the men's 5,000 meters just three years after taking the ice in the sport for the very first time. They were joined at the top of the podium by teammate Joey Cheek, who sprinted to Gold in the men's 500 meters.

Snowboarding was also ruled by the U.S. Shaun White (B), nicknamed "The Flying Tomato" for his bright red hair and acrobatic moves on the extreme sports circuit, won the Gold medal in the Men's Halfpipe. The 19-year old White showed nervousness when he fell during qualifying, but he recovered to win the Gold with a flourish in the finals. Other American winners included Hannah Teter in the Women's Halfpipe and Seth Wescott in the Men's Cross.

Ted Ligety (C) gave the U.S. ski team a boost by winning the Alpine Combined. It was the first Olympic appearance for the relatively unknown Ligety. He became only the fourth American male to win an Alpine Olympic Gold medal.

It was not all positive news for the U.S. Snowboarder Lindsey Jacobellis (D) poignantly summed up the highs and lows of the Olympic journey. Jacobellis was easily racing to victory in the finals of the Women's Cross when she threw too much style into an aerial and crashed. Jacobellis was unable to recover in time to keep her lead, and she was forced to settle for the Silver medal.

After 36 years on ABC, Monday Night Football left the network and moved to ESPN.

Jimmie Johnson won the 2006 Daytona 500.

Tiger Woods won his 10th major championship, taking the British Open for the second time.

F

F. Men of Steel

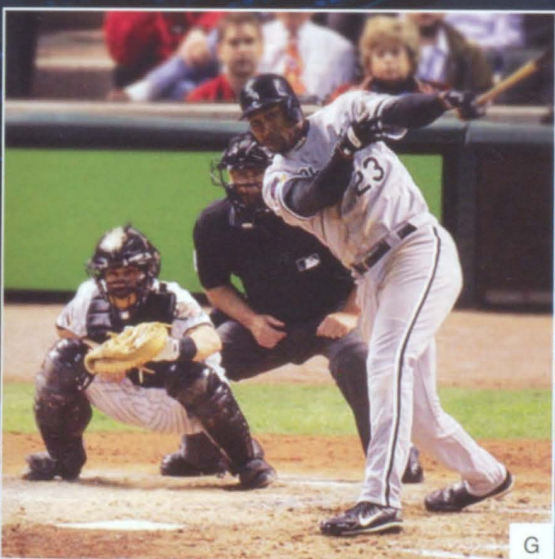

The Pittsburgh Steelers capped an improbable championship run by defeating the Seattle Seahawks in Super Bowl XL, 21-10. Pittsburgh was the last team to qualify for the AFC playoffs, and the Steelers made it to the title game by becoming the first team in NFL history to win three straight playoff games on the road. Wide receiver Hines Ward was chosen Super Bowl MVP after he grabbed five catches for 123 yards, including the game-clinching 43-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter.

G. White Sox champs again...finally

The Chicago White Sox eased the pain of long-suffering Windy City baseball fans by winning their first World Series title in 86 years, sweeping the Houston Astros in four games. Chicago was dominant in the playoffs with an 11-1 record.

H. Back on the ice

After losing an entire season to labor strife for the first time in league history, NHL owners and players settled their differences and returned to the rink. The new season arrived with a slew of rule changes as well, designed to speed up the game.

Annika Sorenstam remained the top female golfer, winning 10 times on the LPGA tour.

The Los Angeles Galaxy won their second MLS Cup title with a 1-0 overtime victory over the New England Revolution.

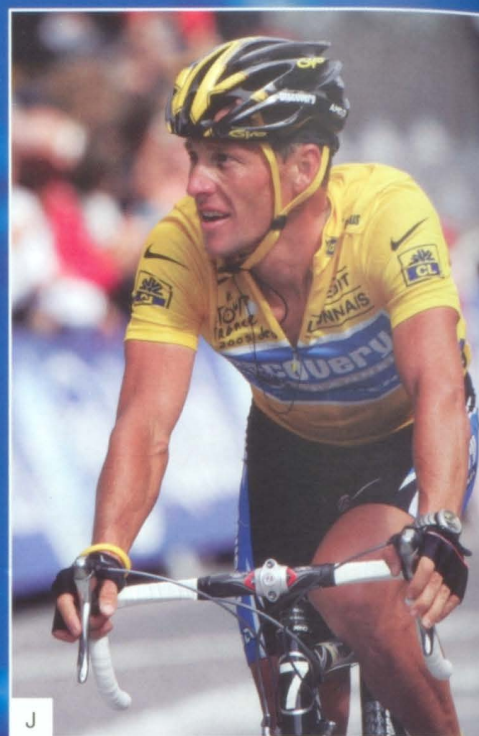

Legendary sports broadcaster Curt Gowdy died at the age of 86.

I. Danica in the driver's seat

Danica Patrick was not the first woman to ever race in the Indy Racing League, but she might have made the biggest splash, qualifying and finishing fourth at the Indy 500, the highest finish ever by a rookie driver. The 23-year-old Patrick went on to win IRL rookie of the year after several top 10 finishes.

J. A bumpy ride

Cyclist Lance Armstrong pedaled his way through another newsworthy year, winning the Tour de France for a record seventh consecutive time, then retiring from the sport, announcing his engagement and break-up to rock star Sheryl Crow and again being forced to respond to doping allegations from the French media.

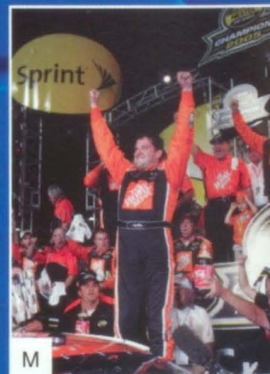

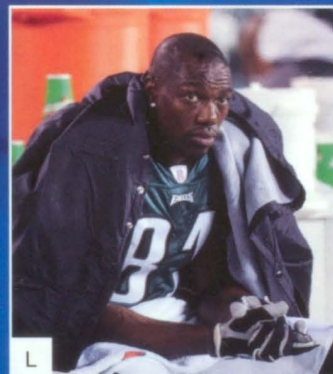

K. One for the ages

USC's Heisman Trophy teammates, running back Reggie Bush and quarterback Matt Leinart, were not quite good enough to win a third straight college football national title, as the Trojans fell to Texas, 41-38, in the dramatic championship game at the Rose Bowl. Texas quarterback Vince Young stole the show, scoring the game-winning touchdown with 19 seconds left.

L. No more T.O.

Just one year after helping the Philadelphia Eagles reach the Super Bowl, wide receiver Terrell Owens got suspended from the team in mid-season, due to his detrimental conduct. The problems started when the outspoken and controversial Owens got upset that the team would not re-negotiate his contract.

M. Sensational Stewart

Behind a season that included five wins and 24 top 10 finishes, NASCAR driver Tony Stewart won his second Nextel Cup championship. Often referred to in the past as the bad boy of racing due to his short temper, Stewart joined Jeff Gordon as the only multiple Cup winner among active drivers.

N. Golden retirement

Considered by many the greatest golfer of his time, Jack Nicklaus decided to retire from competitive golf at the age of 65. Nicklaus won 18 major championships in his career, more than anybody in history. In his final round at the British Open, Nicklaus ended in style by sinking a 15-foot birdie on the final hole.

O. Two of a kind

The San Antonio Spurs and Detroit Pistons, respective winners of the previous two NBA championships, continued their domination. The two teams met in the 2005 NBA Finals, with the Spurs winning in seven games. Both rolled along during the 2006 season, compiling two of the best records in basketball by the All-Star Break.

P. Cleaning up the game

Baseball's steroid use scandal continued, with many high-profile players even testifying at Congressional hearings. Baltimore Orioles star Rafael Palmeiro denied use, then tested positive and was suspended during the season. After the 2005 season, Major League Baseball instituted a stricter steroid testing policy.

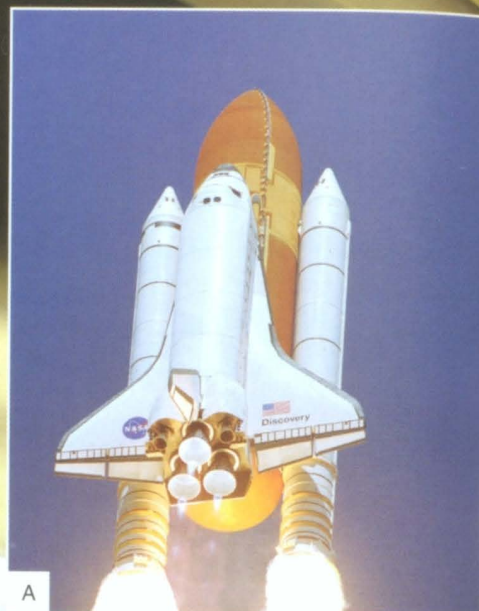

Los Angeles Lakers guard Kobe Bryant scored 81 points in one game, the second highest individual total in NBA history.

USC running back Reggie Bush won the Heisman Trophy in a landslide vote.

Swiss tennis star Roger Federer stayed number one in the world by winning Wimbledon, the U.S. Open and the Australian Open.

A. Shuttle back in orbit

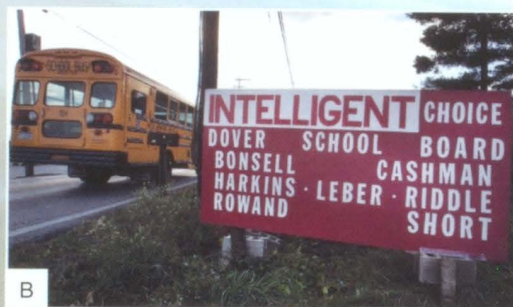

Two years after the Columbia tragedy grounded NASA's manned space flight program, space shuttle Discovery returned NASA to outer space with a successful two-week mission. However, anxious moments came after foam insulation knocked loose on take-off caused a two-day delay in Discovery's return to Earth.

B. Science or religion?

Communities and school districts ferociously debated the merits of Intelligent Design, a concept that asserts certain aspects of the living world seemed to be caused by an intelligent source, rather than a random process such as natural selection. Opponents claimed it was religion masquerading as science, while proponents insisted it should be a respected point of view.

C. Space tourist

American scientist Gregory Olsen paid $20 million for a 10-day trip to the International Space Station. Olsen, the co-founder and chairman of his own fiber-optics company, made the trip aboard a Russian rocket and became only the third civilian to become a "space tourist."

D. 360 around the world

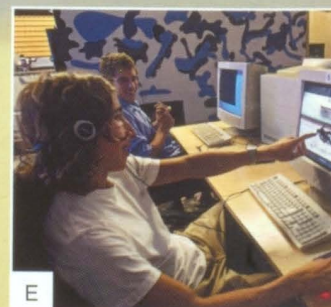

Microsoft released its newest gaming system, Xbox 360, just in time for the holidays and prompted shoppers to camp out in lines to gobble them up. The consoles were also launched with a new expanded service from Microsoft that allowed gamers worldwide to play one another.

D

E. Generation MySpace

Teens continued becoming more immersed in the internet. MySpace.com, an online social community geared toward young adults and musicians, became one of the fastest-growing websites on the internet. Just two years old, MySpace's membership approached 50 million users and began getting more hits than Google and AOL. Elsewhere, popular online encyclopedias like Wikipedia started to be viewed as viable reference tools, despite debates regarding its accuracy.

F. Lost World

Conservation groups on an expedition into the remote tropical jungles of Indonesia discovered dozens of new animal and plant species. The scientists reportedly found up to 20 new types of frogs and a species of tree kangaroo (pictured) that was previously thought to be extinct.

G. Park for free

Salt Lake City joined a growing list of American cities that began offering free metered downtown parking for more environmentally friendly vehicles. To qualify, cars needed to get at least 50 miles to the gallon or be a hybrid powered by an alternative fuel. Other cities that offered similar programs included Austin, Texas and New Haven, Conn.

H. Landmark surgery

Doctors in Miami successfully removed a 16-pound tumor from the face of Marlie Casseus, a 14-year-old Haitian girl suffering from a rare genetic disorder. Casseus was brought to the United States for the procedure after aid workers in Haiti discovered her case. Donations from all over the world helped Casseus' family pay the medical bills.

I. Monkey business

A group of American scientists announced that they successfully decoded the DNA of the chimpanzee, considered the closest relative to humans in nature. By comparing the chimp DNA to human DNA, the doctors hoped to discover the roots of various diseases.

A. By George, a great year

Already one of America's most popular movie stars, George Clooney added critical acclaim to his resume by earning two Oscar nominations. Clooney received a Best Supporting Actor nod for his role as a CIA spy in the thriller Syriana, and a Best Director nomination for the Edward R. Murrow biopic Good Night, and Good Luck, which also was nominated for Best Picture.

B. A slice of real life

The films honored with Best Picture Oscar nominations relied heavily on real events. Munich told the story of fallout from the terrorist attacks at the 1972 Olympics, Good Night, and Good Luck focused on 1950s TV journalist Edward R. Murrow, and Capote examined the life of famed writer Truman Capote. Other Best Picture nominees included Brokeback Mountain and Crash.

C. King of the mountain

An updated version of the classic tale of King Kong made it into theaters around New Year's. The big-budget, special effects blockbuster once again told the story of the giant ape discovered on a mysterious tropical island, who is brought to Depression-era New York as a sideshow act.

D. May the force be with you... always

The long-awaited final movie in the Star Wars saga, Revenge of the Sith, dominated the box office and became one of the highest grossing films of all-time, earning nearly $400 million. Despite the critical and financial success of Sith, series creator George Lucas vowed the story was over and no more Star Wars movies would be made.

E. Not Lost on the audience

Lost, ABC's adventure series about a group of people stranded on a mysterious island after a plane crash, won Best Drama Series at the Emmy Awards and continued to attract nearly 20 million viewers each week.

Joaquin Phoenix and Reese Witherspoon both got Oscar nominations for playing Johnny and June Carter Cash in Walk the Line.

Popular children's tale, Chronicles of Narnia: The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe, was made into a hit movie.

F. Back in the spotlight

After her career seemed derailed due to a series of highly publicized emotional troubles, R&B singer Mariah Carey staged a huge comeback when her new album, The Emancipation of Mimi, ended up as the highest seller of the year. The record earned Carey three Grammy awards.

G. Can't get enough CSI

TV viewers continued to be infatuated with CBS' batch of crime dramas. CSI was still the most watched show on network TV. CSI: Miami and CSI: New York also drew huge ratings.

H. 50 Cent worth millions

Rapper 50 Cent put out another hit album, with The Massacre selling more than 5 million copies. He also starred in the hit movie Get Rich or Die Tryin', which was loosely based on his life story.

I. Potter mania rampant again

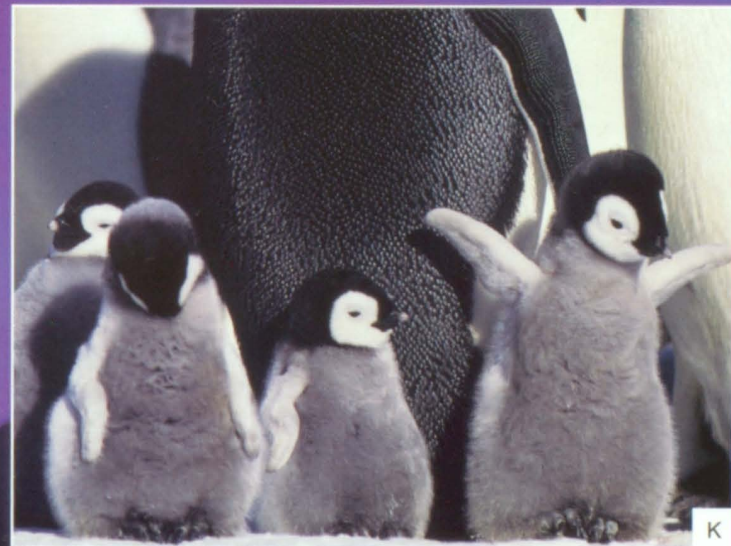

Release of the sixth book in the popular Harry Potter series created quite a stir. Harry Potter and the Half-blood Prince sold more than 10 million copies, and author J.K. Rowling stunned many readers by killing off one of the story's main characters. The latest Harry Potter movie (based on the fourth book), Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire, ruled the box office in the fall.

I

K

J. Familiar faces

Ratings showed that several familiar TV shows continued to be big hits with the young teen audience. Gilmore Girls, The OC, Smallville and Veronica Mars were among those that stayed popular.

K. Penguins everywhere

Documentary film March of the Penguins drew in nearly $80 million at the box office, a previously unheard of figure for its genre. Critical praise and positive word of mouth helped the movie, which fascinated millions with its story about the mating rituals of penguins at the South Pole.

Wedding Crashers was the comedy hit of the year, raking in more than $200 million.

Gwen Stefani released her first solo album, which included number one hit song "Hollaback Girl."

L. Whole new idols

Carrie Underwood won the fourth season of musical reality TV show American Idol. By the spring, 24 new hopefuls were picked as finalists for the fifth season. Meanwhile, past winners Kelly Clarkson and Fantasia became the first Idol alums to earn Grammy nominations.

M. Womack wins

Straying away from the trend of pop-infused country music, Lee Ann Womack was rewarded with three wins at the CMA Awards. Womack's traditional country record, There's More Where That Came From, won Album of the Year and her ballad "I May Hate Myself in the Morning" won Song of the Year.

N. The first lady

So when will the U.S. have a female president? In the world of fictional TV, it happened this year. ABC's Commander In Chief cast Geena Davis in the role of the president, and the drama series became the highest-rated new show on the air.

O. Gone, but not forgotten

Famed American comedian Richard Pryor died after a long battle with multiple sclerosis. Other noteworthy entertainers to pass away included R&B singer Luther Vandross, actresses Anne Bancroft and Shelley Winters, and actor Pat Morita, the beloved Mr. Miyagi from The Karate Kid movies.

P. 8 is enough

On the 20th anniversary of his famous charity concert Live Aid, music producer Bob Geldof reprised the event by staging Live 8, a series of charity concerts that took place in eight countries during the first week of July. Estimates indicated that more than one million people attended and more than 1,000 musicians performed at Live 8.

Q

Q. Good works rewarded

U2 lead singer Bono received another prestigious honor, but this one had nothing to do with his music. Bono, along with Microsoft founder Bill Gates and his wife, Melinda, were chosen Persons of the Year by Time magazine for their global charitable efforts to fight poverty and disease.

R. Kanye keeps up

Controversial rapper Kanye West made headlines for his music, with his latest album Late Registration earning eight Grammy nominations, and for his mouth after he criticized President George W. Bush's handling of Hurricane Katrina.

S. A new job with Disney

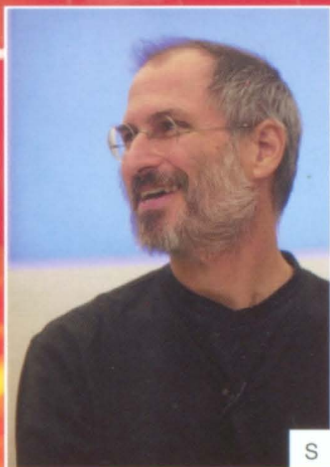

Steve Jobs, co-founder and CEO of Apple Computers, strengthened his status as a pop culture icon after his Pixar Animation Studios, the creator of popular computer animated movies like The Incredibles and Toy Story, agreed to a merger with longtime partner Walt Disney Pictures. In the process, Jobs became the largest shareholder in Disney.

T. A million questions

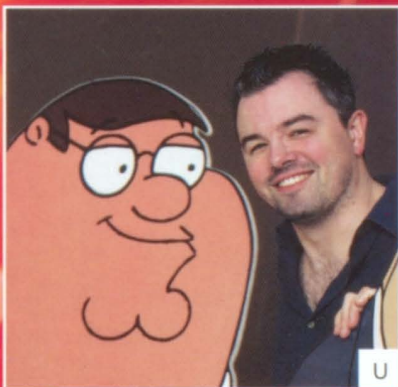

Author James Frey garnered critical acclaim for his best-selling self-help memoir A Million Little Pieces, which told the story of how he overcame a life of crime and drug addiction. However after much public scrutiny, Frey admitted that large portions of the book were exaggerated and embellished.

U. Back on the air

A grassroots fan movement, driven largely by DVD sales, prompted Fox to bring back animated comedy series Family Guy. The show, centered on the wild antics of an off-the-wall Rhode Island family, a diabolical one-year old baby and their talking dog, had been cancelled by Fox in 2002.

A. I want my iPod TV

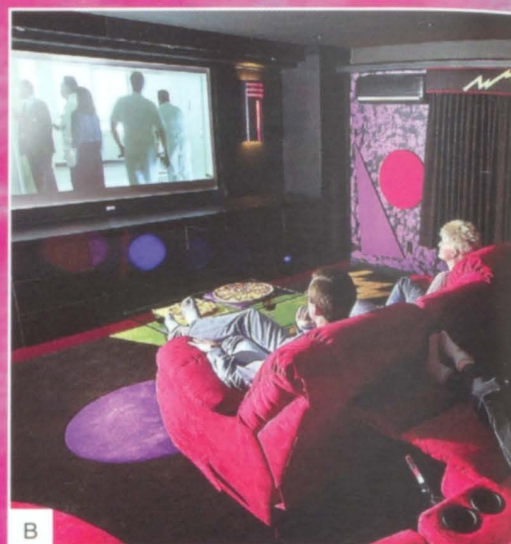

When Apple Computers developed the latest generation of its popular iPod digital music player, users were thrilled to find they could now download video files. In the first three weeks of the new service, iPod users bought more than one million video podcasts.

B. Movies at home

Box office numbers were down and movie theaters sold fewer tickets, but many industry analysts said the decline was due to the growing number of people with high-tech home theaters simply choosing to wait a few months for films to go to DVD.

C. A chip in poker craze

While some analysts think poker peaked in popularity, the card game remained a pastime, with some teens holding supervised games at home and watching tournaments on television. Some adults spoke out against teens playing poker, since it is gambling.

D. Digital revolution

Downloadable digital music continued to drastically alter the recording industry. Studies showed that the sales of CDs and albums were down eight percent over the previous year, while sales of digital singles increased 150 percent.

E. Play for work

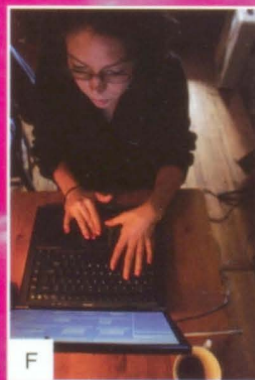

It's not just fun and games. More colleges began offering courses and degrees related to video games as the industry becomes serious business. The colleges are feeding a demand for skilled developers and technicians.

E

F. Blog this

A study showed that half of all teens and 57 percent of teens who use the internet have created a blog or website or posted something online. The study by Pew Internet and American Life Project was conducted to look at falling newspaper readership.

Congratulations class of 2006! I can't believe that we are already graduating, these last four years at Kimball have been amazing, and I want to thank every one of you for making it that way for me. I have met so many unbelievable people here, who are now my best friends. The girls and Alan thank you for everything and always being there for me, I don't know what I'd do with out you. Ravens good luck and enjoy this time, it really does fly by. I'm sad that it's time to go, but nothing will ever compare to these four years I've had at Kimball. I love you all! ♥

Congratulations Class of 2006! Senior year was unbelievable and and it's hard to believe our journey through high school is already over. Seems like just yesterday I was walking through the halls of Kimball for the first time. Countless memories will be remembered from the summer nights, homecoming, secrets, drive bys, dance parties, inside jokes, sleepless nights, taco bell runs, guys and much more. I wouldn't trade those memories for anything.

For everyone next year, my advice is to be yourself, sit back and enjoy the year ahead of you. Kimball is turning over a new leaf to a many of you and it's time to live up your legacy as seniors for the first class of Royal Oak High School. Good luck to everyone here and everyone going away to college. Kimball will never be forgotten, but the truth will always stand, Kimball did save the best for last!

After four years, a few pictures and a couple of sentences doesn't seem to be enough to summarize the high school experience...

~Lancer Staff~ To all of you who worked so hard to make this book a reality, thank you. I know putting up with all the yearbook craziness wasn't easy. To the editors, well, camp was unforgettable.

~Basketball, Soccer, and Volleyball girls~ I've been privileged to play with so many amazing and talented people over the years. All the practices, games, and late nights will be missed. Always keep you're, "game face."

~The Friends I couldn't live without~ I love that most of the time we're doing nothing but being ridiculous. Laughing so hard it hurts. I'll never forget the summers up north, late nights in basements, and bon fires in backyards. And it's just the beginning...

~The Family~ Thanks for always supporting me, and of course putting up with me.

To all everyone who was a part of the last four years, thank you, it has been incredible.

Friends come and go, but its the memories that will remain with us for years to come. My experience at Kimball was absolutely incredible. I'm so excited to get out, but at the same time I'm going to miss everything and everyone left behind. All of the dance parties, driving without a purpose, late night gossip fests, bon fires, and getting to Anchor Bay 4 hours early will never be forgotten.

Spring Break of '06 was amazing. I love you girls to death.

Lancer - The staff this year was awsome. You guys did a great job pulling through to get this last book finished and I know you will do just as good next year.

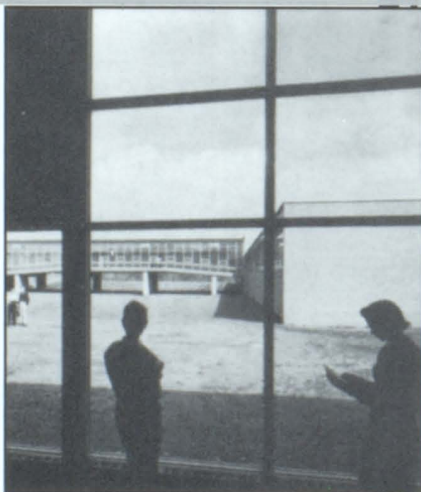

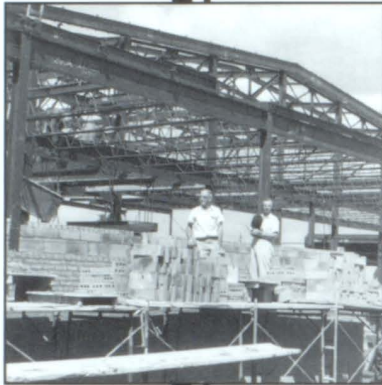

Good luck Ravens, but just remember . . . Kimball did save the best for last. PEACE!

High school. Two simple words, but with such meaning behind
K them. We often sit in our cold, hard desks and wonder, “Why am I here?” Yes, school has the reputation of being somewhat of a bore; but is it, really? When you think of this fine establishment, do you think of books, tests, and essays? Or do you recall the moment when you laughed at your goofy friends, cried over the most recent drama, and fell in love with your high school sweetheart?

School can be misleading. You come here thinking that you are only going to learn about something that happened long ago in world history, which may not really pertain to you. However, in the long run, you leave with experiences that alter your way of life forever.

So much can happen to you here. In high school, you learn how to live. With all that is within reach, can you muster up the courage to make something of yourself and take advantage of the facets that make up this school?

Sports, clubs, academics, and most importantly, lunch. It’s all here. We must realize that these facets of Kimball High School are also facets of ourselves, because they are all a part of who we are.

A Part of You
